Israel Agrees To Quit Egypt

Cease-Fire Finally Halts Battle Of Suez

Yugoslavs Join Demand Russia Leave Hungary

Fails To Back UN Probe Call

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 8 (AP)—Yugoslavia, the first Communist bloc member to defy Moscow, today teamed with non-Communist nations in a strong demand for the Soviet Union to pull its troops out of Hungary.

But Yugoslavia failed to support the non-Communist demands for a U.N. investigation of the Hungarian situation. Instead, Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia, told the 76-nation General Assembly in emergency session that all outsiders should keep out of Hungarian affairs.

He spoke as a number of delegates assailed the Soviet Union for its role in putting down the Hungarian rebellion and installing the puppet regime of Premier Janos Kadar.

Cuba Leads Attack

Emilio Nunez-Portuondo of Cuba led the attack with a call on the Assembly to deny representatives of the Kadar regime a seat in the 11th regular Assembly convening next Monday.

The Cuban also charged that the Soviet Union committed "genocide" in killing 65,000 Hungarians while squashing the rebellion. Genocide has been defined as the mass destruction of a religion or a people.

"We have always opposed the mixing of foreign armed forces into a country," Brilej said. "It is hoped that, in view of the Oct. 30 declaration of the Soviet government (promising to withdraw) that Soviet troops will be withdrawn."

Entitled To Freedom

"All we wish," Brilej added, "is that the people of Hungary should enjoy freedom and independence to which they are entitled. We hope conditions will soon be established for this. The less interference from whatever source the better it is for the Hungarian people and the world. The Hungarian people are capable of solving their own problems."

The Assembly convened to clean up a list of speakers left after it approved a U.S. resolution late Sunday night 50-8. The resolution called on the Soviet Union to withdraw and for U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to check into the situation. The Soviet bloc of eight countries voted against the resolution. Hungary, the ninth member of the bloc, was not participating at that time. Fifteen countries, including all of the Arab states and several of the Asian-African group abstained on that vote.

Reds Demonstrate

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—About 3,000 Communists defied a police ban tonight and demonstrated in the Place de la Republique, one of the city's biggest squares.

They announced it as an answer to the anti-Communist riots last night in which throngs set fire to Communist party headquarters and attacked the building of the party's daily.

Famine, Looting In Hungary As Rebels Hold Out

VIENNA, Nov. 8 (AP) — Famine, severe shortages of clothing and widespread looting threaten battle-torn Hungary, the Soviet-imposed government said tonight. Pockets of resistance still held out doggedly, but at least one fell in a "human shield" incident.

"The Russians got us out with a typically Communist dirty trick," said the leader of 45 rebels who abandoned trenches at the Hegysehalom border station and crossed into Austria to surrender their arms.

Human Shield For Tanks

"Two Russian tanks came down the road toward the border station. Beside them marched some armed Hungarian soldiers who were collaborators of the Russians. In front of the tanks the Communist marched groups of Hungarian civilians, farmers and others.

"The Hungarian civilians shouted to us: 'Don't shoot! we are Hungarians.' We couldn't fire through our own people, so we had to retreat."

Inland, there was a rebel radio blackout after broadcasts reporting continued violent fighting near Budapest.

While the Soviet - controlled Budapest radio appealed to foodstuff workers to return to their jobs, a government minister called on the population to do all in its power "to annihilate the already beaten armed gangs who continue their evil doings."

"Evil Pamphlets"

Minister of State Georgy Marosan, an ex-Socialist who was imprisoned by the former regime of the Stalinist boss, Matyas Rakosi, urged Hungarians to "reject the evil pamphlets against the Soviets, spread by counterrevolutionaries in order to confuse the people."

Other broadcasts, warning that famine was at hand unless supplies could be moved unhampered, begged the people to help stop looting and to open food stores not now operating.

Plans For Polish Shakeup Completed

WARSAW, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Polish Politburo tonight completed plans for a sweeping government shakeup, informed sources reported.

Its aims are:

1. To put top government posts under control of men close to Wladyslaw Gomulka, the new first secretary of the Polish United Workers party.

2. To streamline the administration by merging some ministries and abolishing others.

Assembling Of UN Police Army Rushed

Troops From Small Nations Will Begin Gathering In Egypt

LONDON, Friday, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Suez battle front was silenced and an international police force was being assembled fast today to neutralize and hold the Suez Canal.

The cease-fire stilled the guns Thursday afternoon.

Israel, Britain and France—all now occupying parts of Egypt—agreed to leave when the small-nation police army under the U.N. takes over.

Manpower from such big powers as the United States and Russia are barred from the projected occupation force.

If all goes well, the canal would be taken out of Egypt's national control and British-French occupation and run internationally again until a permanent solution is found.

Israel was the last of the three occupying powers to agree on a withdrawal. It announced readiness to give up the Egyptian Sinia Peninsula if assured that the U.N. police would take over.

Sixteen countries have offered to contribute troops and the force may begin assembling in Egypt within a few days.

Countries which have offered troops include:

Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Burma, Ceylon, Czechoslovakia, India, New Zealand, Pakistan, Romania, Brazil, Indonesia and Yugoslavia.

Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, chief U.N. truce observer who will head the U.N. emergency force, said in Cairo that Egypt has agreed to accept 10 U.N. observers to watch over the cease-fire.

He said U.N. forces probably would land in the canal zone but would later move to the armistice line which was the Israeli-Egyptian frontier before the Israeli forces invaded on Oct. 29.

President Eisenhower was reported to have brought heavy pressure on Britain, France and Israel to take their forces out of Egypt and cooperate with the U.N. force.

Israeli Acceptance Erases UN Obstacle

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 8 (AP)—Israel informed U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold tonight that Israel will withdraw its armed forces from Egypt and turn the occupied area over to the projected international police force.

This appeared to have removed the major obstacle which threatened to hold up U.N. plans to take over the battle area and get all the invading forces out of Egypt.

Britain and France already had agreed to pull their forces out as soon as the U.N. could establish an international force to take over. This force now is well on its way to completion and may start assembling in Egypt within a few days.

Hammarskjold met this afternoon with military representatives of 6 of the 16 countries, which have offered to contribute troops to the force, and discussed plans for flying the units to Egypt as soon as arrangements can be made.

Army Chief Missing

TEL AVIV, Israel, Nov. 8 (AP)—The army announced today that Col. Assaf Simchoni, commander of Israel's southern front in Sinai, is missing on a flight from the port of Elath to Tel Aviv.

4 Die As Plane Hits Building

Hole Left By Crashing Plane

This gaping hole in a North Bergen, N. J., apartment house was made after a light plane clipped an 800-foot radio tower and crashed into the multiple dwelling yesterday. Four persons, including the pilot, were killed. Thirty-five families fled into the street as flames erupted from the building. (AP Photofax)

Crash Sets Apartment House Afire

NORTH BERGEN, N.J., Nov. 8 (AP)—A twin-engine airplane struck an 800-foot radio tower in the rain today and crashed eight blocks away into the top of a crowded apartment house. The pilot and three other persons were killed.

Thirty five families fled into the street as flames erupted from the five-story brick building at 70th St. and Broadway.

Parts of the privately owned plane narrowly missed a moving car and a parochial school a block away.

15 Persons Injured

Three bodies were found on the fourth and fifth floors, which were reduced to rubble. The fourth body was that of a woman who jumped in fright to the street.

Police said the known dead were:

Russel S. Williams, Indianapolis, Ind., president of the Bonded Gasoline and Oil Co. a subsidiary of Gaseteria, Ind. He was en route from Indianapolis to New York's La Guardia airport to meet his son and daughter-in-law returning from Europe.

William Cromley, Trafalgar, Ill., pilot of the plane which took off at 9 a.m. from a private field near Indianapolis and hit here about 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mack Phelps, wife of the assistant engineer of the New York Times, the woman who hit the street.

Wing Imbedded In Tower

Flying through fog and rain, the pilot apparently saw the tower and tried to swerve, but it was too late. A wing was imbedded in the structure, 10 feet from the top.

Williams, a former Indiana University football player, was en route from Indianapolis to New York to meet his son, Russel Jr., and his daughter-in-law, who were returning from Europe.

The tower, owned by radio station WOR of New York but not in use since 1953, has been the object of an unsuccessful court suit by residents who wanted to get it torn down as a hazardous nuisance.

Ben-Gurion Notifies Ike Of Reversal

Switch In Policy Follows Prodding From Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Israel did a dramatic about-face today, under prodding from President Eisenhower, and agreed to pull out of Egypt once "satisfactory arrangements" are made for a U.N. force to police the Suez Canal area.

The switch in policy was hailed in Washington as a major step toward relieving Middle East tensions. These tensions had been heightened by Soviet tough talk about using force to threw British, French and Israeli troops out of Egypt.

The new Israeli stand was disclosed in a letter from Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion to Eisenhower, made public by the White House. A similar message was being sent by Ben-Gurion to United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Ben-Gurion only yesterday had defied a U.N. resolution to get his soldiers out of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula and cooperate with a U.N. international police force being organized.

Withdrawal Pledged

Today he pledged to Eisenhower:

"We will, upon conclusion of satisfactory arrangements with the United Nations in connection with this international force entering the Suez Canal area, willingly withdraw our forces."

And he further said: "We have never planned to annex the Sinai Desert."

The sudden break in the touchy situation came just two days after Eisenhower's overwhelming re-election. And it followed hard on an official British call on the Israelis to roll their forces back from Egyptian territory.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told Israeli officials at London today British policy is "to insure" speedy withdrawal of Israel troops from Egyptian areas they occupied since their attack began Oct. 29.

American officials attributed Israel's change of heart to this British pressure plus Eisenhower's letter—which carried with it a warning that Israel's attitude might "impair the friendly cooperation between our two countries."

Soviet Threats Factor

And ominously in the background were the Soviet statements of Monday and Tuesday—made in a letter from Premier Bulganin to Eisenhower and in public statements by Defense Minister Zhukov. These referred to possible Soviet military intervention in the Middle East. They left unclear whether the Soviets meant intervention along with other United Nations members or on a go-it-alone basis.

Eisenhower told Ben-Gurion in his letter that the Israeli refusal to give up the land it had captured from Egypt was viewed by the United States "with deep concern."

The President said such a decision would "seriously undermine" U.N. efforts to restore Middle East peace. The result could only be, he said, that Israel would be condemned as "a violator of the principles as well as the directives of the United Nations."

Ike Offers Hungary Refugees U.S. Haven

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — President Eisenhower today ordered admittance to the United States of up to 5,000 refugees from Soviet-oppressed Hungary.

Pierce J. Gerety, deputy administrator of the Refugee Relief Act, told a White House news conference that action to meet the President's instructions is being started at once.

In a statement, the President said:

"Few events of recent times have so stirred the American people as the tragic effort of Hungarian men and women to gain freedom for themselves and for their children.

"The brutal purge of liberty which followed their heroic struggle will be long and sorrowfully remembered, not only by those directly suffering from that brutality, but also by all humans who believe in the dignity of man."

The President said this country's immediate concern "must be for those whose suffering we, the members of the free world, can effectively alleviate."

Eisenhower acted under general authority he has under the Refugee Relief Act.

Gerety said all of the refugees to be admitted to the United States are now in Austria, which borders Hungary. He estimated that between 14,000 and 16,000 Hungarians have fled across the border.

Eisenhower, referring to these escapees, said in his statement:

"They are older people; they are women; they are children—and many of them are suffering wounds inflicted by the guns of imperialist communism.

"It is heartening to witness the speed with which free nations have opened their doors to these most recent refugees from tyranny. In this most humanitarian effort our own nation must play its part.

"I have therefore directed the administrator of the Refutee Relief Act to process as many as 5,000 Hungarian refugees as expeditiously as possible. This effort requires the active help of the great voluntary agencies and other humanitarian organizations, of state and local governments and of individuals everywhere.

"I know that the people will rally wholeheartedly to this great cause."

U.S. Fleet Placed On 24-Hour Alert Basis

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 8 (AP)—The Atlantic Fleet commander has placed all combatant ships and units on a 24-hour alert basis, invoking what the Navy terms "port and starboard watch." This limits liberty to no more than half the personnel of any unit or ship at one time.

Fleet headquarters confirmed today the "50 per cent liberty' order has been issued by Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander of the Atlantic Fleet and the U.S. Atlantic area.

This move in fleet operational readiness means Wright's more than 200 warships—from escort destroyers through super aircraft carriers—and air units are on the line for any contingency.

Body Of Strangled Woman Is Found

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8 (AP)—The beaten, strangled body of a partly clad woman was found today behind a car in a service station parking lot here.

Police Lt. Al Nelder said she was Mrs. Helen Ivy, about 35, resident of a hotel across the street from where the body was found.

Nelder called it a "sadistic killing" and said she had been "beaten, strangled and stomped."

Commons Gives Eden 320-262 ConfidenceVote

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden tonight won a parliamentary vote of confidence for sending British troops into Egypt.

He thus overcame a threatening revolt in his own Conservative party.

The government margin was 58 votes.

Vote Is 320 To 262

The showdown came on a Labor party attempt to defeat the Eden government. It was rejected 320-262.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was credited with quieting rumblings of revolt in the Conservative ranks at a closed-door meeting only an hour before the vote was taken.

Reliable sources said Lloyd gave categorical assurances to wavering back benchers that British and French forces would pull out of the Suez Canal zone without any conditions once a U. N. police army moves in.

Junior Minister Resigns

Despite the impressive vote in his favor Eden still faces Conservative defections.

Shortly before the vote a junior minister — the second within a week—resigned in protest against the invasion of Egypt.

Soviets Bar Relief

MILAN, Italy, Nov. 8 (AP)—A rebel radio station in Budapest reported tonight the Russians are refusing to allow relief shipments of food and medicine to enter the embattled city.

Ike Press Conference

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The White House said today President Eisenhower probably will hold his first postelection news conference next week.

Streibert Resigns As USIA Director

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Theodore C. Streibert today resigned as director of the United States Information Agency, effective Nov. 15.

And Dr. Martha M. Eliot submitted her resignation as chief of the children's bureau in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, effective Jan. 1.

The White House announced acceptance of both resignations by President Eisenhower.

McGuires Robbed

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — The singing McGuire sisters, Dorothy and Phyllis, told police they returned to their duplex apartment early today to find it stripped of more than $40,000 worth of jewelry, clothing and household effects.

Swiss Asylum

ZURICH, Switzerland, Nov. 8 (AP)—Two hundred Hungarian refugees, the first of 2,000 to be given permanent asylum in Switzerland, arrived today in a special train from Vienna.

Bell System's Telephone Gadget Ban Struck Down

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today struck down as "neither just nor reasonable" the ban by the Bell System against attachment to its telephones of any device "not furnished by the telephone company."

The court said it was an "unwarranted interference with the telephone subscriber's right reasonably to use his telephone in ways which are privately beneficial without being publicly detrimental."

It was a victory for Hush-a-Phone Corp., which manufactures a cup-like device which snaps on the telephone equipment. The court said the device makes for privacy in conversation, office quiet and a quiet telephone circuit. Over the years more than 125,000 Hush-a-Phones have gone into service.

The court said Bell System companies have informed both the sellers and users of Hush-a-Phones that the device may not be used under the tariffs on file with the Federal Communications Commission. The commission, in a decision Dec. 21, 1955, upheld legality of the tariffs.

The court sent the case back to the commission with instructions to determine what changes should be made in the tariffs to make them "just, fair and reasonable" and what orders may be required "to prohibit violation of subscribers' rights thereunder."

Senate Lineup Remains Same As GOP Wins In Kentucky

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — A close Republican victory in Kentucky today brought the Senate division for the 85th Congress next year to just where it was in the 84th: 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans.

By ordinary standards, that would assure continued Democratic control of the Senate. Some complicating factors, however, gave Republicans an outside chance at it.

Late returns from Kentucky indicated Republican Thruston B. Morton had come through finally in his seesaw race with Sen. Earle Clements, the assistant Democratic floor leader.

This was one more feather in the cap of the Republicans, already happy with President Eisenhower's nine-million-vote majority for re-election.

The day's developments also brought a measure of relief for Democrats who had been somewhat concerned over whether Sen.-elect Frank Lausche of Ohio, an independent - minded Democrat, would go along with them in the vote to organize the Senate.

Lausche said at Columbus he would finish his term as governor, which ends Jan. 14. That would seem to mean he did not plan to be in Washington for the vote at the opening of Congress on Senate organization, leaving it up to the other Democrats to set it up to their satisfaction.

With Lausche absent, and assuming a full representation otherwise, the vote would be 48 Democrats and 47 Republicans. If Lausche did come in and vote with the Republicans, there would be a 48-48 tie and Vice President Nixon could break it in favor of the GOP.

The vote decides which party gets the committee chairmanships and the majority strength on each committee.

The virtual end of the Morton-Clements Senate race just about wrapped up Tuesday's election, except for a few undecided House races and a recount for governor in Rhode Island.

The House was definitely Democratic once more. With five races still undecided, Democrats had elected 231 members to 199 for the Republicans.

Late returns from Missouri showed that Rep. Dewey Short, Republican who had served 12 terms in the House, had gone down to defeat. Elected to his seat was Charles H. Brown, Democrat.

Cancer-Attacking Effect Of Viruses "Souped Up"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Development of a still experimental method of "souping up" the cancer-attacking effect of certain viruses was announced today by scientists of the National Institutes of Health.

The scientists stressed that the method has not yet been tried in humans. They added there is no guarantee that it will have any human application.

But the scientists said the animal work done so far suggests that certain viruses which cause only relatively mild illness in man might be "screened" to find some that will attack a cancer. Then this anticancer effect might be "souped up" for conceivable practical use in treating at least some types of human cancer, the scientists said.

They hope that human trials of virus "souped up" in animals will be possible soon.

A team of NIH researchers told the fall meeting of the National Academy of Sciences they had apparently totally destroyed a certain form of human cancer transplanted into rats with injections of an especially "traine" or "souped up" form of coxsackie virus. This is a widely prevalent form of virus which causes in man a mild grippe-like disease somewhat similar to nonparaletic polio.

Rapid Descent

Navy Balloonists Set New Altitude Record

BROWNLEE, Neb., Nov. 8 (AP)—Two Navy ballonists soared to a record altitude of more than 14 miles today then plummeted unexpectedly — but safely to earth in Nebraska's sparsely settled sandhills when trouble developed.

The balloon, taking off at the "Stratobowl" in the Black Hills near Rapid City, S.D., carried Cmdrs. Malcolm D. Ross, 37, and Morton L. Lewis, 43, both of Washington, D.C., to 76,000 feet.

They reached that height 2 hours and 50 minutes after cast-off. Outside their seven-foot pressurized aluminum globe, they saw a "dark blue black" sky. The earth looked black, too.

They began to descend at 1,000 feet a minute. At 56,000 feet Lewis radioed they were sipping coffee, and "we invite you in."

Then something went wrong; their airmen said later "we had no idea what. . . ."

The rate of descent increased to 1,400 feet a minute.

"We are cool, calm and collected," they reported. "We think we will stay with the balloon as long as we can."

Ross and Lewis began pitching out their oxygen and radio gear trying vainly to reduce their rate of fall. Their last radio message was, "We will be out of communication for some time. We are beginning to. . . ." The message broke off at this point.

The drop, though fast and dangerous, was smooth, they recalled afterwards. As they neared the earth they cut away the big plastic gas-filled balloon.

They were about 140 miles from their take-off point.

A plane which had followed from Rapid City, and a rancher in a pickup truck, were first to arrive. They found the airmen cold but unharmed and the gondola intact.

Later a Navy helicopter arrived and flew the men to Ainsworth, Neb. The Navy had scheduled an intensive physical for the men, as part of the scientific purposes of the flight, before newsmen were to be permitted to talk to them.

The 76,000 foot ascent compared with the previous record of 72,395 set in 1935 by a balloon taking off from the same bowl near Rapid City.

Verdicts Of Jury, Students Clash

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8 (AP) — A group of 40 high school students listened attentively to a trial of a man accused of sounding a false alarm.

After the case was given to the jury an assistant district attorney suggested the judge test the student reaction.

With the regular jury and the defendant out of the courtroom the judge polled the students. They all voted "guilty."

An hour later the jury returned. The verdict:

"Not guilty."

Marshall Field Dies In Hospital

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Marshall Field III, 63, whose 160-million dollar inheritance from a department store fortune made him one of the nation's richest men, died today.

The philanthropist, newspaper founder and book publisher became ill last September. He entered New York Hospital Oct. 21 and on the following day underwent an operation for removal of a blood clot in the brain.

His third wife, Ruth, was at his bedside when he died.

Field was a multimillionaire before he entered his teens. His grandfather amassed a fortune in the famed Chicago department store that bore his name, and in real estate. Eventually, all of it passed to Field through the deaths of his father and his younger brother, Henry.

As a youth, Field was a playboy, interested in polo, airplanes, fox hunting, horse racing and sailing. He was educated in England where he moved in the same social set as the Duke of Windsor, then the Prince of Wales and later king of England.

As he matured, however, Field outgrew his boyhood tastes and plunged into a variety of enterprises, many of them with a strong social service motive.

At various times, he was active in slum clearance, real estate, investment banking, journalism, book publishing and the radio broadcasting industry.

Sino-Egyptian Group

HONG KONG, Nov. 8 (AP)—Leaders of 14 Chinese Communist organizations formed a Sino-Egyptian Friendship Assn. today. The first aim of the group is to "give aid to the Egyptian peoples' struggle for their independence and sovereignty," Peiping radio said.

Sea Nightmare Ends For Youth

SOUTHPORT, N. C., Nov. 8 (AP)—A wiry young landlubber whose first deep sea fishing excursion in a homemade boat became a 12-day nightmare of death, drifting, and terror in shark-whipped waters rested "remarkably well" in a hospital here today.

"The boy is made of steel," Dr. Norman Honstein said after examining 20-year-old Douglas Wilson Sessoms of Laurinburg, N. C.

As Sessoms was removed from a Coast Guard boat he told a chilling tale of the ordeal in which his older companion died and droves of sharks butted against his disabled boat as a northeaster kicked up heavy seas.

Sessoms, his lips cracked and his eyes blinking uncontrollably, said he thought 34-year-old J. Eddie Boone died on the third day after they set out from Corn Cake Inlet, 30 miles south of Wilmington, N. C. Their boat motor had drowned out and the tide pulled them out to sea.

Sessoms said he didn't know what caused Boone's death, but "he was out of his head and spitting up blood."

"I slept with my head on his arm two nights," he said. "After the odor got too strong, I buried him at sea."

The SS Hess Petrel out of Perth Amboy, N. J., plucked Sessoms from the 14-foot motorboat yesterday 125 miles east of the South Carolina-Georgia border. He was transferred to a coast guard boat today 55 miles east of Southport.

"I gave up my hope only once," Sessoms declared. "I kept praying to the Lord and my hope came back and I never gave up hope again."

Factory Workers' Pay At Record Level

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The government reported today that earnings of factory production workers reached a record level in October as nationwide employment rose and unemployment declined.

Weekly factory earnings rose by 61 cents over the September record to a new mark of $82.01. Hourly pay, having averaged $2 in September, forged ahead to $2.02 in October.

Weekly working hours declined slightly to 40.6 in October after a slight rise in September. The Labor Department said the 1956 October work week was about half an hour shorter than in October last year.

The over - all employment and unemployment figures for October had been announced last week.

Major Political Victories Won By Soviet Union

MOSCOW, Nov. 8 (AP)—Western diplomats here say the Soviet Union in the last two weeks has achieved political victories ranking among its greatest since the Bolshevik Revolution 39 years ago.

In private conversations they list these scores for the Soviet side since the Suez crisis developed into shooting:

1. A sharp division of the United States from Britain and France on top international policy for the first time since the cold war began.

2. Soviet propaganda, plus the British-French decision to attack Egypt, hurt Britain's reputation for fair play with smaller countries, especially in Asia and Africa.

3. Those two vital continents were opened to a great upsurge of communism through the active support of the Arab cause against the Western powers.

"Even among its former colonies Britain had retained a firm reputation for defending the rights of small countries," said one diplomat. "After the conflict with Egypt, it is doubtful if that reputation still exists."

Soviet propaganda has emphasized only one side of the international picture in the Middle East—that which called the British-French decision to enter Egypt "criminal aggression."

"Soviet experts simply have been saying what many people of Asia and Africa want to hear," a diplomat commented. "It has revived old fears of colonialism and made the issue an effective political weapon."

He Had Luck But All Bad

DE WITT, Ark., Nov. 8 (AP)—Ira Henderson said he "just sat down and cried" yesterday when the bad news began pouring in all at once.

He was leading in the six-way race for Arkansas county treasurer when the last box reported at 11:30 a.m. That box wiped out his slim lead and gave the job to Mrs. Marion Segraves, 1,411 to 1,290.

Fifteen minutes later, he received word that a home which he owned—and which had been in his family for 75 years—had burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elder, an elderly couple who occupied the house, were at Henderson's home when they heard news of the fire. Elder suffered a heart attack and was still in serious condition today.

A short time later, Henderson received a telephone call from his son, Shelby Henderson of Fayetteville, Ark., telling him that his infant grandson had swallowed some artificial fruit and was in critical condition.

Henderson later learned that surgery had kept the baby from strangling and that he would recover.

Yule Club Savings, Membership Down

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — Christmas Club membership and savings in the nation's 527 mutual savings banks are down slightly this year from 1955, Crawford H. Stocker Jr. president of the National Assn. of Mutual Savings Banks, reported today.

More than two million members will get Christmas Club checks totaling 196½ million dollars before the end of this month. The average club check this year will be $98.04, up slightly from the average of $95.34 a year ago.

However, this year's Christmas Club members total 2,004,697 compared to 2,067,633 in 1955 and this year's savings are $196,534,583 vs. $197,311,345 a year ago.

Snow fields and glaciers cover only about 13 per cent of Iceland's area. Greenland, on the other hand belies its name since some 85 per cent of its surface is ice-capped.

RECORD SMASHERS—Commander M. L. Lewis (left) and Lt. Commander M. D. Ross (right) piloted their balloon to a record-breaking altitude of 75,000 feet, thus shattering a record previously set by two Army pilots. Wife-Swappers Declare Move Was Best For All

BELLFLOWER, Calif., Nov. 8 (AP)—Two men who swapped wives said today the switch was the best thing for all concerned.

Paul H. Omohundro told a reporter, "We told our friends and our office staff about it in advance. Everyone who knows us is aware that we didn't just rush into it."

Omohundro, 41, is president of a plastics firm in this Los Angeles suburb. Glenn Capps, 40, is treasurer.

Six weeks ago their wives, Rachel Omohundro and Mabel Capps, went to Las Vegas, Nev., together. Last Monday they got divorces on grounds of mental cruelty and within two hours married each other's former husbands.

The couples had known each other about six years. All decided about three years ago to switch mates.

Each couple had been married 19 years. Each had two children.

"We took a long time working up to this thing so the children could become thoroughly adjusted to the idea," Omohundro added.

"We wanted to point out the many problems of marriage to the children and they had plenty of time to think it over. They even came to realize that what we planned was the best thing for all concerned. And they're very happy the way it worked out."

The former Mrs. Omohundro was given custody of her children, Bonnie Ruth, 15, and Thomas, 11. The ex-Mrs. Capps received custody of Andrea, 13, and Albert Glenn, 8.

Honor For Gruenther

PARIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—France tonight awarded its highest military distinction—La Medaille Militaire—to Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring NATO commander.

U.S. Vessel Trapped By Suez Blockade

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—At least one large American-owned tanker has been trapped in the Suez Canal by the sinking of blockade vessels at both ends of the waterway, it was reported today.

It is the Cities Service Oil Co's. 38,000-ton Statue of Liberty. Its crew of about 50, however, is all Dutch.

The tanker has been tied up near Ismailia since Oct. 31.

A company spokesman here said neither the crew nor the vessel was in any danger or difficulty beyond the boredom of having to sit and look at the desert terrain bordering the canal.

Leaves Restricted

NEWPORT, R.I., Nov. 8 (AP)—The Navy here restricted ship's leaves today to no more than half the crew at any one time and at nearby Quonset Point Naval Air Station "security regulations" were cited for lack of comment on the situation there.

Douglas "Stands Out" At Russian Party

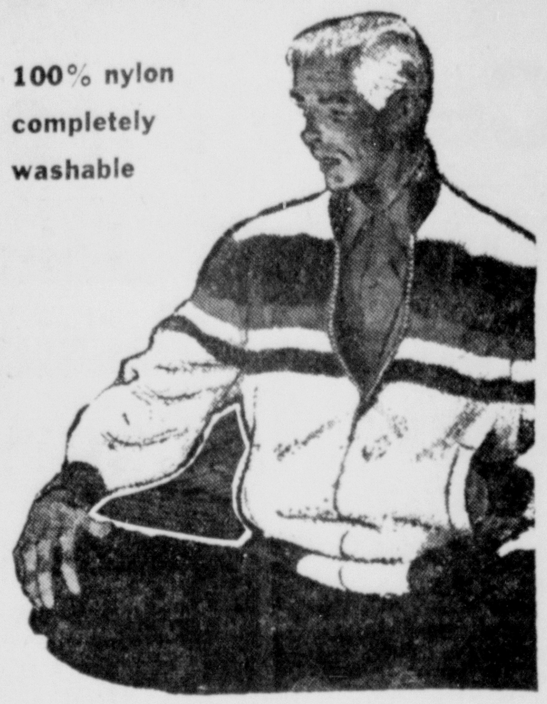

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas showed up at the Russian October revolution party last night. He said he did not know all top administration officials and most Western diplomats had decided to boycott it.

Douglas, arriving late with his wife, stood out among the crowd of some 500 who attended the gathering at the Soviet Embassy.

He answered "no" when asked by a reporter if he knew the party was being boycotted by most Western governments. Somewhat taken aback, he added: "I came only because, as you know, I wrote a book about Russia."

Newest Buick Yet

You know all that talk you've been hearing about the 1957 new car models being really new?

Well, in the case of the 1957 Buicks it's true—gospel true.

We mean these 1957 Buicks are new in the precise and literal sense. We mean new from the ground up, and from gleaming grille to sassy taillights.

We mean new lowness, new styling, new bodies, new windshields, new controls, new safety-padded instrument panels, new safety steering wheels, new seating, new fabrics, new colors.

We mean new front end, new rear end, new frame, new braking, new steering, new handling, new riding, new roadability—a whole new chassis of greater solidity and safety.

We mean V8 engines new from the crankshaft up—engines that deliver an all-time high in horsepower and compression from their 364-cubic-inch displacement.

And we mean, most of all, an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow—so instant in the starting range—so utterly smooth and so totally full-range in "Drive"—that your need for "Low" is practically eliminated.*

So come take in these low-silhouette, these boldly beautiful, these instantly obedient Buicks for 1957.

Then you'll see why you can't blame us for being so fired up about it all—and how catching this excitement can be.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Likeliest Spots For Cabinet Changes, If Any, In State, Defense Departments

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—If there are any changes in President Eisenhower's Cabinet anytime soon, the likeliest spots for new men are in the State and Defense departments.

There is no certainty there'll be changes even there.

Associates of Secretary of State Dulles display confidence that he will be back at his desk around Dec. 1. But none of them can say whether Dulles, 68, and recuperating from a cancer operation, will have the energy to follow the rugged schedule he has set for himself the last four years.

Secretary of Defense Wilson, 66, has been talking of late somewhat like a man who is thinking of retiring. He said Oct. 28 he knew the time would come "when I think the job should be turned over to someone else."

If Dulles should step out, two possibilities for a new secretary of state would be former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, who is known as a soldier-diplomat.

If Wilson should leave one possibility for a successor would be Donald A. Quarles, secretary of the Air Force. Aslo, next in line now at the Pentagon to Wilson is Reuben B. Robertson, the deputy defense secretary.

It is traditional for Cabinet members to say they will stay on as long as the President wants them, and Eisenhower has shown no signs of wanting any of them to leave.

By departments:

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY HUMPHREY — His friends say that, at 66, he is anxious to retire to private life "before too long." But, they add chances are he will remain at least through the next session of Congress.

ATTY. GEN. BROWNELL — Those around him say he will stay as long as the President wants him. Brownell is 52.

POSTMASTER GENERAL SUMMERFIELD—Now 57, Summerfield has taken the position he is at the disposal of the President and will stay as long as he's wanted.

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR SEATON—He said during the campaign that he will still be at the President's call "if the boss wants me." Seaton, who will be 47 Dec. 11, is the youngest man in the Cabinet.

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE BENSON—Benson has said he would be glad to stay on, and there has been no speculation around the department of any change. Benson is 57.

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE WEEKS — With a large family group including 20 grandchildren, Weeks, 63, has talked of a desire to spend more time with his family. Friends say he probably would be reluctant to spend another four years in Washington, but feels it is his duty to stay for a time.

SECRETARY OF LABOR MITCHELL—He is known to like his job, and would like to stay on. Mitchell will be 56 next Monday.

SECRETARY OF WELFARE FOLSOM—He appears likely to stay indefinitely, if that is the President's wish. Folsom is 63.

Price Of Bad Driving

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Traffic courts here have collected 10 million dollars in fines so far this year.

Auto Firms Given Big Army Contracts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Army today announced contract awards totalling nearly three million dollars to Ford, Chevrolet and American Motors for passenger cars and station wagons.

The smallest item, $21,000, went to American for sedans to be delivered to the Air Force. Chevrolet received a $1,560,000 contract for sedans for the Air Force and Navy, delivery to be made within 20 days. A $1,380,000 Ford contract was for station wagons, to be delivered, in the same interval. The Army is the purchasing agent of automotive equipment for the other services.

'Scientific" Pact

TOKYO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Pyongyang radio has announced a "scientific" and technical cooperation agreement between Communist North Korea and Romania.

Government To Stop Stockpiling Aluminum

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The government announced today it will not stockpile additional aluminum during the first half of 1957.

The announcement by the Office of Defense Mobilization said this will make about 400 million additional pounds of aluminum available for industrial use.

The minimum stockpile goal has been reached and the government does not purchase toward longer term objectives in time of strong industrial demand, the announcement said.

Less Rice For Sake

TOKYO, Nov. 8 (AP)—This year's sake (rice wine) will be mellower but there won't be much of it. The Japanese Tax Administration, controller of rice stocks, has cut the allotment of rice for sake manufacture by 490,000 bushels. But in order to improve the flavor, it has ordered reduction of grain alcohol mixed with raw sake.

Nehru Accepts Bid

BERN, Switzerland, Nov. 8 (AP)—India's Prime Minister Nehru today accepted the Swiss government's invitation to a summit meeting to meet what Switzerland regards as the threat of a third World War.

Dorothy Baker To Become Bride Of J. N. Willison Jr.

Miss Dorothy Elaine Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard B. Baker, Williams Road, is to become the bride of James Nelson Willison Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nelson Willison, 733 Hill Top Drive, tomorrow.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 8:30 p. m. in the parsonage of Centre Street Methodist Church, 500 Washington Street, with Rev. Howard M. Amoss, D.D., officiating.

Miss Baker has selected Miss Virginia Shipway to be her maid of honor, while Richard Puffenberger will be Mr. Willison's best man.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Flintstone High School, class of 1956, and is employed by the A and P Super Market.

Her fiance is a graduate of Flintstone High School in 1953, and is employed in the meter department of the Potomac Edison Company.

Friends and relatives entertained the bride-elect with a surprise miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening at her home. Approximately 40 guests attended.

Mrs. Russell H. Hilleary Jr., was hostess for a shower and pre-nuptial party at her home, 704 Gephart Drive. She used the autumn motif in her decorations with fall flowers. Approximately 15 guests attended.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Belmont Kerns have returned from Canada, the Northwest, and Texas. They also visited Mrs. Catherine Durst Stitz, Encampment, Wyo., formerly of here.

David Smith Marks Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Conda Smith entertained with a party in celebration of the fourth birthday of their son, David, Wednesday at their home, Rawlings. Blue and white were used in the decorations. "Happy Birthday," cake and candles. Games were played and prizes were awarded to each guest.

Guests were Pauline Campbell, Roger Clark, Allen Clark, Thomas Bowers, Jeffry Liller, Lois Sulser, Emily Drexell, Marian Drexell, Elizabeth Ann Smith, Suetta Sulser, Martha Lee Smith and Mary Susan Smith.

Exhibit Awards Are Announced

Among the new rooms opened for the annual historical exhibition at the Allegany County Historical Society house is the Primitive room. Among the exhibits is a set of hand-made tools identical to those shown in "American Arts and Skills," in an issue of Life Magazine. The exhibit is being held this week through Sunday.

The primitive room includes dozens of hand-made tools for wood-working; garden tools, including a rail splitter and grain flail; tables of kitchen utensils for use at an open hearth; pie chests, dough trough, Maryland beaten biscuit mixer, kraut cutter, tea chests; two very early sewing machines; a very early typewriter, wine presses, early scales used by grocers, and glass molds from the Sloan Glass Works of Lonaconing.

Another item of interest on the third floor in the toy room is a combination swing and chair for a child, exhibited by Eugene Kelley. Brought from Germany by the Roth family, it is supposed to be over 100 years old. The back of the chair may be lowered and the footrest raised to change the child to a lying position. It also has rockers for use when lifted from the swing.

The historical society awarded prize ribbons to collectors for their exhibits.

In the first floor Assembly room for stamps, first place was given United States stamps of H. B. Scharf; second, first day covers, Anderson J. Martin; coins, first, large cents 1793 to 1857, Charles H. Hyde; first, half dollars, 1807 to 1945, John E. Dorn; first, small cents Indian, 1857 to 1909, Samuel H. PHYLLIS MARLENE NICKEL

Phyllis Nickel To Become Bride Of Dr. LeRoy Hare

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Nickel, 41 New Hampshire Avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Phyllis Marlene Nickel, to Dr. LeRoy W. Hare Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy W. Hare, 215 Grand Avenue.

The wedding ceremony is to be solemnized November 17 at 7 p. m., in Trinity Methodist Church, with Rev. Louis P. Chastain officiating.

Miss Barbara Baker is to be the bride's maid of honor, while Miss Betty Gray will be her bridesmaid; Margaret Dill, cousin of the bride, junior bridesmaid; and Kay Dill and Donna Hare, sister of the bridegroom, flower girl. Charles Welch will serve as Dr. Hare's best man and Thomas Rowan and James Farris will be the ushers.

Miss Nickel is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1956, where she was a member of the National Thespian Society, the Fort Hill Players, and was on the Student Council.

Her fiance is a graduate of Fort Hill High School, class of 1953, and of Logan Chiropractic College, St. Louis, Mo., 1956. While in college he was athletic director.

Mr. and Mrs. Nickel will entertain with a wedding reception honoring their daughter and her bridal party following the ceremony. It is to be held in the La-Vale Fire Hall.

Tonight the bride-elect is entertaining her attendants at a spinster party at her home, while her fiance is host at a bachelor party at his home.

The annual "Turkey in the Straw" dance of the Knights of Columbus ill be held tonight at the home, with the Swing Kings Orchestra playing from 10 until 1 o'clock. Old clothes are to be worn and prizes will be awarded.

Baltimore Pike Firemen's Auxiliary will hold a bean supper with home made bread tomorrow night from 5 until 8 at the fire hall.

Club To Renovate Junior Group Room

Plans to redecorate a room in the club house, and to support the Western Maryland Chemical Society efforts to establish a college in this area were voted at a meeting of the Junior Woman's at the club house. Miss Louise Lippold was authorized to write offering assistance to the chemical society. The junior room work will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Howard Buchanan.

Mrs. Marion Hull reported her Welfare committee will visit Sylvan Retreat before the benefit dance, and invited any member interested to accompany them. Proceeds from the dance November 24 will be used to purchase a gift for Sylvan Retreat. The dance is to be held at the Cumberland Country Club with music by Peck Mills. Mrs. Mark Lazarus is in charge of decorations; Mrs. Glen Brant, prizes; Mrs. Miles Thompson Jr., tickets, which she distributed.

Members were asked to contribute articles for a rummage sale for Girl Scout Troop 12, which the club sponsors, under the leadership of Mrs. Edward Sokolowski. The sale will be November 12. A contribution was sent to the Allegany County Tuberculosis Association and food will be collected for a Christmas basket at the December meeting. Miss Kay Avers is in charge. Gifts for mental hospital patients were collected and members were asked to bring any additional ones to the club house before November 20.

Club members were asked to participate in the wedding gown style show the senior club is sponsoring November 28. Mrs. Dorothy Pevear, Mrs. Perry Smith, Mrs. Colleen Lapp, Mrs. Kay Pellerzi, Mrs. Patricia Sell and Mrs. Jean Crum volunteered to model their wedding gowns.

Invitations were received from Mrs. George Van B. Shriver, State International Affairs chairman to make a trip to the UN December 6; and one from Mrs. William A. Douglas, state president, to attend the board of directors meeting November 20 in Baltimore; the workshop sessions for club presidents and chairman; and a round table discussion on club problems.

Announcement was made of the appointment of Mrs. Pellerzi as acting Fine Arts chairman while Mrs. Sokolowski is out of town; and that Mrs. R. I. C. Prout, president of the general federation, will give federation club news on the TV program every Monday at 11 a. m. Thousands Cast Votes For Third Party Candidate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Buried in the million of votes for Eisenhower and Stevenson Tuesday were thousands which were cast for a third party led by T. Coleman Andrews, former federal tax commissioner.

Just how many thousands will not be known until late December, when the official election tabulation is put together.

There are several reasons for the delay, the chief one being that in many counties of the several states where the Andrews ticket was entered, election officials did not bother to report votes except for the two major parties.

However, an unofficial tabulation of what reports were available—far from complete — showed today that Andrews and his running mate, former Rep. Thomas H. Werdel (R-Calif), got at least 118,000.

Andrews, of Richmond, Va., served the Eisenhower administration for three years as its chief tax collector. He accepted the third party nomination Oct. 15, saying it would afford the public a choice to vote against what he called the socialistic trend of both major parties.

He called for re-examination and possibly ultimate elimination of the income tax; rigid adherence to states rights and deep cuts in domestic and foreign spending.

First Highway Hiker

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 8 (AP) —Werner Mahau, a 32-year-old Belgian dentist, claims to be the first man ever to hike the trans-Canada highway from Montreal to the Pacific Coast. It took three months to cover the 3,500 miles.

PROUD MOTHER—Tuesday's election results gave Mrs. Marie Scafuro double reason to be proud. Albert O. Scafuro (right), one of her eight sons, was elected Republican mayor of Allendale, N. J. Newspaper Surveys, Pollsters Correctly Called Ike Victory

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Newspaper surveys and professional pollsters correctly forecast President Eisenhower's election victory and some came extremely close in predicting his actual margin.

It was a far cry from 1948 when many forecasts misfired in indicating Gov. Thomas E. Dewey would win over President Truman.

Mounting returns indicated Eisenhower won about 57 to 58 per cent of the popular vote and carried 41 states against Adlai E. Stevenson's seven.

The New York Times said Sunday, on the basis of a nation-wide survey by teams of its correspondents, that Eisenhower would win by a "comfortable" majority.

The Times correctly listed Stevenson as the likely winner or having an edge in the seven states he did win. In addition, it gave him an edge in six states he did not carry—Louisiana, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

The Times thus was correct on 42 states and had six miscalls.

A grass roots survey by Associated Press correspondents had Stevenson ahead in eight states, being wrong about Louisiana and Tennessee. It indicated tossups in Oklahoma and West Virginia, for a final score of two errors, two no-calls, and correct estimates on 44 states.

The New York Daily News straw poll of 30,000 voters came within a fraction of a percentage point in predicting the outcome in New York state.

The News said on Monday its poll showed Eisenhower leading in the state by 59.6 per cent to 40.4 per cent for Stevenson.

Almost complete actual returns gave Eisenhower 60.1 per cent and Stevenson 39.9.

Among the professional public opinion takers, the George Gallup poll gave Eisenhower 59.5 per cent of the nation-wide vote and the Elmo Roper poll gave him 57 per cent.

Our Sunday Visitor, a Catholic weekly, said a nation-wide poll of 22,232 of its readers indicated Eisenhower would get 59.3 per cent of the vote. This was one of the few polls that predicted Truman's victory in 1948.

A Chicago Sun-Times poll in Illinois correctly indicated Stevenson's home state would go to Eisenhower.

A poll by the Chattanooga News-Free Press likewide indicated correctly that Eisenhower would take Tennessee, the home state of Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, supporting Eisenhower, conducted a poll that forecast Stevenson's capture of Missouri.

No Nobel Peace Award

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 8 (AP) — The Nobel Peace Prize will go unawarded for the second straight year, the Nobel Committee announced today. The committee gave no reason for its decision.

The last award, in 1954, was to the office of the U.N. commissioner of refugees.

Britain Cuts Oil Use

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Britain today ordered an immediate 10 per cent reduction in domestic oil and gasoline consumption to space out diminishing supplies reaching this country from the turbulent Middle East.

Planes Tangle With Wild Ducks Over Illinois

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP) — Wild ducks, flying into Illinois by the hundreds of thousands, tangled with two scheduled airlines planes yesterday.

One duck crashed through the windshield of a North Central Airlines DC3 carrying 26 passengers. The pilot was stunned momentarily and the copilot was showered with glass. None of the passengers was injured. The plane landed safely.

The plane overtook a flock of about 200 ducks over Fox Lake, Ill. Six other ducks were killed when they collided with the plane.

Another duck rammed into the wing of an American Airlines plane over Springfield, Ill. The crew of the Chicago - to - Dallas airliner feared the bird may have gotten fnto the air conditioning equipment, and landed at St. Louis to make an inspection Mainteance men reported after an inspection: no duck but some feathers.

Frank Bellrose, Illinois natural history survey game biologist, who was up in a plane to make a duck census, reported yesterday that he personally witnessed an influx of at least a half million mallards into Illinois.

Describing it as one of the "greatest flights I have ever seen while I was flying," Bellrose said the ducks were following the courses of the Des Moines, Cedar Rapids and Iowa rivers out of Iowa and into Illinois.

Remsberg Named

FREDERICK, Nov. 8 (AP) — J. Homer Remsberg, a cattle breeder and civic leader from Middletown, Md., has been named to the board of trustees of Hood College.

Board President R. Paul Smith said Remsberg will serve for a six-year term.

LOOKING FORWARD — President Eisenhower, his political stature enhanced by a landslide victory at the polls last Tuesday, wore a broad smile as he posed yesterday at his White House desk—a desk he will occupy for another four years. He will be inaugurated for his second term in office on January 21. (AP Photofax)

Rebel Chief Gives Up

ALGIERS, Nov. 8 (AP) — The French military command has announced the surrender of Algerian nationalist rebel chief Adjoul-Adjoul.

He has been in command of rebel units in the Aures Mountains near the Tunisian border. The French quoted him as appealing to other rebels to surrender because continuing the fight against France is "profitless."

Bids Opened On Highway Work By SRC

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP) — Bids were opened by the State Roads Commission yesterday on highway work in Washington, Prince Georges and Baltimore counties.

G. A. S. C. Wagman Inc. of Dallastown, Pa., submitted the apparently low bid of $293,530 on construction of two single span railroad bridges over Church and Franklin sts. in Hagerstown.

E. D. Plummer & Son, Chambersburg, Pa., apparently was low with $147,312 for re-construction of Marsh Pike road from Maryland 60 north to the Lehman Mill road, about three miles, in Washington County.

For work in Prince Georges County, Comtee Sand and Gravel Inc. of Laurel bid $27,915 for the apparently low offer on resurfacing in College Park of University Lane from Washington Boulevard to Colesville Road and Dormitory Road and the extension of College Avenue from U.S. 1 to University Lane. The jobs total about 1.8 miles.

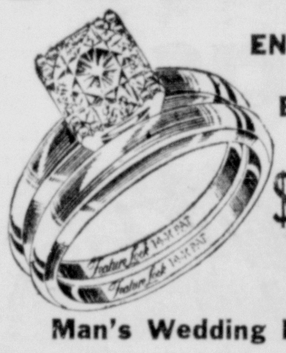

Case Construction Corp. of Mt. Airy, Md., appeared low at $331,755 in its bid for construction of dual four span steel bridges on the Baltimore County Beltway over relocated Wilkins Avenue.

Nearly 20 vitamins that are known or believed to be important to human well-being have thus far been discovered.

Demand For Kosher Food Shows Increase In U.S.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
A.P. Religion Writer

Most people like to eat meat, but very few care for the blood.

This common dietary discrimination is one part of an ancient religious code, whose over-all specifications for "kosher" food seem to be coming back into wider usage in American Judaism.

"The demand for kosher food and the observance of the dietary laws have increased tremendously," said Rabbi Solomon J. Sharfman of New York, president of the Rabbinical Council of America.

Although always kept in force by Orthodox Judaism, the detailed regulations have been abandoned —in varying degrees—by many Jews. But there are indications of a resurgence of the practices.

"What is especially significant is that many young people are returning to the observance of the dietary laws," said Prof. Marvin Fox of Ohio State University's Philosophy department.

"This is particularly noticeable on our college campuses."

Called "Kashruth," the laws are based on Old Testament passages. Although dropped by Christianity and Reform Judaism, elements of the rules show up in the tastes of many, regardless of faith.

But adherence to the whole system, involving selection, preparation and serving of food, is preserved only in some branches of Judaism, and in recent times, it has grown into a huge, nationwide specialty.

"There is an unprecedented increase in the quantity and the variety of kosher food to be found in the retail market," said Dr. D. de Sola Pool, rabbi of Synagogue Shearith Israel in New York.

More than 125 companies, many of them giants in the food industry, now turn out more than 450 grocery items, prepared under the regulations and certified as approved by a national commission of Orthodox Judaism.

Growth of this operation, easing a handicap for housewives who wanted kosher foods but formerly couldn't get them in the handy, modern forms, is seen as one reason for the greater conformity to the system.

"In the past," said Rabbi Sharfman, "the dietary laws were violated more for hardship they frequently imposed, than out of disbelief in them."

Other factors include:

1. The oft-cited current "religious revival" in America, marking the rejuvenation of many aspects of religion, and in some cases, a return to more traditional customs.

2. Emergence of Judaism in this country as a solidly rooted, major faith, freed of old social anxieties that to be Jewish is to be "foreign," and with ensuing new pride in religious identity.

Bulganin Sends Ike His Congratulations

MOSCOW, Nov 8 (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolia Bulganin congratulated President Eisenhower today on his re-election and sent him best wishes "for strength and good health."

Bulganin's message hailed Eisenhower as a "great statesman . . .whose aspirations are the relaxation of world tension and establishment of peaceful relations between all states and peoples. . ."

Bulganin and Klementi Voroshilov, Soviet President, in messages made public by the Tass news agency, spoke for friendly relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Moscow radio broadcast an election analysis, heard in London, which said the election was a personal victory for Eisenhower but a rejection of Republican party policies.

Mine Union Firm Seeks To Purchase Ship Line

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Officials of American Coal Shipping Inc. said today they are negotiating for purchase of the A. H. Bull & Co., known as the Bull Lines.

The ACS is a newly-formed firm owned by the United Mine Workers Union, several coal-carrying railroads and major coal producing interests. It was formed to carry American coal to Europe and bring back ore to this country.

ACS has obtained government approval to charter 30 Liberty ships and expects first delivery of the vessels within a few days. However, the government has limited return cargoes for the vessels from Europe to Ore.

The Bull Line has a fleet of 15 vessels, bulk cargo carriers comparable to the Liberty ships, engaged in coastwise trade between New York and Baltimore and the West Indies.

Shipping circles said acquisition of the Bull Lines would give ACS vessels it could divert to shipping coal to Europe without limit on return cargoes and also help demonstrate to the shipping industry that ACS is in business to stay. Most of the industry had opposed chartering the government-owned owned Liberty ships to ACS.

Passes Gun Law

BLIND RIVER, Ont., Nov. 8 (AP) —Until this week it was perfectly legal to fire a gun in the streets of this uranium mining center. Now a law prohibiting gunplay in the streets has been passed because one citizen complained hunters were shooting holes in his workshop walls.

Aircraft Officials To Advise U. Of Md.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP) — The University of Maryland has named several leading aircraft officials to act as an advisory group to its department of aeronautical engineering.

The aircraft officials will advise on such matters as making decisions on research, attracting top personnel and determining industry needs in aeronautical engineering.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, announced the appointments.

Others:

Dr. William B. Bergen, executive vice president, the Martin Co.; Dr. William A. M. Burden, aviation consultant; Capt. William S. Diehl, USN (Ret.), consulting aeronautical engineer; Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics; S. Paul Johnson, director of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences; Walter Tydon, chief engineer, Fairchild Aircraft Co.

Rejects Request

TOKYO, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Japanese government procurement board has decided to reject a U. S. request to use Akiyoshi area of western Honshu as a bombing range. Both scientists and laymen opposed letting U. S. forces use the Akiyoshi area because beneath it is one of the world's largest stalactite grottoes.

Negroes Appeal Nearest School And Bus Ruling

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 8 (AP) — The State Board of Education will be asked Nov. 28 to determine whether Anne Arundel County can refuse transfer of Negro children to white schools if they live closer to another school bus line.

The county adopted the nearest-bus-is-the-nearest-school ruling in setting up a program last summer for integrating the first three grades of county schools. Three applications turned down on this basis are being appealed by Negro families to the State school board.

The State board itself set up the ruling involving pupil assignment years ago as the result of a case involving students who wished to cross county lines and attend schools closer to their homes than those in their own county.

The youngsters involved in the Anne Arundel County appeal all presently attend Pumphreys School. Jill Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert C. Brown of near Ferndale, asked permission to attend Ferndale school, and Linda and Lloyd Mitten of Cedar Hill, near Brooklyn, want to go to Marley Park School.

Quartet Arrested In Theft Of Safe

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Four men—three of them fugitives from the Maryland House of Correction—were arrested today and charged with breaking and entering within hours after a 400-pound safe containing $500 was stolen from a hardware store.

The three who escaped last Oct. 19 were identified as Emmitt Walker, 35, Baltimore; Melvin Deshong, 24, Lemasters, pa., and Leroy Franklin Files, 24, Hagerstown. The fourth arrested with them was Russell R. Sutherland, 30, of York, Pa.

All were held in $3,500 bail.

The four were picked up by city police two hours after an alarm was sounded. A witness told police he saw four men carry the safe from the store to a car.

More Negroes Than Whites In Capital Schools

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Slightly more than two-thirds of the children attending Washington's public schools are Negroes, an enrollment count showed today.

The report, made public by Hobart M. Corning, superintendent of schools, showed a total enrollment of 108,481 with 68 per cent, or 73,723, listed as Negroes. The count was made as of Oct. 19.

The total is a new high for the city, 836 above last year, but slightly under an anticipated enrollment of 110,000 for this school year.

The proportion of white and Negro pupils continued a trend that began about 10 years ago, the report showed. There now are 4,010 fewer white students in the city's public schools than a year ago, and 4,846 more Negro pupils.

The Negro proportion of Washington's total population is not similar to that of school enrollment. The present Negro total of all ages in Washington has been unofficially estimated at 42 per cent.

Wants Names Changed

VIENNA, Nov. 8 (AP)—An Austrian newspaper has proposed that streets in Western capitals where Soviet embassies are located be renamed "Street of the Hungarian Suppression" as a permanent reminder of Soviet injustice.

Aid For Hungarian Refugees Requested

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Three agencies with offices in Baltimore asked today for medical supplies, clothing, bedding and money to help refugees escaping from battle-torn Hungary.

The American Friends Service Committee, the Church World Service and CARE each has representatives in Austria, where most of the refugees are arriving.

The agencies already have began assisting the refugees.

They also plan to ask the Russians to allow representatives to go into Hungary itself to aid those injured or made homeless in the fighting.

The agencies also have programs for assisting victims of war in the Middle East.

Jaycee Convention Will Start Today

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—More than 300 members of the Maryland Junior Chamber of Commerce are expected here tomorrow for the start of their annual convention.

Ralph Peters, national vice president, will speak at a Saturday luncheon. Also on Saturday's program are a golf tournament and dinner-dance.

The convention will end Sunday with a general membership meeting.

Ohioan Dies In Crash

WINCHESTER, Va., Nov. 8 (AP)—An East Cleveland, Ohio, man was killed instantly near here today in a two-car collision on State Route 522.

The victim, 62-year-old Jack Goldberg, was a passenger in a car driven by his wife.

Youth Killed On Bridge By Train

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP) — A teenage boy jumped the wrong way today and was killed by a fast passenger train on a railroad bridge.

Police said 16-year-old John Harry Kerr of the Chesaco Park section was instantly killed when struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad train.

A companion, Richard F. Gillespie, also 16, was not hurt.

Both were students at Kenwood High School.

Police said Kerr and Gillespie were walking between tracks on the Stemmers Run overpass east of Baltimore.

When the New York-to-Washington express came upon them, police were told, Gillespie jumped to the left and Kerr to the right, into the path of the 17-car train.

Police said they were told the Kerr boy had become ill at school and Gillespie was accompanying him home.

New Lawyers Will Be Admitted To Bar

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 8 (AP) — The sons of the present and a former Maryland attorney general will be among 107 new lawyers admitted to the bar tomorrow by the court of appeals.

Among those Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert will ask the high court to admit to practice will be his son, Cornelius F. Sybert Jr. of Elkridge, and Edward D. E. Rollins Jr. of Elkton, son of Sybert's immediate predecessor in the high legal post.

The candidates passed the bar examinations last July.

Arrest For Being Drunk In Home Is Ruled Illegal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — A judge ruled yesterday that police have no right to enter a man's home and arrest him for being drunk, even if the man's wife requested it.

Judge Armond W. Scott so ruled when he dismissed charges against James E. Williams, 28. Police said Williams' wife had requested the arrest.

The judge said police may enter a home to make an arrest only if a felony has been committed or if they think a serious crime has been committed. Otherwise, he said, the police must obtain permission of both husband and wife before entering a home.

Preacher Pleads Guilty In Bank Theft

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Nov. 8 (AP) —Robert H. Drodge, part-time Methodist preacher, pleaded guilty in Federal Court today to five counts charging him with embezzlement from the First National Bank of Morgantown.

The 27-year-old Mt. Morris, Pa. resident, who was a teller in the bank, was charged with embezzling approximately $14,000.

Drodge told the court that he was unable to make restitution of the money and that he could not explain what became of it all, except to say that he spent it "foolisly."

W.Va. Police Probe Second Violent Death

PHILIPPI, W. Va., (AP)—The body of R. Edgar Stemple, 25, of Morrall, was found beside his automobile late last night, starting Barbour County authorities on an investigation of a second violent death.

State Police Sgt. Robert R. Karickhoff said Stemple's body was found lying face-down in a small pool on a country road near Meadowville.

Stemple left home about 8 p.m. He formerly worked in Cleveland, Ohio, but came home after the death of his father, Raymond Stemple, several weeks ago. He had been staying with his mother since then. The home at Morrall is only about one mile from Philippi.

Sgt. Karickhoff said a short hose line was connected with the exhaust of the automobile but it would not reach the spot where the body lay.

The officer and Magistrate A.C. Simon, acting coroner, said an autopsy was planned later today.

The Stemple death followed a fatal stabbing yesterday in which a brother of the victim is being held.

Stemple is survived by his mother, three brothers and two sisters.

Group To Meet

The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association will meet on Monday at 8 p. m. at Shaw's Cafe on Oldtown Road.

Man Gets 90 Days In County Jail By Own Request

William "Buck" Brant, about 50, this city, was given a 90-day sentence to Allegany County Jail yesterday by Magistrate Donald W. Mason at Brant's own request.

Magistrate Mason said Brant, who has been convicted numerous times for being drunk, walked into Trial Magistrates Court about noon yesterday, told the magistrate he had been drinking and wanted 90 days in jail to "get off this binge."

Mason asked Brant if the latter wouldn't be satisfied with just "30 days" but the unemployed man said no.

So the magistrate complied and sentenced Brant to the three-months term for "being drunk."

Kiwanians Elect Johnson President

William H. Johnson was elected new president of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at its weekly meeting yesterday at Central YMCA.

Other new officers are Albert D. Darby Jr., vice president, and G. William Eichner, re-elected treasurer.

Albert H. Hargreaves, the retiring vice president, announced his resignation. D. Lindley Sloan proposed a resolution commending Hargreaves for his service to the club and the community as director of industrial promotion of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce. It was approved unanimously.

Grant County Girl Shows Top Baby Beef At W.Va. 4-H Exhibit

PETERSBURG, W. Va.—A 10-year Grant County 4-H Club girl, Julia Hartman, exhibited the grand champion baby beef, an Angus, at the ninth annual West Virginia 4-H and FFA Baby Beef and Fat Lamb Show and Sale at Jackson's Mill.

Her championship beef sold for $55 a hundredweight, which gave Julia $484 from the Kroger Company. She also received a trophy from the company for showing the top baby beef in the show.

Another Grant Countian, W. Clarence (Sonny) Taylor, showed the reserve champion Hereford, which sold for $28 a hundredweight, a total of $292.60. The successful bidder was Shumaker's Market of Fairmont.

All told the 100 baby beeves auctioned at Jackson's Mill brought $25,395.77, an average of $26.17 a hundredweight.

P-E Group Attends Products Show

LONACONING — A group of representatives of the merchandise department of the Potomac Edison Company were among an audience of over 1,000 persons who attended the annual showing of Frigidaire products for 1957. The show was held in Washington's Sheraton Park Hotel.

Among the local persons attending the meeting were Ervin D. Lewis, Robert Hadley, and Miss Eleanor Cuthbertson, all of Lonaconing.

Approximately 58 per cent of Americans drink wine, beer or liquor.

John A. Luke Will Address Optimist Club

John Luke, manager of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company mill at Luke, will be the principal speaker at the dinner meeting of the Optimist Club Wednesday, November 14, at Central YMCA.

The head of the paper company, which is planning a $50,000,000 expansion program, has been invited to attend the meeting at 6:30 p. m. because, said the Optimists, his company's program symbolizes optimism.

Highlight of the dinner will be presentation of the Optimist of the Year award by the club to the person selected as the "most optimistic" during the past year.

The Optimists have scheduled a week-long series of activities next week during "Optimist Week." The program will get under way tomorrow with a radio broadcast. At 2 p. m. Saturday members of the local organization will pass out copies of the club's creed throughout the city.

Sunday the Optimists and the families will attend church in a body at Central Methodist Church. Rev. David Elliott, pastor, will speak on "Every Boy Needs a Helping Hand."

Francis A. Kenney, member of the program committee for the Optimists, said last night he hoped to have Luke outline the company's program to the Optimists at Wednesday's dinner.

The Optimist Club, Kenney said, is interested in how the expansion will affect the community of Luke, the overall economy of Allegany County, the needs, roads, housing facilities, water and power to be required by the paper company.

Other members of the program committee are Kenneth Shaffer, chairman, Byron Kight, Earl Nonnenmann, Allan Staggers and Henry Sauer. Hugh Funkhouser is chairman of the selection committee to pick the "Most Optimistic Person."

Parents Urge

ment, "we parents feel that all our efforts at good will and attempts to be of help have been enveloped and negated by the valvet curtain of silence. . .

"Whether the commissioner has a 'public be damned' attitude or not I do not know; we realize that he is short of staff and that he works many long hours, over and above the call of duty."

But Mrs. Dunn added the parents felt it would have been "to his advantage to make time to meet with the various groups who joined with me in asking for a few hours of his time."

The spokesman for about 75 parents and other members of the delegation told the committee Rosewood suffers from personnel shortages and dilapidated buildings.

Proposals Listed

She presented this list of proposals to the committee:

1. Necessary legislation "empowering the State Board of Education to set up and supervise programs of special education and training for children and adults at Rosewood."

2. Use of Department of Education funds for materials and salaries of teachers and other personnel in the various therapies "needed to round out the program."

3. Responsibility by the Department of Education "for the setting up of standards in regard to personnel and the quality of the programs."

4. Responsibility by the Department of Education for "any other provisions which would normally be the province" of the department.

5. That these changes "take effect July, 1957, if possible, recognition being made of the possible need for time to effectuate planning and procurement of personnel."

Mrs. Dunn also described as "legislation by ailment" State laws requiring parents to pay for part of the cost of training their children at the school if they are able. She said it is "an inequity and an injustice" to require this for parents of mentally handicapped children but not for those of children in such State-supported institutions as the Maryland School for the Blind and the School for the Deaf.

Some Blind Or Deaf

Some Rosewood children, she said, are blind or deaf, as well as mentally handicapped.

On other questions today:

1. The committee postponed action on a bill similar to other roadside control measures which have failed in the Legislature.

2. The budget and finance group voted to recommend that employment Security Board report be passed to the Legislature without action. The report, prepared by the board's advisory council, recommends higher weekly benefits, revisions in allowances for dependents, and other changes in employment security provisions.

Equity Suits Filed

Three equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled Harold G. Bonner vs. Dorothy Lee Bonner, Esther E. Hedrick vs. Louis S. Hedrick and Emma G. Maudlin vs. Richard M. Maudlin.

Paw Paw Church Plans Memorial For War Hero

PAW PAW—A memorial service for Staff Sgt. Oliver "Jack" Stewart Shanholtz, son of Mrs. Lillian Shanholtz and the late Ira Shanholtz Sr., whose plane was shot down over Denmark in January, 1944, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in Magnolia Methodist Church with Rev. Richard L. Hamilton, pastor, officiating.

Born August 15, 1923, Sgt. Shanholtz enlisted in the Air Force in September, 1942. He served as a tail gunner on a B-17. His plane was hit on a return trip from a raid on Kiel, Germany, with the Eighth Air Force.

Eight of the crew members survived, but Sgt. Shanholtz and two others vanished. They were officially listed as dead by the Department of Defense on January 5, 1945.

Survivors include his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Annie Albright, Magnolia; two brothers, Ira Shanholtz Jr. and James Shanholtz, Cumberland, and a sister, Mrs. Evelyn Hare, Cumberland.

In honor of Sgt. Shanholtz and his first cousin, Pvt. Charles Robert Shanholtz of Magnolia, who was killed in Korea during 1951, plaques will be unveiled in Magnolia Methodist Church in conjunction with the memorial service.

Bowling Green Property Sold

A deed recording the sale of property in Bowling Green to the State of Maryland for use by the State Roads Commission in constructing a new divided U. S. Route 220 between the Celanese plant and the Dingl Hill city limits was filed yesterday at the Court House.

Curtis B. Helmick and Nellie V. Helmick sold the property on the north side of Poplar Street in Bowling Green.

Two other deeds recorded in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court, listed purchase of property by the Cumberland Housing Authority for use in the new housing project on Oldtown Road.

One tract was sold by Charles William Nickel, Mildred Nickel, Robert Earl Nickel, Martha A. Nickel and Almeda L. Vogel. It is situated at the northwest corner of the intersection of Rolling Mill Alley and Oldtown Road. The Maryland Homes Company sold the other property on the south side of Rolling Mill Alley just west of Oldtown Road.

Another 12th, Another Holiday

When the Allegany County Court House is closed next Monday for the Veterans' Day observance, it will mark the fourth successive 12th of the month in which the building had been closed.

August 12 was a Sunday. September 12 was Defenders Day. October 12 was Columbus Day.

Veterans' Day also is the second of three November holidays at the Court House. The first was Election Day and the last will be Thanksgiving Day.

Elks Leader Visits Here

The importance of youth activities was stressed Wednesday by Claude S. Martin, Washington, president of the Maryland-Delaware-District of Columbia Elks Association, at a meeting of Cumberland Lodge 63, BPOE.

Martin also commended the local ritualistic degree team which won the association contest and participated in national competition. A similar tri-state event is planned.

R. Edward Love of Annapolis, association secretary, announced that a regional meeting will be held January 19-20 in Annapolis.

According to Bruce M. Mackey, exalted ruler of the local lodge, a meeting will be held November 20 to ballot on candidates. An initiation November 28 will be followed by a shrimp feed for members.

Plans were formulated for an open house program November 21 under the direction of the Social Sessions committee headed by Clifton H. Hafer.

PPG Starts Work On Twin Grinder

Installation of the twin sand grinder and grader equipment at Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch will begin next week.

J. W. Cochrane, construction superintendent for the glass company, said the contract for the erection of the twin grinder will be handled by the Eichley Company of Pittsburgh.

This project is expected to take about five months, Cochrane pointed out.

The grinder and grader is built by the H. M. S. Company in Auvelais, Belgium, and 60 per cent of the equipment has been received at the plant site here.

Most of the work will be handled by the millwrights and ironworkers, the superintendent said.

Over 75 per cent of the grinder and grader building itself has been completed, he added, and this will be finished while the grinding and grading equipment is being installed.

The foundation of the polisher building is about 80 per cent completed and in about two weeks the American Bridge Company will start erecting structural steel.

The foundations of the warehouse are about 70 per cent installed and the bridge company has started to erect steel in that area.

The exterior brickwork and interior work is the main activity at the office building. This is about half finished, Cochrane said.

The river pump house is 50 per cent completed, while 60 per cent of the water line to the plant itself has been laid.

The plant has been producing rough glass since the first part of September and is shipping the rough product to other PPGC plants for grinding, grading and polishing.

All of the buildings, except the office building, are connected. The glass will travel in a continuous sheet from the melting tank, through the lehr room, into the twin grinders and polishers, and then to the warehouse.

Morgan County Clerk Hurt In Auto Crash

George Allemong, 84-year-old clerk of Morgan County (W. Va.) Circuit Court, was admitted Tuesday to Morgan County War Memorial Hospital, Berkeley Springs, with injuries suffered when his automobile overturned. Attaches, who said he was not seriously injured, reported his condition as "pretty good."

Allemong, clerk of Circuit Court for 30 years, was unopposed in Tuesday's election. At the time of the accident he was driving a voter to the polls. Authorities said the Allemong car apparently went out of control and turned over, pinning Allemong beneath it. The passenger, John K. Whitford, was also injured, but did not require hospitalization.

Money Brings Suit

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Finders-keepers doesn't seem to apply to Pearley Dickens, 40. Last August he uncovered $2,300 from the brickwork of a building he was helping demolish.

The customary 90-day waiting period over, Dickens went to claim it. A police custodian said the building's owners were claiming the money as "abandoned," not lost.

It'll now take a law suit to determine who will end up with the $2,300.

Anti-Litter Highway Campaign Is Pushed By SRC And Police

The State Roads Commission, in conjunction with State Police, has instituted an intensive drive, against the deposit of litter on highways.

G. Bates Chaires, district SRC engineer, said the drive to keep Maryland Beautiful has worked out well in the eastern part of the state, and local authorities are confident that the campaign in this section will bear fruit.

Maryland's anti-highway littering law provides for fines up to $250 and jail sentences up to 90 days for throwing trash on public highways.

Col. Elmer Munshower, superintendent of State Police, has sent the following message to all troopers:

"The Governor's Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful was appointed in 1954 by Governor McKeldin to conduct a statewide campaign to free Maryland roads of litter and carry out other projects designed to preserve Maryland's scenic beauty. The committee is composed of civic leaders from all parts of Maryland and has the backing and cooperation of a long list of industries, clubs and the like.

"Throwing trash along public highways has long been a misdemeanor under a law of Maryland, enacted in 1951. And the problem has grown so big in recent years, that the Legislature in 1953 saw fit to amend the law so as to increase the maximum fine from $50 to $250. Enforcement of this anti-litter law is one of the major weapons available to the Governor's Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful.

"That the problem is important is proved by the concern of Governor McKeldin, the state legislature and the leading citizens who are combatting it. It is our responsibility to enforce the law against throwing trash on public highways.

In the future, Col. Munshower told the force, each member of the State Police is to take special care that thoughtless violators are cautioned about their conduct, and wilful violators do not go unpunished."

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (INS)—Somebody should get to Harold Stassen and find out if President Eisenhower would have won decisively if he had dumped Nixon last August and put his faith in Christian Herter.

Yep, it was a pretty tough squeak for Ike. Followers of the "dump Nixon" program were pretty jitterly until Ike drew out toward a 10,000,000 popular vote and a nearly 400 electoral vote lead shortly after noon Wednesday. Some ran scared even with that much margin in view.

"I don't like the way Ike's moving," said one Stassen supporter at midnight. "Nixon's pulling him down six per cent in Anaheim, if I'm any judge.

"Right, judge," a Herter man said. "Did you notice that when Stevenson gave up he sort of hedged? He said Ike had won a vote of confidence from the American people, but you'll notice he didn't include Dick—right? Personally, I thought we were sunk then and there."

"We're not out of the woods yet," a third man remarked. "Unless this anti-Nixon vote stops coming in from Napa, Gilroy, Arcadia, Chula Vista and Milledgeville, Ga., we're not going to win the way I thought we'd have won with Chris. I predict we won't win by more than 12,000,000."

The boys retired to a nearby health bar, ordered cracked corn all around, and drank a silent toast to good old Chris—who could really have put Ike across.

If Eisenhower isn't the political phenomenon of our time he'll do until one comes along. For example:

Like most West Pointers and Annapolis men, he never voted until well along in years.

His great military breaks and promotions came under Democratic administrations.

Harry S. Truman offered him the 1948 Democratic nomination. As late as 1951 he at least considered running as a Democrat, and pressures to do so were brought to bear on him by such prominent Democratic friends as George E. Allen.

Once nominated and elected as a Republican, he reorganized the party.

Though his life had been devoted to war, he became a symbol of peace with his shutdown of the Korean War, his "atoms-for-peace" plan, his performance at the Summit conference in Geneva and his recent conduct in the matter of Egypt and Hungary.

He suffered a very serious heart attack just at a time when he had to make plans to run for a second term, if that was his wish.

Recovered and active again, and having regained the confidence of the voter in his ability to handle the job, Eisenhower came down with a rare intestinal disorder in June—and once again his chances of reelection tottered.

His fellow Republicans lost the Senate, House and most governorships.

So-o-o-o-.

He wins like the Yanks in the seventh game of the World Series.

Sudden thought: How can Estes recover all those handshakes?

As this is written, the A.A.U. championship for masterful restraint is still held by Harry S. Truman. It has now been many hours since Eisenhower utterly buried Stevenson under the greatest avalanche shaken loose in U. S. politics since F.D.R. interred Alf Landon 46 states to 2 in 1936.

Mr. Truman had it first, and had it right. He said real loud that this was going to happen. He went to the Chicago convention with the express purpose of stopping the swing toward Adlai. He dangled Harriman in front of the delegates and hoped, it is said, that Stu Symington would be the compromise.

Any way, Mr. T. has—as of this writing—ruggedly refrained from saying what must be in his tough and sometimes testy old hide:

"I told you so."

PTA Units To Exchange Programs

KEYSER—The Mineral County Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting at the Fountain School with Mrs. Lowell Manning, president, presiding. The session opened with group singing led by Mrs. Maurice Amtower. Mrs. William Welch gave the PTA prayer.

At the business session, the group voted to continue the presentation of plans for each school's needs to the Board of Education. A plan for a short term and long term planning of those needs was prepared last year and presented to each PTA president.

It was also voted that each local PTA send a copy of the important details in its minutes to share ideas and plans. These minutes are to be sent to the secretary of the council, Mrs. Richard Tabler, Carpenter Avenue, Ridgeley.

Mrs. Manning announced that a regional meeting would be held Wednesday at Romney. It is hoped that each local PTA will send delegates. She reported that Mineral County had increased by 30 per cent in the sale of the PTA magazine.

She appointed the following nominating committee which will give its report at the next meeting in February: Mrs. Leroy Fleming, chairman, Harold Carvey and Mrs. Ross Prysock. The meeting will be held at Keyser High School at 7:30 p. m. At that time an election of officers will be held.

Refreshments were served by the Fountain PTA following the business session.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

A Few English Muffin Crumbs

(While John Crosby is on vacation, his column will be conducted by guest writers. Today's contributor is Garry Moore.)

Funny thing about TV columnists. In some respects they're just like people. Especially in their naive belief that a performer always has something interesting to say.

And John Crosby, of all people, has certainly met enough comedians to know that most of us talk a great deal funnier when we have our six writers stashed behind a potted palm in the corner.

I bring this up because I was sitting in my office when the phone rang and it was John. It seems he was leaving unexpectedly for South America and is in grievous need of a couple of dozen guest columns and would I write one for him. When I told him I wasn't sure I had anything worth writing about he said, "Oh, fellas like you always have something up their sleeves."

Well, I've got news for you, John, wherever you are. I just looked up my sleeve and there is nothing up there except a few English muffin crumbs and a small tattoo mark reading, "From Agnes in memory of that divine summer at Asbury Park."

And I don't care to write about that.

People should not just assume that performers always have something interesting to say. I went up to my older boy's school a couple of weeks ago for Father's Weekend and was invited to sit at the headmaster's table. I thought it was very kind of him to invite me—until I found I was also expected to make a "little speech." As a result my breakfast eggs just sat there, untouched—staring up at me like Eddie Cantor on a plate.

And when I got to my feet—vaguely aware that my remarks should be at least to some degree educational and instructive—the only facts I could think of were things like, "Ping Pong spelled backwards is pronounced Gnip-Gnop."

Or — "Robert Taylor's real name is Spangler Arlington Brugh."

It was a humiliating experience—with my own boy sitting there waiting for his old man to come up with something.

I though of singing a few choruses of an old favorite of mine called, "Tho I'm Visiting Folks in Elmira, My Heart Is Still in Haverstraw." But that get a little racy in the fourth chorus, so that was out.

I finally came out with the only sound advice I could really give a group of young men with any sense of conviction. I became quite earnest in mien and said, "Boys,—you may forget everything else I've told you today but here's one golden fact you should live by as you go through life. Never tell a lady her stockings are wrinkled. She may not be wearing any."

People should just not assume that performers always have something interesting to say.

A case in point is the great actress, Josephine Hull. Miss Hull was doing a scene in a Broadway play one night—a dialogue with a much younger actress. In the middle of the scene the sound effects man got terribly confused and rang the on-stage telephone bell. The younger actress froze. There was no place in the play's action for a phone call at that time.

But Josephine Hull, that great star, walked straight to the phone—not a hair ruffled. The young actress thought, "Such presence! Such composure!"

Miss Hull picked up the phone, said hello, listened a moment—then turned to the young actress, held out the phone and said, "Here. It's for you."

Another case in point. It was during the war and one of the Washington brass called a meeting of the top comedians of radio. He stressed the need of these men staying on the air because the country needed the laughter for their morale.

And I remember the late Bob Burns saying, yes, this was okay—but how could he keep his programs funny when the army was drafting all his writers? And with a kind of sorrowful look he added, "My listeners are gonna be powerful disappointed to find out I ain't been ad libbing all this time."

Ike's Victory Due To Solidify Plans For Industrial Expansion

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Business takes another nip today of the brew of confidence.

The Eisenhower victory is widely expected to firm up the plans for expansion. And this in turn may step up the pulse beat of inflationary pressures.

The stock market may do a few nip ups for awhile—some celebrating, some cashing in on good guesses or erasing bad ones. But later on war scares and peace scares are likely to be more on the mind of stock traders than the vote of "no change" which the American electorate gave the executive and legislative branches of its government.

Confidence in domestic affairs comes from this:

Rightly or wrongly, most leaders of industry and trade feel that with the Eisenhower team running the executive branch the climate for business will be favorable.

Leadership in Congress remains largely in the hands of the conservative wing of the Democratic party.

The outlook then for the next two years is very much the same as in the last two years which, by and large, business found to its liking.

Lake Okeechobee, in Florida, is the largest fresh-water lake which is situated entirely within one state in the United States.

The next time someone starts gossiping, stop it by dropping this remark, "I have never heard her say anything but the nicest things about you."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Do You Measure Up?

Catty remarks and gossiping isn't limited to social circles, age groups, or business relationships. Nor is it limited to one sex. Strictly non-Webster is the definition of gossip by James Hughes: "The art of saying nothing in a way that leaves nothing unsaid."

Don't get in the habit of talking about your friends—that is if you want to be considered a friend. Never start a conversation with, "Well, she is a nice girl and all that, but . . ." You aren't putting your thoughts in actual words, but you have dropped the hint, and the seed of trouble will grow from there, never fear. You can be sure that those told will have the "fun" of twisting the remark to exactly what you meant to say originally.

All it takes is a word dropped here—a casual catty remark there. Don't get in the habit of talking about your friends. Change the conversation quickly if someone starts. They will get the idea quickly and admire you for it, if not on the spot, certainly later when they have had time to think it all over.

Gossip can be very cruel . . . not only for the damage done to the person in question, and the friend's respect you lose, but to your expression. Take a peek in the mirror the next time you're right in the middle of a juicy gossiping session. Your mean unkind thoughts are bound to be reflected in your face. That means no charmer you! For one of the qualities of charm is kindness. And to say a woman is charming is, in my opinion, to pay her the highest possible compliment.

Tomorrow: Sitting Pretty.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 club	1 diamond	2 clubs
2 hearts	Pass	Pass	3 clubs
Pass	3 no trump	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Seven of hearts.

The defense was perfect in today's hand and yet proved of no avail against an astute declarer who declined to take a simple finesse in favor of one that was a good deal less obvious.

The contract of three no trump was not unreasonable, tho South's final bid was attended with some risk. He might have investigated on the previous round by trying two no trump. This would enable him to determine at a lower level whether the no trump idea was agreeable to partner.

West decided in favor of leading the suit partner had bid even tho he held but a singleton. This seems to us to be good business. The likelihood that declarer had both missing diamond honors should not be ignored, and the loss of one unit of time might prove fatal to the defense.

Declarer could have placed himself in good position by taking the first heart trick and driving out the ace of clubs, but without the assurance that West had only one heart such play would have been fool-hardy. When the queen of hearts held the trick, East did not fall into the error of continuing the suit, since he held no sign of any entry. He chose instead to return the eight of diamonds.

Declarer naturally went up with the ace, confident of leaving the queen safe against attack. That West, not East, held the ace of clubs had become a certainty. If East held the ace he would, of course, have continued to establish the hearts. The club trick was then given up and West could do no better than get out with a club. After declarer had cashed his clubs and the ace of hearts, a reasonably good count of the adverse holdings was available.

West is known to have had one heart, four club, and probably six diamonds, but certainly five, which leaves him with two or three spades. After cashing the ace and queen of spades, declarer finessed the te to bring in four tricks i that suit. Even if West held three spades, including the jack, declarer was safely home, for West's next lead would set up the queen of diamonds for South's ninth trick.

Washington Rejects Ban On Union Shop

[By The Associated Press]

A right-to-work proposal was defeated by Washington state voters in Tuesday's election and the same issue was a possible factor in defeat of a Republican candidate for governor in Kansas.

In Washington, final figures were not available but the proposal to ban the union shop was snowed under by a two-to-one margin. Union leaders, who fought the proposal, said the issue was a factor in the big Democratic vote in that state.

In Kansas, where Republican Warren Shaw was defeated by Democrat George Docking in the governorship race, the issue was regarded as a factor. The situation was that Gov. Hall, Republican, vetoed a right-to-work act last winter and his veto was sustained. Shaw made this an issue in his successful primary race against Hall.

The resulting split in the Republican party was a help for Docking who won despite a huge majority for President Eisenhower.

Mideast Crisis Reflected In Jittery Market Decline

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — The nervous situation in the Middle East was fully reflected by the stock market today as it staged a jittery decline with some improvement toward the close.

Leading issues wound up the day with losses running from fractions to around 2 points. By the end of the session, however, some early losers had nudged to the upside. Here and there was a sizable gain.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.10 to $180.10 with the industrials down $1.60, the rails down $1.30 and the utilities down 20 cents.

Based on the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange declined an estimated $1,300,000,000 today.

The session's loss, combined with yesterday's, more than wiped out the advance made in Monday's election eve rally.

Of 1,150 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by 707 to 232. There were 41 new lows for the year and six new highs.

Volume totaled 1,970,000 shares compared with 2,650,000 yesterday.

Royal Dutch was the day's most active stock, off 2⅝ at 101½ on 58,200 shares. Second was U. S. Steel, off ⅞ at 70⅝ on 47,600 shares. Third was Glenn L. Martin up 1⅛ at 41⅝.

Next came Standard Oil (N. J.) off ¾ at 56⅝ and General Motors off ½ at 46⅝.

Of 16 most active stocks, nine declined and seven advanced.

Birth Noted

MIDLAND—Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Robertson, Paradise Hill, announced the birth of a son October 20 in Miners Hospital. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Robertson, Dans Rock Road. Mrs. Vivian Lloyd, Wrights Crossing, is the maternal grandmother. The baby has been named Mark Joseph.

A JAPANESE FISHERMAN named Ikeda listens to the loud wail of his newborn son in Kyoto, Japan, as his wife beams from her hospital bed. The cry of the healthy baby was music to their ears. Ikeda was a crewman on the Japanese fishing boat that was caught in fallout from the first Bikini Atoll H-bomb test, and scientists could not be certain of the effect of the radiation on his offspring. He is now employed in a Kyoto factory. (International Soundphoto)

RUSSIANS FREE YANKS IN HUNGARY

REPORTER KATHERINE CLARK of International News Service stands by her car (top) in Vienna after she was finally permitted to leave Hungary with a convoy of other American refugees from Budapest. The group, mostly wives and children of diplomats, were turned back twice before the Soviets finally gave them safe conduct to the border. At bottom, Mrs. Daniel Sprecher watches as a doctor examines her sick baby. The child caught a severe cold in a drafty schoolhouse where the Russians had housed the group overnight.

Deaths And Funerals In Tri-State Area

STORM FUNERAL

FROSTBURG — Services for Carl G. Storm, 51, of 72 Washington Street, who died Wednesday in Miners Hospital, will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at the Durst Funeral Home.

Rev. Dr. Paul V. Taylor, pastor of Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Richard Green, Howard Shuman, Benjamin Lewis, Darrell Zeller, Ervin Lewis and Roy Kirby.

MRS. MARY ANN O'ROURKE

LONACONING—Mrs. Mary Ann Sullivan O'Rourke died yesterday afternoon at her home on Dudley Street here.

She was the widow of John O'Rourke. A native of Pekin, she was a daughter of the late Patrick and Ann Sullivan.

Surviving are two sons, John L. and William G. O'Rourke, and two daughters, Mrs. George Eichhorn and Miss Bernadette O'Rourke, all of Lonaconing, and three sisters, Mrs. Alex Schute, Mrs. Catherine Brown and Mrs. Thomas Hoban, all of Cumberland.

She was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and the Sodality of the parish.

The body is at the home. A Requiem Mass will be celebrated Saturday at 9:30 a.m. in St. Mary's Church. Rev. Charles W. Bogan, pastor, will officiate and burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

ELMER BARNHART

HANCOCK — Elmer Barnhart, 71-year-old retired farmer, died yesterday at the home of a sister, Mrs. Marjorie Downs, Warfordsburg, Pa., following an extended illness.

Born in Fulton County, Pa., he was a son of the late Isaac and Catherine (Henline) Barnhart.

Surviving, besides Mrs. Downs, are four other sisters, Mrs. Norah Hyndman, McKeesport, Pa.; Mrs. Gertrude Myers and Mrs. Rose Dyer, both of Cumberland, and Mrs. Louis Mort, Hagerstown, and two brothers, Randall Barnhart, Hancock, and Clarence Barnhart, Cumberland.

The body will be at the Grove Funeral Home here after 7 p.m. today. Services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m at Warfordsburg Presbyterian Church by Rev. W. B. Oliver and interment will be in the church cemetery.

DANIEL O. KIMMELL

SHINNSTON—Daniel O. Kimmell, 78, of nearby Peora, died Wednesday in a Clarksburg hospital.

Born at Oakland, Md., he was a son of the late Chauncey and Harriett (Sinclair) Kimmell. A former deputy sheriff of Harrison County, he had also served as a state factory inspector and clerk of the State Legislature.

Survivors include two brothers, T. A. Kimmell, Mt. Lake Park, Md., and L. L. Kimmell, Oakland, and three sisters, Mrs. Susan Myers, Mrs. Patrick Hammil and Mrs. Lee Browning, all of Oakland.

Ticket Sale For Concert Continues To Be Heavy

Seating 86 musicians on the stage at Fort Hill auditorium for the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra concert next Thursday is one of numerous problems involved in bringing a major big-city attraction to a smaller city like Cumberland. But happily for all concerned, the Fort Hill stage is one of the largest in Maryland, and the Baltimoreans were delighted last year with the accommodations and the acoustics of the local auditorium.

Out-of-town ticket sales to date have been heaviest in Oakland and Keyser, but nearly every area town will be represented among the now-assured large audience here next Thursday night.

Starting at 8 p. m. promptly, Massimo Freccia will conduct.

Reserved seats are on sale at Sykes Music Store, North Centre Street, and Vandegrift's Music Shop, Baltimore street.

The concert, sponsored by the Times-News, is for the benefit of the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Cumberland may have a second famous symphony orchestra this season, the Pittsburgh, if the area public response to the Baltimore Symphony concert is general enough. In other words, a near capacity attendance at Fort Hill auditorium next Thursday night will be the first step in assuring Cumberland's future importance as a music center for the tri-state area.

It is an indication that Cumberland has already won noteworthy attention through booking the Baltimore Symphony when Pittsburgh Symphony officials are alert to the desirability of playing here. But the whole matter depends on how well area music lovers patronize the November 15 concert here.

Tentative date for the Pittsburgh Symphony would be early in February.

In the meantime there has been a steady sale of tickets for the Baltimore Symphony program, according to the two box offices.

Sandy Carter Marks Birthday

LONACONING — A surprise birthday party was given on Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carter in honor of the seventeenth birthday of their daughter, Sandy.

The guests were the Valley High cheerleaders, Anne Perry Chappell, Peggy Stakem, Kay Kirk, Sandy McKinley, Judy Moffatt; Bob Hyde, "Butch" Young, James Stakem, James Craze, George Lauder, John Smith, Pattie Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith.

Westernport Warns Delinquents On Water Payments

WESTERNPORT—Mayor Okey Michael and Council reported last night that notices have been mailed to delinquent water consumers.

Unless payment is made within 10 days, Water Commissioner Alvin Pence said, service will be discontinued.

George DeWitt, town clerk, was authorized to notify the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company that all holes made by the firm must be restored.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor G. Strickler complained about curb damage done at Cromer and Walnut Streets a number of years ago by town employes. Council said the property will be repaired.

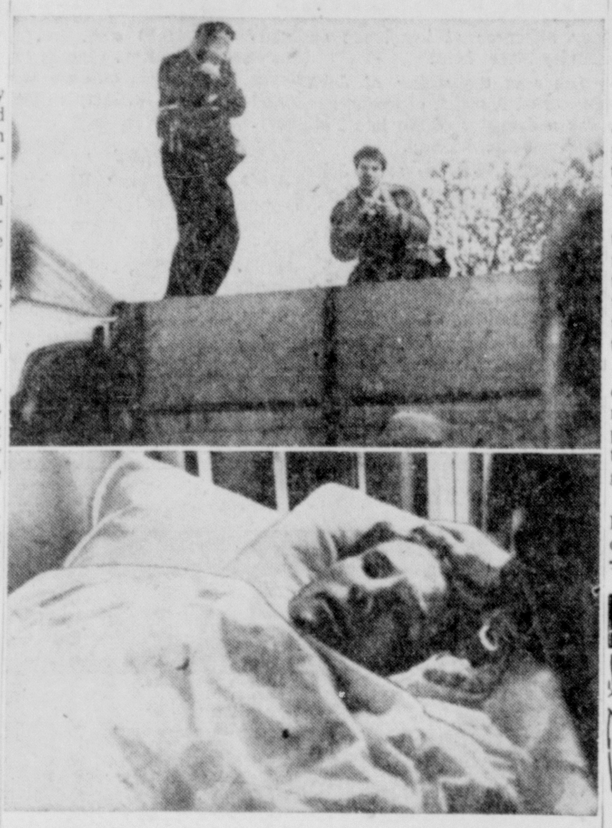

After Eldridge Guy, 511 Maryland Avenue, complained about water running into his property, council decided that a ditch would remedy the situation. Action was planned.

Melvin Whitfield, an officer of the Upper Potomac Rod and Gun Club, pointed out that 200 acres of land on Westernport Hill could be used as a recreation area. The suggestion was taken under consideration.

Mayor Michael announced that the Maryland Municipal League 13-17 in Annapolis. Westernport will be represented.

PHOTOGRAPHER SHOOTS, IS SHOT

Nikep Club Plans Benefit

NIKEP—The Community Club of Nikep will sponsor a benefit party for the Friends Aware of the Handicapped Children of the Westernport district.

One boy from Nikep will be attending the Handicapped Children's school at Westernport and the community hopes to make their project a financial success to aid with the organization of the Friends Aware school.

The party will be held Saturday, November 10, at the Community Center beginning at 7:30 p.m. Response for grocery contributions for the benefit party is gratifying.

In charge of publicity are Mrs. Ferrest Simpson and Wayne Kiddy.

Rolling Onward In '57 Models

A chain of supermarkets has put out a new memorandum to its store designers. Henceforth the architects are instructed to provide over 10 per cent additional space in new store parking lots. Reason is the length and fatness of the new cars.

A columnist the other day reviewed the new models in one fell swoop. "Too long and too low," said he. "Shorter and higher—that's what they ought to be."

He didn't add "narrower." Some of the cars produced over the past decade have looked mighty corpulent, it's true. But when running-boards gave way to more width of seats, few there were to criticize. A six-passenger car is preferable to a five-passenger car even if there are only two people on the front seat.

Nobody would want to go back to the top-lofty motor carriages and their square-cut outlines that lasted but slightly modified into the 1930s. Cars, like airplanes, can be designed for a combination of streamlining and comfort. But does anyone really think that jet-plane tailfins on the back end of a car are setting a permanent style?

Before long there'll probably be false rudders (airplane type) to accompany the fins. That'll do it. Buyers will have had it, and will let the car designers know.

As for extreme lowness — that's nice for looks from the outside, maybe, but how about the passengers? Tall men recline more than sit in the back seat. They have to—the roof comes down so low. This year the fad is small wheels.

In simple riding quality as far as diameter of wheels is concerned, anyone can see that a large wheel spans bumps that are close together better than a small wheel can. Big wheels take isolated bumps more easily too, especially at the lower speeds. Carriage builders knew that.

Meanwhile nobody can say the car makers don't give people what they want—or what they let the makers think they want!

These Days

For Guidance

The campaign is over. The people have voted. The results are in. The world moves its way as though nothing spectacular had happened. Perhaps in the long course of history, nothing spectacular has happened. We remember Marathon and Charles Martel at Tours and John Sobieski at Vienna and how Kerensky fled to Gatchina. That is a few remember that, just as fewer still ever heard of Wang Yang-ming, an early pragmatist who was accepted by the Japanese but not the Chinese. This was centuries ago but it all showed up in World War II in mass reactions which we still need to understand.

Albert Einstein once said:

". . . Who can doubt that Moses was a better leader of humanity than Machiavelli? . . ."

Einstein was, of course, right but Machiavelli is often triumphant which perhaps explains why the United States broke with Great Britain and France over the Israel-Egypt War. It is sometimes difficult to understand American policy which fits neither the morality of Moses nor the pragmatism of Machiavelli. It seems to be a policy drawn out of the air, or possibly the clouds. For what reason have we so regularly supported Nasser whose own writings prove him to be a direct descendant of Hitler in his conduct and of Mussolini in his emotional responses? But we have supported Nasser against Great Britain, against France, against Israel.

We demanded sanctions against Israel for invading Egypt, but there are still countries that are reticent about demanding sanctions against Soviet Russia for invading Hungary and Poland.

I go back to Einstein who wrote some very wise things and others not so wise, even as you and I. He made a most interesting point about all this:

". . . The causal and objective mode of thinking —though not necessarily in contradition with the religious sphere—leaves in most people little room for a deepening religious sense. And because of the traditional close link between religion and morals, that has brought with it, in the last hundred years or so, a serious weakening of moral thought and sentiment. That, to my mind, is a main cause for the barbarization of political ways in our time . . ."

The desertion of Moses is symbolic of the desertion of the moral law and for it can only be substituted the rule of thumb which means that anything goes that one can get away with. It is this rule in international relations that has made the weak and backward nations so audacious. They are not guided by Moses but by Machiavelli and they calculate that the strong United States will appease those who appear to be weak because it is so involved in the fear of war that it halts and stumbles and fails to take a strong stand.

What benefit to anyone has it been to destroy the French Empire in North Africa? What benefit has it been to the United States to upbuild Nasser in Egypt? What moral principle supported Nasser against Israel or the Kremlin against the students in Budapest? I should like to see a fundamental explanation of the guiding principles which support such contradictions.

The real danger is that while we are breaking the British, the French and the Dutch empires, we have been helping the Russians to build their singularly cruel and brutal empire which is reducing European nations to a state of colonialism and we were building an Arab Empire under the leadership of Nasser whose outstanding virtues are impudence and ambition. And what shall we do with all this when we have inherited the thistles and thorns that we are now sowing?

Perhaps we shall have preserved our oil properties and perhaps not. For it does happen that when dictators feel their oats, they confiscate private property and most of all and preferably, foreign-owned private property. Mao Tze-tung has seized everything in continental China and even forced foreign management to remain to run the businesses for the Communists' advantage. It does not seem reasonable to believe that if the United States continues its policy of unending appeasement of the rascals who are thrown up in revolutions to govern countries, shouting "anti-colonialism!" as a frightening slogan, the day will not come when these fellows will seize American-owned oil, confiscate it, violate their contracts, and expect to get aid from the United States to operate the stolen enterprises. And they will probably not be disappointed in their expectations.

"Welcome Back To The People's Democracy"

Pearson Predicted Great Britain And France Would Attack Egypt

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — There have been allegations in high places of late that this writer has not been telling the truth. In view of the war that has broken out in the Near East, it might be interesting to review the record of who was telling the truth in regard to a situation which could endanger the peace of the world.

It is true, as recorded in the current "Confessions of an SOB" in the Saturday Evening Post, that there have sometimes been arguments over my veracity.

However, the record of what this column reported to the public and what the Administration reported to the public is spelled out in black and white so there can be no mistake about who was telling the truth. Here is the record.

On Aug. 8, this writer reported: "Secretary Dulles arrived in London to find Prime Minister Eden seething over the Suez Canal seizure. He was almost as irate against the United States as against President Nasser . . . The French were equally aroused, possibly more so, and both were resolved to use force to take the canal back from Egypt."

I leave it to the public to decide who was telling the truth.

On Aug. 8, this writer further reported: "Eden gave Dulles about the bluntest bawling out that the head of one nation can give the Foreign Minister of another. He blamed Dulles for pressuring Britain to get British troops out of the Suez Canal . . . And then building up Nasser's power in a race to see which could do the most for Egypt—the United States or Russia.

"Eden also pointed out that Britain and France had supported the United States when we got into trouble over Korea. In contrast, he said, the United States was now dragging its feet."

Danger Of War

Yet Dulles, returning to the U. S. A., gave no impression that the Prime Minister of England was irate and bitter. Bitterness of this kind can help, and in this case did lead, to war.

On Sept. 1, this column reported: "The American Embassy in Paris has cabled Washington that Premier Mollet's government will be overthrown if he backs down in the Suez dispute."

This was a clear warning of the danger of war. I leave it to the American people to decide who was telling the truth.

On Sept. 7, this column reported: "In a personal message to President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Anthony Eden has solemnly warned that Britain and France may be forced to invade Egypt . . ."

No hint of this warning, direct from the top leader of England to the President of the United States, was given to the American public.

On Sept. 18, this writer, reporting direct from the Near East, pointed to some of the ingredients for war that were building up in that area; among other things that, while a tight embargo was slapped on Israel, "Nasser, whom we backed, has recognized Red China, bartered $240,000,000 worth of cotton for Russian arms, sent Egyptian military advisers to stir up revolt against our allies in North Africa, helped oust British Gen. Glubb Pasha from Jordan, made speech after speech berating the United States, tried to blackmail the United States into building the Aswan Dam, and when that help was finally refused, seized the Suez Canal."

War More Imminent

On Oct. 2, this writer reported "Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the Canadian who heads the United Nations Truce Commission, has been cabling the State Department that war between Israel and the Arab States is more to be feared than ever. He is terribly worried about it and has informed Secretary Dulles that something drastic must be done."

On Oct. 10, I reported: "The British and French have been so peeved at John Foster Dulles that for a time they refused to give him any inkling of their plans."

On Oct. 11, President Eisenhower stated just the opposite. He told a press conference there had been no split with England and France over Suez. Neither he nor Secretary Dulles, he said, had been given "an intimation from anyone in Birtish officialdom" that "they were dissatisfied with our stand."

The American public can decide who was telling the truth.

On Oct. 12, President Eisenhower announced: "I've got the best announcement that I think I could possibly make to the American people tonight. The progress made in settlement of the Suez dispute this afternoon is most gratifying. It looks like there's a very great crisis that's behind."

On the surface it might appear that the President made this mistake because the French and British were no longer talking. But if he read the newspapers, especially this column, he would have known better. Apparently he didn't pay any attention to what his ambassador in Paris was cabling him.

The French Sizzle

For on Oct. 15, I reported: "The French are so sizzling mad at Secretary Dulles for his unpredictable performance on the Suez Canal crisis that they could fry. Not since the end of the war has there been such anti-American feeling in France . . . The French Cabinet is so furious it has vowed to oppose Egypt singlehanded if necessary, no matter what the United States does . . . The American embassy is genuinely alarmed and has warned the State Department the French will not give up as they did in Indochina."

That is the record of who was telling the truth.

Despite the cabled warning of the U. S. embassy in France, as reported by this writer, Secretary Dulles on Oct. 28 proceeded to pacify the American people with the assurance that France Britain and the United States had developed a common policy.

"I think it is amazing," he blandly told the American people, "the degree to which we have had a common policy."

One week later, France and England demonstrated by bombing Egypt that the so-called common policy was a pure figment of Mr. Dulles' imagination.

New Eisenhower Administration Faces Problems

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON — The chickens are coming home to roost. This is the first fact which faces the new Administration. After four comfortable, unwary years, the horizon is positively black with home-coming chickens, some of which look remarkably like vultures.

The years of the first Eisenhower administration have produced great achievements to be sure, as well as home-coming chickens. The greatest of these is that the rancid, neurotic bitterness which pervaded and poisoned American life four years ago has now almost wholly seaped away.

Calms Passions

The Eisenhower administration —almost, it has sometimes seemed without knowing what it was doing — has well performed the first essential function of conservative government, that of calming passions and consolidating the progress of the past. At least the country is one again, and that is a great advance.

But this great advance has been achieved partly by encouraging a national complacency which is not justified by the facts. And the last two weeks have produced a warning, as loud and ominous as the wailing of a siren. The meaning of the warning is that the Administration has failed to perform effectively the second conservative function, of maintaining the national security and the national interests abroad.

On the defense and foreign policy front, the Eisenhower administration policy has been to avoid like the plague bold measures which would upset the existing order of things, and to hope for the best. Until very recently, to be sure, this policy has worked rather better than might have been expected. The best has not happened, but neither has the worst. Somehow we have lucked through, without global war or total disaster.

Yet the crises in the Middle East and Eastern Europe mean that we cannot luck through much longer. Take, for example, the Egyptian war. It may be that the French-British-Israeli operation against Egypt will proceed quickly and according to plan, that the Suez Canal will be rapidly reopened, and Nasser and his Arab allies taught a lesson.

But if these things do not happen, the new Administration is going to be faced with a downright dreadful choice, in a matter of a few weeks, for if the canal is not reopened, and the oil pipelines are blown, and France and Britain are cut off from their Middle East oil supplies, they are going to need large injections of American oil and dollar aid to continue to exist economically. The needed injections may be so large that it will be necessary to call a Special Session of the rump Congress to get the appropriations.

Nasty Prospect

It is hard to imagine a nastier prospect for the new Administration. Yet the alternative is to see the Western alliance finally come apart at the seams, and with it the British base system on which our own Strategic Air Force is inescapably dependent. The fact is that a basic assumption of American policy — that our allies would always go along with us in the end, because they had to — has been knocked into a cocked hat by the British-French action.

Therefore a reappraisal, however agonizing, of our relations with our allies must be about the first order of business with the new Administration. And the reappraisal will be all the more agonizing because of the stark fact that we are as dependent on our allies — especially the British — as they are on us.

Wherever one looks, there are agonizing reappraisals to be made. The brutal suppression of the brave Hungarians by the Soviets may be the signal for a reversion to a colder cold war, with all sorts of painful implications for the new Administration's defense and foreign policy. In any event, the status quo is changing in the Soviet Empire, as everywhere else, and American policy is going to have to be drastically readjusted to meet the change.

Before the Hungarian coup, some of the younger policy-makers in the Administration proposed just such a drastic readjustment, in the form of a conditional offer to withdraw all forces, American and Soviet, from the European continent. At the very least, they reasoned, this would be a major propaganda stroke. At the most, it could mean the end of the satellite empire, since the Red army alone provides the cement which holds the empire together.

Perhaps the proposal was too risky, and no doubt it is now too late. But the point is that it was almost instinctively rejected, because it implied the kind of basic change in the existing order of things which has been automatically resisted in the first Eisenhower administration. But the existing order of things everywhere is changing whether we like it or not. And if the new Administration does not adjust the change, and continues to try to luck it through, the chickens on the horizon will turn out to be vultures in very truth.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Even if the watched pot never boils soup is on.

Our quadrennial caucus is calibrated except for a bit of seasonal shooting in the upstate hills. The flying saucers are stacked in the kitchen sink and the coast-to-coast polls are going in for wall-to-wall estimates of office politics.

We like the way America lets off esteem every four years in conventions, parades and campaigning. Compared with 1956 name-slinging the old Cleveland smears were beauty spots.

This time they reverted to finger-waves of suspicion and viewing with disgust. They got as personal as rubber gloves in a hospital.

That's the old style politics when names were named. And the dignity of dog fights lowered.

That's the essence of the two-party system in American democracy. You hear from both sides until November six. After that the winners take charge. Like silvering a mirror one side is enough.

We like the way the opponents shake hands and forgive themselves.

Then they jump back and count their cuff links. In the language of partisan politics we are glad the et ceteras outnumber the so-and-sos.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

PARIS—I am starting my determined effort to master the art of riding on the Paris subway, which is generally referred to as the "metro." This can be a very complicated undertaking. Frequently for a ride that takes 10 minutes, you have to make three changes. If you are not skilled in the subject of traveling by metro, you may start for the Montmarte and end up at Montparnasse. My first venture will be a ride on the underground from the Place D'Etoile to Auteuil. By taxi this could cost a dollar. By metro it costs less than a nickel. Incidentally, Auteuil is near Passy. It was at Passy that Benjamin Franklin lived when representing the United States in France. It was during that period Franklin wrote to a younger American his classic letter on the subject of women. In this he advised the young fellow to seek the companionship of women in their early 30's. You can find this highly interesting communication in a collection of great letters published by Simon and Shuster.

THOSE CIGARS

Am still smoking French cigars. I journeyed out to the St. Cloud race course yesterday full of hope and confidence but ended up a loser. At the end of the sixth race I was still even. In the seventh, the last race at Paris tracks, I was undecided between a noble animal named Star Raider, owned by Rita Hayworth's ex-husband, Prince Aly Khan, and a horse named Ironos, owned by Howard Hawks, the American film director. I went to the Hawks horse. Aly Khan's horse won. If I had backed him I would have collected a hatful of francs and be smoking an elegant Havana cigar right now. After checking the situation, I found swiching from the Aly Khan horse to the Hawks horse was due to a mathematical calculation in changing my figures to the metric system. Boy, if my handicapping doesn't improve here I will soon be smoking a pipe.

DENTIST

Is your dentist a well informed fellow as to the history of his activity? Is he familiar with the career of Dr. Horace Wells? If not, he should be. Dr. Wells was the first dentist to use gas as an anesthetic. That was in 1844. In the Place Des-Etats Unis here, there is a bust of Dr. Wells.

HISTORICAL PLACES

You can hardly walk a block in Paris without passing a place that figured in an incident that happened six or seven centuries ago. Take the Sorbonne, part of the University of Paris, for example. That was founded in 1208. The faculty of the Sorbonne strongly supported the condemnation of Joan of Arc.

SIDELIGHTS

Do you know any young woman named Genevieve? Does she know that St. Genevieve is the patron saint of Paris? . . . The film titled L'Homme Qui En Savat Trop (the Man who Knew Too Much) featuring James Stewart is still packing them in the Parish showshops. There was a line two blocks long waiting to get in to see it at night at the Lord Byron theatre on the Champs Elysees.

PLEASE NOTE

When seats are scarce in the Paris buses and subway, pregnant women have a preference. It is claimed that some women so pad their persons as to appear pregnant and thus always get a seat in a bus or subway car. Incidentally, very well formed females are often playfully pinched by males in the Paris subway. However, this is not a violation of any French law. It is supposed to be a complimentary gesture. Somewhat similar to "wolf whilstles" in the United States.

POLICE

In Paris some policemen wear arm bands indicating they speak English. As you probably know it is not proper to refer to a Paris policeman as a "gendarme." He should be described as an "agent de police." A gendarme is a law enforcement officer similar to those connected with the offices of sheriffs in the United States.

Nickel Sensitivity May Be Cause Of Dermatitis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many persons are allergic to nickel and develop a rash wherever the metal touches the skin. Lesions appear on the thighs from garter clasps, on the ear lobes from earrings, on the cheeks from spectacles, and on the chest from brooches, necklaces, and brassiere fasteners.

Other sites of involvement are the abdomen and sides due to nickel in zippers of girdles, the wrists from bracelets and watches, the top of the feet from shoe fasteners, and the seater from metal chairs.

So many products in daily use contain nickel it is difficult to avoid the substance. The sensitive individual should do his best to find substitutes, such as plastic clips or button fasteners; or the metal may be covered with fabric, adhesive, or cellophane tape.

An earring that is coated with clear nail lacquer offers protection man also is allergic to nail polish for several hours (unless the woman also is allergic to nail polish). Plastic sleeves for the arms and covers for eyeglass frames protect the skin. A New Yorker who was allergic to nickel went a step further; she silver plated all her jewelry that contained the offending metal.

The allergic reaction is worse in summer because sweat and friction wear off the nickel more easily. This may explain why dusting talc under the metallic object may offer temporary protection.

Allergy to nickel is not difficult to detect. Doctors Alexander A. Fisher and Alfred Shapiro of New York, who saw 198 patients with this condition over a five year period, used nickel sulfate patch tests for this purpose. A 5 cent coin works almost as well. It is strapped on the skin and left in place for 48 hours.

If sensitivity exists there will be redness, swelling, small blisters, or severe itching in this area. It is important to remember, however, that nickel was omitted from coins during World War II. This means that 5c pieces made before 1941 or after 1945 must be used in the test.

The British Medical journal recently carried an article on suspender dermatitis due to nickel sensitivity. The authors have been studying this disorder for three years in one skin hospital. They were impressed by the number of women, not engaged in industry, who had "patches of dermatitis under their suspenders."

This statement intrigued me but as I read on I realized that the English refer to fasteners or clips on girdles and bras as suspenders.

TOMORROW: Wormy?

EATING AFTERWARDS

F. C. writes: I had my stomach removed six months ago. Will I have to stay on my moderate diet indefinitely or will I be able to eat everything eventually?

REPLY

In partial gastrectomy, approximately three-quarters of the stomach is taken out to eliminate the acid producing glands in the gastric pouch. Operations of this type usually come with a complete set of instructions. This is no time to be shy; ask your surgeon when you can go back on an enjoyable diet.

FRACTURED NOSE

C. V. writes: If the nose is broken in a fall, must it be reset as a broken leg bone would be?

REPLY

Yes, but the technic differs. The fractured ends are brought together by molding them from the outside or applying pressure from inside.

DRIVING DISCOMFORT

H. W. writes: What would make my hands numb and stiff after holding the wheel for a while?

REPLY

These symptoms may be caused by tension as well as by several conditions in the neck, varying from arthritis to being muscle bound. In many instances of this kind, a muscle or bone presses on the nerves and blood vessels leading to the arms. Examination would be needed to determine the origin of your numbness and stiffness.

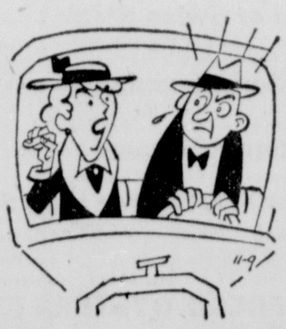

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

In front of New York's Pavillon Restaurant, the absentminded chairman of a huge book club sat patiently at the wheel of his car while the traffic light some distance ahead on Fifth Avenue turned red and green six times. At this point his wife thought it wise to point out to him that he was in line behind a rack of empty taxicabs waiting for customers.

Favorite story at the last dinner of the Gourmets Club concerned the grape-crusher who worked hard at his job twelve hours each day — but felt some measure of compensation when he was able to stretch out at home, put on his shoes — and relax.

Spaghetti Casserole With Dry Milk

Among family supper favorites in many homes are casseroles made with spaghetti, macaroni or egg noodles. Today's starred suggestion for supper is Spaghetti Casserole Supreme which is made with liquefied instant nonfat dry milk.

And speaking of family favorites, instant dry milk is finding its way into an increasing number of homes throughout country. It is so versatile for it can liquefied instantly and used as milk for drinking, cooking and baking. Instant nonfat dry milk mixes immediately, even in ice water. Also it can be used in the powder form, and it will even whip.

Spaghetti Casserole Supreme
(Makes 8 to 10 servings)

2 tablespoons butter
1 medium-size onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1½ cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
2 to 3 drops hot sauce
1 (8-oz.) package processed cheese, shredded
1 (8-oz.) package thin spaghetti, cooked and drained

Melt butter in small skillet; add onions and garlic and sauce until onions are lightly browned and tender. Combine eggs, liquefied instant nonfat dry milk, and seasonings. Stir in onion mixture. Combine cheese and spaghetti in a 2-quart casserole. Pour mixture over spaghetti; mix lightly. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) about 40 minutes or until a sharp knife, inserted in center, comes out clean.

Meal-In-One Menu Stars Lamb Chops

The whole meal . . . from broiler to table and it takes just minutes. The secret . . . easy. Cooked rice and tomato soup are mixed together and placed in the bottom of a broiler pan. Canned green beans are placed around the edges. Lamb shoulder chops are placed on the broiler rack and presto . . . the whole meal is done in 12 minutes cooking time.

Lamb shoulder chops, considered economy cuts, are used in this recipe but they still contain nutrients found in the more demaned loin and rib lamb chops.

Broiled Lamb Shoulder Chops with Vegetables

6 lamb shoulder chops, cut 1 inch thick
2 tablespoons grated onion
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
2 cups cooked rice
1 can condensed tomato soup
Salt
Pepper
1 can (16 ounces) green beans

Brown the onion in lard or drippings. Add rice, tomato soup and seasonings. Pour rice mixture into the broiler pan. Arrange drained green beans around the edge. Place chops on broiler rack over rice and vegetables. Place pan in broiler so the top surface of the chops is 2 inches from the heat. When one side is brown, season and turn and finish cooking on the second side. Chops will require 10 to 12 minutes total cooking time. Yield: 6 servings.

French Influence in This Cheese-Onion Pie

The idea for this dish came from the famous French dish, "Quiche Lorraine." Serve it for lunch or with bacon slices for a dinner main dish. Here, a subtle, curry-flavored sharp cheese and custard mixture is baked in a crumb crust.

A layer of tender cooked onion rings is spread over the crust. Then comes the quickly made filling. For this filling, cooked rice, grated sharp cheese, eggs and milk are mixed and poured in the crust.

INGREDIENTS:

1 1/3 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
2/3 cup uncooked white rice
¼ teaspoon curry powder
½ cup melted butter or margarine
1½ cups cracker crumbs
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups thinly sliced onions (halve large slices)
1 cup milk
2 eggs, beaten
1½ cups grated sharp cheese
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon curry powder
⅛ teaspoon black pepper

METHOD: Put the water, 1 teaspoon salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down low. Cover and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat and leave the lid on until ready to use, at least 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks add ¼ teaspoon curry powder to the ½ cup melted butter. Pour over and through the cracker crumbs. (Crumbs are easily made by rolling crackers between layers of waxed paper or putting through a fine bladed food chopper.) Press the crumbs over the bottom and sides of a greased deep 10" round pie plate holding about 6 cups.

Melt the 3 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add the onions and cook slowly until tender and slightly yellow. Spread over the bottom of the pie plate.

After the rice cooks, stir in the milk, eggs, cheese, 1 teaspoon salt, curry powder and black pepper. Pour over the onions.

Bake in a pre-heated 325°F. oven for 45 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. It is important that the oven is at 325°F. and not too hot.

Mincemeat Bread Stuffing

1 quart soft ½-inch bread cubes
¾ cup mincement
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash, pepper
¼ cup melted butter

Toast bread cubes until slightly crisp. Add mincement, salt, pepper, and melted butter. Toss lightly with two forks until well-blended. Use to stuff chicken or turkey.

Yield: 1 quart Mincement Bread Stuffing

Cold Prevention

This is the season when preparedness against colds pays off. A good idea is to keep on hand a kit of cold remedies for use whenever there is the first sign of a sniffle in the family. Such a kit should contain chest and nasal ointments, those packaged tubes being easy to use and retaining their strength for a long time. There should also be in the kit anti-cold tablets and a nasal spray.

For Sweet Breath

A miniature kit containing a small tube of toothpaste and a brush with fold-up handle all neatly boxed to fit into a handbag or a pocket, has just been put on the market. The kit is designed to simplify that all-important brushing after meals to keep the teeth healthy and the breath sweet.

Corned Beef Brisket With Corn Meal Dumplings

Corned beef and dumplings go together as naturally as corned beef and cabbage, but the meat and dumplings combination is more unusual. The piquant flavor of the corned beef is enhanced by the corn meal dumplings which are cooked in the meat stock.

Carefully cooked corned beef makes mighty fine eating no matter what accompanies it. "Carefully cooked" means the corned beef brisket is gently simmered—not boiled—until thoroughly cooked, juicy, and tender.

To cook corned beef brisket, cover it with cold water, add a clove or two of garlic, if you like, and some peppercorns, then heat to boiling. Reduce cooking temperature when the stock comes to a boil, cover, and cook over low heat until meat is tender, allowing about one hour per pound. Test the doneness of the cooked meat by piercing it in several places with a fork to determine its tenderness. When cooked, the meat should be uniformly tender.

Corned beef brisket is cooked in water with garlic and peppercorns until tender and juicy, then served with corn meal dumplings in this homespun-type meal. Accompany the savory pair with a crisp salad of sliced celery, radishes, and lettuce, if you like.

Serve the light and fluffy dumplings with the hot corned beef, but make sure there's enough meat to serve cold the next day for those unsurpassable cold corned beef sandwiches on rye bread. Prepare the recipe as follows:

Corned Beef With Corn Meal Dumplings

3 to 4 pounds corned beef brisket
½ clove garlic
6 peppercorns
1 cup flour
1 cup corn meal
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
3 tablespoons lard
¾ cup milk
1 egg, beaten

Place corned beef in deep kettle and cover with water. Add garlic and peppercorns, heat to boiling, cover and simmer gently until meat is tender, allowing about one hour per pound. Remove meat and place on serving platter. Meanwhile sift flour, corn meal, salt and baking powder; cut in lard as for pie crust. Add milk and egg, mixing only until blended. Dip a tablespoon into the simmering corned beef broth, then dip up a spoonful of batter and slip it off into the broth. Keep broth simmering while adding remained of batter, then cover pan tightly and cook 12 to 15 minutes, without removing cover. Drain dumplings and serve immediately surrounding plattered corned beef. Recipe yields 8 to 10 dumplings, and 6 to 8 servings of meat.

Pennsylvania Bread Stuffing

½ pound (1 cup, firmly packed) ground pork sausage meat
¼ cup pork sausage onion
2 quarts soft ½-inch bread cubes
1 pint coarsely chopped pared cooking apples
½ teaspoon sage
Dash, pepper
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk

Place sausage meat, in a hot skillet. After it starts to brown, add onion and saute until tender and meat is cooked. Combine soft bread cubes, apples, pepper and sage. Add sausage-onion mixture, beaten egg and milk and mix well. Use to stuff chicken or turkey.

Yield: 2 quarts Pennsylvania Bread Stuffing

The penguin is a bird of a paradoxes. Its features resemble scales; it has wings, but does not fly, using these appendages for swimming. On land it walks erect or slides over the ice on its stomach.

Topping For Pies Is Freezer Ready

If you have a freezer, you'll like this trick. Whip cream and freeze it in mounds; store in the freezer. These frozen mounds of cream are wonderful for topping the individually packaged frozen fruit pies you can buy and store. To freeze the whipped cream, just whip it as usual; drop in small mounds on pie plates. When frozen, remove and store mounds in plastic bags or freezer cartons.

For a memorable dessert, heat the individual frozen fruit pies as directed on the package; then place a mound of frozen whipped cream on top of each hot pie. Delicious!

The cultivation of the grape and the making of wine are of remote antiquity, as appears from the frequent mention of this in the Biblical history of Noah and other Scripture characters.

Dinner For Baby-Sitter Is No Chore

When it's your night out, neither you nor the baby-sitter wants to spend a lot of time on the preparation of her dinner. Make it easy on yourself, and easy for her, by providing a luscious frozen chicken pie—from the grocer's freezer.

Ready to cook and eat, each pie is a generous 8-ounce serving of savory chucks of chicken and smooth rich gravy in a tender flaky crust. You might stock you freezer with turkey and beef pies, too. Then, there are three kinds to choose from!

All the baby-sitter needs to do is bake the pie in its pan for about 40 minutes in a (425°F) oven. Out it will come, golden brown and crisp outside, succulent and steaming within. Along with the chicken pie, your teenage helper can have shoe-string potatoes and a pretty molded salad (from what you've prepared for the family's dinner next day). For dessert, regardless of her age, she'll enjoy a piece of "Glamour Girl" Angel Cake. You can make this in jigtime, using a packaged mix. Bake it either in a large tube pan, or in the individual angel cake pans now available.

Provide the baby-sitter with a good dinner like this, and you'll both be happy. There's a luscious frozen chicken pie (from the freezer), shoestring potatoes, Jellied Fall Fruit Salad and "Glamour Girl" Angel Cake (sprinkled with peppermint stick candy).

To make Jellied Fall Fruit Salad: Prepare 1 package lime-flavored gelatin, adding 2 tablespoons vinegar with the cold water; chill until slightly thickened. Fold in ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup coarsely chopped apple, and ½ cup seedless grapes. Pour into 4 or 6 individual molds or a square cake pan; chill until firm.

To make Glamour Girl Cake: Prepare angel food cake from your favorite mix. Fold a few drops of red food coloring and ½ teaspoon peppermint flavoring into the batter. Bake in large tube pan or in individual angel cake pans. Frost with white frosting; sprinkle with crushed peppermint stick candy.

Tea Time Quickies

This is the time of the year when smart homemakers lay in a supply of makings for quick hors d'oeuvres for impromptu gatherings after football games and on Sunday afternoons. There are a number of fish, meat and cheese spreads that can be converted into zesty tidbits in a matter of minutes. Team the spreads with melba toast rounds, crisp crackers and tiny beaten biscuits.

Easy Does It

A mild depilatory introduced by a leading cosmetics house is specially designed for removing fuzz and soft hairs from the face and arms. The depilatory is packaged for easy use in a tube and is said to be so mild that it will not irritate the most sensitive skin.

This Sea Food Javanese, made with Birds Eye pre-cooked sea scallops and chunks of canned pineapple heated on skewers, will get an overwhelming vote of approval.

Sea Food, Javanese Style

1 package quick-frozen sea scallops or fish bites
18 pineapple chunks
2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon sugar
1 cup pineapple juice
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon onion juice
Dash of salt
Dash of pepper
1 package (5-ounce) packaged pre-cooked rice

Preheat oven to 425°F. (hot). Place scallops or fish bites on 6 small or 3 large thin metal skewers, alternating with the pineapple chunks. Place on baking sheet and heat thoroughly until scallops or fish bites are well-browned and crisp—10 to 12 minutes.

Meanwhile, make a paste of cornstarch and sugar with small amount of the pineapple juice. Add remaining pineapple juice gradually, mixing well. Then add mustard, onion juice, salt, and pepper. Cook and stir over medium heat until sauce is smooth and thickened.

Prepare rice according to package directions. Arrange on serving plate. Place skewers on rice, top with sauce. Makes 3 servings.

Turkey Salad Loaf

Especially plentiful at this time are the fryer-roaster sizes—those small turkeys starting at about 4 pounds, ready-to-cook weight. The young, tender-meated birds are just right for the small family, so handy for apartment-size ovens. And they also make a wonderful treat for outdoor barbecues.

Consider, too, the advantages of the larger bird. Just one session in the kitchen yields enough meat for several menus. Planned leftovers can be used in many interesting ways for days afterward.

Here's a no-cook Turkey Salad Loaf, suggested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It's a beautiful-looking dish, makes wonderful eating on the patio or in the dining room:

Mix together ¼ cup vinegar; ⅓ cup salad oil; ¼ teaspoon salt; pepper; paprika. Pour over 3 cups chopped cooked turkey. Allow to stand 1 to 2 hours, turning occasionally.

Sprinkle 2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin on ½ cup cold water, and soak a few minutes. Dissolve soaked gelatin in 2½ cups hot clear turkey broth. Add ½ teaspoon salt, and cool until slightly thickened.

On the bottom of a salad mold make a design with slices of 2 hard cooked eggs; ½ cup cooked or canned peas; 6 stuffed olives, sliced. Cover with a thin layer of thickened broth. Chill until firm.

Mix 1 teaspoon onion juice, ½ cup finely chopped clery, and drained turkey with rest of thickened broth. Carefully pour this mixture into the mold and chill until firm. Unmold to serve, garnish with escarole and radishes. Makes 6 servings.

A Long Loaf Cake Is Party Perfect

"If I knew you were coming, I'd bake a long loaf cake." That's the song you'll be singing when you bake this Walnut Surprise cake in a long loaf cake pan. Your cake will stay fresher because cutting exposes only one surface instead of the usual two.

Recently introduced by a well known manufacturer, the new long loaf aluminum pan is designed to take popular cake mixes as well as the standard 13-egg angel cake receipe.

You'll find the "long loafer" easy to handle and useful for frozen desserts, meat loaf and good-sized gelatin molds, too. For the cake and frosting, here are the recipes you will want to use.

WALNUT SURPRISE LOAF

1 package Angel Food Cake Mix
⅓ cup finely chopped English walnuts
3 tablespoons cocoa

Mix Angel Food Cake according to directions on the package. Pour ⅓ of the batter into another bowl. To this batter, add the 3 tablespoons of cocoa and fold in until completely blended. To the remaining batter, in the original bowl, fold in the ⅓ cup nuts, until completely mixed together. Use a long loaf pan, 15½ x 4½ x 4½", to bake the angel loaf in. Pour enough of the white batter into the pan to cover the bottom. Pour chocolate batter along one side of the pan lengthwise, to form a narrow strip about ⅓ the width of the pan. Pour second strip of white through the center of the pan, and then, using the chocolate, pour a third strip to fill in the remaining space. Finish filling the pan with the white batter that is left, covering the entire surface with white.

Using a spatula, cut through your batter to remove any large air bubbles, and make sure that your batter is leveled and into the corners of the pan. Bake at 425 degrees for 33 to 35 minutes.

Butter Frosting

2 egg yolks
½ cup powdered sugar
¾ cup milk
½ cup butter
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg yolks, add sugar and milk. Cook over hot water until it coats spoon. Cream butter and add vanilla. Add cooled custard to butter and blend well. Spread on top of cake. Place in refrigerator until ready to serve.

Chocolate Glaze

4 squares semi-sweet chocolate
1 tablespoon butter
3 tablespoons milk
¼ cup powdered sugar

Melt chocolate and butter over hot water. Add milk and powdered sugar and blend. Pour glaze over top of cake and serve.

Red Contrast For Fall Fashions

You'll rely on your lipstick more than you ever have before to highlight all of the subtle tones in your new Fall fabrics.

Max Factor Jr., Hollywood's famous beauty authority, points out that fashion's subtle new Fall tones are basically background colors. They demand contrast somewhere along the line to bring out their warm beauty and highlight their inherent richness and sumptuousness.

Inspired by the demands of fashion's new wardrobe shades, Max Factor has created a brilliant red lipstick especially designed to achieve this necessary contrast tone and provide a single bold stroke of color for all of Autumn's new ready-to-wear collections.

This vivid and vibrant new red lipstick has been appropriately named Red Contrast because it provides the perfect bold stroke of color contrast to all the dulled-down greens, smoky taupes, off-beat blues, winey reds, and quiet browns which are so popular in the new full length Autumn evening gowns, instep-length dresses, short jacketed suits, and barrel-shaped full skirts, all with softened Empire lines.

In creating Red Contrast, Max Factor kept the actual fabric colors in mind with the result that this vivid red lipstick highlights everything that is new in fashion's subtle Fall picture.

Red Contrast was created in his entirely new Hi-Fi Lipstick formula which makes possible such intense high fidelity color. Its creamy texture makes it wonderfully smooth and gives it a fresh, moist natural feeling on the lips. It sets instantly and stays on for 24 hours, or longer, without ever drying the lips.

Spicy Apple Cream Pie

(Makes inch pie)

1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell

Apple Filling:
- ½ cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups sliced cooking apples

Cream Filling:
- 3 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- 5 tablespoons cornstarch
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract

Combine sugar, cornstarch, spices and salt. Add apples; stir until apples are coated with mixture. Turn mixture into pastry shell. Bake in a hot oven (400°F.) 30 minutes or until apples are tender and crust is browned. Cool.

Combine liquefied instant nonfat dry milk, sugar, cornstarch, salt and nutmeg in top of double boiler; stir until well blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, about 8 to 10 minutes. Cover. Cook 25 minutes. Combine egg and vanilla. Gradually stir a little of the hot mixture into the egg. Blend egg mixture into remaining hot mixture. Pour over apples. Chill in refrigerator until cream filling is firm, about 1½ to 2 hours. If desired, garnish with apple slices.

Fry Chicken In Flavored Flour

Have you ever added a bit of curry powder or paprika to the flour in which you dust chicken for frying? It lends color and flavor to the final results. Just add about ½ teaspoon of either to 1 cup flour plus 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Thaw 2 packages (1-pound size) of frozen chicken thighs, breasts, drumsticks, or wings as directed on the package; drain well. Roll chicken in flour and fry as usual (follow directions on the package). Makes 4 to 6 servings.

California Bread Stuffing

- 1½ quarts toasted ½-inch bread cubes
- 1 cup coarsely cut dried prunes
- ½ cup chopped dried apricots
- ¼ cup brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup melted butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 cup water

Combine toasted bread cubes, prunes, apricots, brown sugar and salt. Add melted butter, lemon juice and water; mix well. Use to stuff duck or pork.

Yield: 1½ quarts California Bread Stuffing.

New England Bread Stuffing

- ¾ cup chopped onion
- ½ cup or 1 (7-ounce) can drained, minced clams
- ½ cup melted butter or margarine
- 3 quarts soft ½-inch bread cubes
- ⅓ cup chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sage
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup lemon juice

Saute onion and drained clams in melted butter until tender. Combine soft bread cubes, parsley, salt, sage and pepper. Add clam-butter mixture and lemon juice to bread cube mixture and mix well. Use to stuff fish or poultry.

Yield: 10 servings New England Bread Stuffing.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8 (INS)—Perseverance on John Carroll's part is responsible for his getting Ethel Barrymore in his first independent picture, "Rebel on the Fourth Floor," based on a story by Ben Ames Williams.

John said today that he has five million dollars in Texas money back of his clarion enterprises and he is going to try to bring showmanship back to the movie business. Well, he's going about it in the right way in getting Ethel.

He asked me how I liked the title "Johnny Trouble," and I told him I liked it better than "Rebel on the Fourth Floor" because we've had so many "rebel" pictures.

Everybody is glad that Ethel's career is so reactivated. This is the second picture she's signed for in ten days.

The bride-to-be, Virginia McKenna, also English and an actress, follows him to this country within 10 days. The lovebirds recently completed "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" with Jennifer Jones in London. Bill playing the Robert Browning role and Virginia playing Jennifer's sister.

Travers' trip to MGM is to co-star with Eleanor Parker in "The Seventh Vow," the brand new title for "The Painted Veil." Wonder why MGM changed the name of the Somerset Maugham classic?

All you teen-agers who have been protesting so loudly about being portrayed in mo[illegible] as delinquents or as "all mixed up" can give a cheer for Kirk Douglas. For his Bryna company, Kirk has bought "Young Lovers" by Edward Lewis — a tender youthful love story which presents teen-agers as neither hot rod idiots nor as little monsters. Lewis, a top TV writer, will produce for Kirk with Arthur Hiller, director of 30 "Matinee" TV shows, doing the directing chore.

Kirk tells me that the juvenile leads in his picture, a boy and a girl, will be recruited from Broadway plays.

One of my spies reports that Cary Grant and Betsy Drake had been lunching with D. A. Doran, head of Paramount production, so, of course, I tracked down D.A. He said that Paramount was going to release the Alfred Hitchcock picture starring Cary which will be made in May.

Paramount has such confidence in the ability of Hitchcock to make a great picture, and in Cary's boxoffice appeal that the name of the film is not even known yet. But you can bet Hitchy will turn up with a fine thriller-diller, and one that will bring money into the boxoffice.

You needn't be surprised if Jimmy Durante marries Marjorie Little in a matter of months.

Nancy Berg left Hollywood in a huf, heatedly saying she wants no part of motion pictures. Could her reason be because she didn't get the Helen Morgan role?

Friends of Janice Rule are delighted to hear of her marriage to playwright Robert Thom. Janice had a rough time suffering with a severe kidney ailment, but she's well again.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Hungary Revolt Widens Split In Tito's Party

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP FOREIGN NEWS ANALYST

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Nov. 8 (AP) — Hungary's revolution appears to have aggravated a division in the Yugoslav Communist party and caused President Tito to take steps heading off an open party discussion in the near future.

The Yugoslav Politburo, a dozen part men with Tito as secretary general, met this week. It announced plans for the party congress, theoretically the ruling body, to meet in the fall of 1957. Earlier, plans had been made for a meeting this year. The Politburo likely postponed the congress to avoid expressions of opposition to some present party policies.

One group is pointing to "the lessons" of Hungary as a warning to the Yugoslav party.

This group wants more "democracy," though not in the Western sense. It would spread a veneer of democracy over political life while the party retains control.

This would accomplish two things: add respectability to the Yugoslav system in Western eyes, and provide a safety valve against anything like what happened in Hungary. It also might help in maintaining sufficiently good relations to keep Western aid flowing in.

The majority of the party, including Tito, probably sees risks in too much "democratization." The historic turbluence of the Balkans, the fierce independence of the people, the age-old racial, political and religious rivalries might again rise and threaten trouble.

There seems no immediate danger of public manifestations such as took place in Hungary. Yugoslavia's economic situation is improving. But there is some restlessness among younger groups. The Hungarian revolution brought problems in Yugoslav-Soviet relations. Yugoslav Communists were unhappy to see Soviet armed force used in Hungary. But they were caught in the middle. They could not condone the emergence of a non-Communist, or even anti-Communist, regime in Hungary—relegating the party to something like the position of the Communists in England—noisy but ineffective.

Yet the Yugoslav party's independence stand helped bring on the Hungarian events — a fact which can not escape the Kremlin's Stalinist wing. Until the Yugoslav party knows which group will dominate the Kremlin it must mark time.

Third Term Ban May Heighten Partisanship In Congress

By J. M. ROBERTS

Regardless of which party reorganizes the Senate, Washington is in for a far more chaotic situation now than resulted from Democratic capture of Congress in 1954.

The chaos which President Eisenhower had predicted then did not result. The Democrats generally supported administration foreign policy and other important programs, with modifications of their own.

Partisanship was held within reasonable bounds. Party lines were crossed back and forth on many issues. Republicans disagreed with the President on many occasions.

But there was a different political situation.

An extremely popular President was expected to seek a second term. As the Democrats began to prepare two years ago for this year's election, becoming more belligerent as time went on, the Republicans began to close ranks and to hide their disagreements with the President. Things rather balanced up.

There will be no such coalescing force among the Republicans now. With the President barred from a third term, the line of party hopefuls will be forming very soon. Congress will become the showcase for a lot of different political wares. Republicans voting, beginning right away, will be influenced by those seeking to establish records showing presidential availability.

Democrats, on the other hand, will take on new life with the knowledge that they won't have to try to beat Eisenhower in '58.

This means trying to establish a Congressional record which will stand clearly as their own. It means a greater display of partisanship. It means trying to cut the heads off Republican hopefuls as fast as they pop up.

In one way, the situation will provide a test of whether the nation was wise in banning presidential third terms.

Heretofore a President has always been able to preserve a part of his authority by keeping his future plans to himself. Hereafter everybody will know that, as his term shortens, his power is coming to an end.

One thing will obscure the test. President Eisenhower's tremendous popularity may cause some who would oppose him to go slow.

Midland Firemen Build Tank Truck

The 1,600 gallon tank truck added to the Midland Fire Company this past summer is shown above. Built by members of the department it has served a purpose of taking a supply of water to fires in the vicinity of Midland where supplies were limited. Built from a regular truck chassis, an oil fuel tank was utilized with the welding being done by Frank Bluebaugh of Gilmore and Howard Skidmore, Midlothian. Painting was done by Andrew Lasslo, Frostburg, formerly of Midland. Other work was done by members of the department. A capacity of 500 gallons per minute may be pumped from the tank which is equipped with its own pump. Taking 4 months to build at a cost of $3,800, it is valued at over $8,000 by the department. Those on the picture are, Arthur Preston in the cab; Joseph Robertson, Ivan Wilson, John Blair, Harry Davlin, William Kroll, Jack Kilduff and William Spiker, (from left to right.) The truck augments three other vehicles.

Meyersdale Seniors Rehearse Class Play To Be Presented At School Next Week

MEYERSDALE — "The Little Dog Laughed," a three-act comedy, will be presented by the senior class of Meyersdale joint high school, November 15 and 16, under the direction of Miss Anna Bolden.

College sophomore Laurie Huntington (Rosita Gress) thinks she can use her knowledge of psychology to good advantage during her summer vacation by straightening out her family's tangled lives. Her father, Sid Huntington (Don Yoder), is becoming irritable because of a tense business rivalry with Ted "Deadwood" Wood (Clark Walter); while Side's wife Martha (Gail Tuk) is nervous and overworked preparing for a tea to which she has invited several socially - prominent women. Among them is Lola Breckenridge (Donna Miller), wife of the bank president from whom Sid ence. Wally's romance with Joan is finished. Gus the maid (Greta Donges), whose only concern up until now has been trying to trap bird-watcher Horation Honeywell (John Robertson), takes off for college, convinced that she is a genius. To top it all, Laurie administers the Zombrowski Ink Blot Test to the guests at the tea while Martha is out of the room. Amelia Dennis (Mary Esther Lindeman), Caroline Blakesly (Jean Walker), Grace Schoenbeck (Elsie Weimer), Lola Breckenridge (Donna Miller) and Ther- hopes to get a loan for a car dealership.

To further complicate matters, Laurie's brother Wally (Jon Fritz) insists on "going steady" with "Deadwood's" daughter Joan (Judy Musser) whose culture-conscious mother is Ruth Ann Grew. Laurie soon has the entire family taking word association tests, "blood-to-brain-tests," intelligence tests; and even has them strolling around with thermometers in their mouths in order to find their "energy peaks."

Because of Laurie's interferese Brown (Nancy Mazer) leave in a huff, infuriated at discovering their true personalities. Martha is greatly distressed because she fears Lola will have a great influence on whether or not Sid gets the bank loan.

The last straw comes when Wally, after Laurie has left on a date with her current heart-throb Mark Bradford (Phil Woods), accidently discovers her professional notes in which she has "psychologized" all of them, right down to "assets" and "liabilities"! They conspire to get even with her, and when she returns at one-thirty a.m. they put on a show, characterizing the traits Laurie has attributed to them. The "Grand finale" 'of their show is the "Purge Polka."

Mark leaves hurriedly, soon followed by Laurie, who claims she'll "never set foot in the house again." Wally takes matters into his own hands and manages to straighten out the whole mess, including his own and Laurie's love life. Here is a different story set against an entirely different background. It has met with much success wherever it has been performed and promises to be an evening of hilarious entertainment for actors and audience alike.

Between acts, musical numbers will be furnished under the direction of Mr. Chester Miller and Mr. Robert Jones.

Vocals Highlight Valley Junior High Assembly

LONACONING — "The Lord's Prayer" and "Thanksgiving Prayer" were sung impressively by the Ninth Grade chorus at a junior high assembly program on Thursday morning at Valley High school.

Choral readings beautifully presented were Thanksgiving Day," "For All These," "Origin of Thanksgiving," "God Bless This House," "Their First Harvest" and "Prayer."

"Thanksgiving Song" was a duet by Bonnie Miller and Janet Poland. A play, "Butterfingers" was enacted by Jeanne Cutter, Marion Steidings, Gilberta Symons, Roberta Love and Mary M. Smith.

The program was presented by members of the Junior High Tri-Hi-Y under the direction of Ed Andrews, student teacher, Mrs. Constance Kurtz and Mrs. Sarah G. Wilson.

Virginia Clise gave the opening exercises. The readings were given by Louise Johnson, Georgianna Langham, Florence Buckholtz, Linda Poland, Pat McPartland, Kay Trost, Brenda Brakeall, Sandy Wilson, Rusty Dicken, Donna Sloan, Harriet Haran, Violet Howell, Peggy Russell, Sandra Jenkins and Mary C. McGregor.

State Council Homemakers Elect Officers

COLLEGE PARK — Mrs. Harvey Hill, Woodbine, Howard county, was elected president of the Maryland State Council of Homemakers' Clubs during their annual meeting at College Park October 30—31. Mrs. Robert C. Black, Fullerton, Baltimore County, was named treasurer.

The new president-elect and treasurer-elect, who assume their two-year terms in January, succeed Mrs. William F. Robie, Forest Heights (1954-56 president), and Mrs. John Altvater, Trappe (1954-56 treasurer). Continuing the final year of their two-year terms are Mrs. Paul Hayward, Leonardtown, St. Marys county, vice - president; and Mrs. Allen Baker, Garrett County, secretary.

Reports during the session were given by special committees, state directors, and standing committee chairmen. Recognition was given Mrs. Dorothy K. Lassetter, Frederick homemaker, who wrote "Song of the Homemakers," third-place winner in the National Home Demonstration Council song contest.

Grantsville Church Plans Layman's Day

GRANTSVILLE—Rev. H. Edgar Suite, pastor of Grantsville Methodist Church, announces that Layman's Day will be observed in his church Sunday. Reford Aldridge, Frostburg, will speak at these services.

Walter Swartzwelder, president of the Methodist Men, is in charge of plans for the occasion, which includes an open house from 2 to 5 p. m. at the church. During this time, the "Mile of Dollar Bills" campaign will be officially closed and results of the drive will be announced.

Bedford-Fulton TB Society Schedules Annual Meeting

Elect Directors On November 15

BEDFORD — The annual meeting of the Bedford-Fulton Tuberculosis and Health Society will feature a discussion by former TB patients and public health workers on the subject "TB Patients Are People-People With Problems." The meeting will be held in Trinity Lutheran Church, in Bedford, on Thursday, November 15, at 8 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Clayton Hoover, of Fishertown, chairman of the annual meeting committee, in discussing the program, said, "All of us face problems in our daily living, but when an individual is told that he has tuberculosis, he faces a number of problems which are quite different from those which confront the average person. The nature of the disease is such that treatment, even with the use of the new drugs, require months and even years. During this period of time, the victim is usually isolated from his family and friends. When TB strikes a mother or father of young children, the problems must seem insurmountable. It is our hope that, by having people who have actually faced these problems meet with workers in the field of public health, we may be able to provide service to the unfortunate victims of TB."

The annual meeting of the Bedford-Fulton TB and Health Society is open to the public. All contributors to the annual Christmas Seal Sale are members of this organization, and are invited to attend and to participate in the business of the meeting. The business session will be brief. The main item of business is the election of directors of the organization. Mr. R. Winfield Smith, executive director of the Pennsylvania TB and Health Society will be present to represent that organization.

The Marines will be landed by surface craft and helicopters from ships of the Atlantic Fleet.

Keyser Guard Has Vacancies For Specialists

KEYSER — Keyser National Guard has announced that six key positions exist in the battery which can be filled by qualified veterans who may complete the remainder of their military obligation in the active reserve.

The positions which can be filled by prior service personnel consist of communications chief, sergeant, motor officer first lieutenant, executive officer first lieutenant, gunner sergeant, motor maintenance sergeant, mass steward (Sfc), wireman (specialist 3-c), vehicle mechanic (specialist 3-c) and other minor positions as cooks, drivers, radio operators and ammo specialists.

Any veteran can enter the National Guard with the rank that he formerly held, provided that vacancies exist in that rank.

Capt. Henry E. Wilt announced that the unit has set a goal to be reached for the number of recruits to be enlisted in the National Guard aside from the key cadre vacancies which exist.

Wilt, commanding officer of Battery C, 201st Armored Field Artillery Battalion, said that he hoped to surpass the unit's past records and fill to full authorized strength of 101. The local Guard achieved this in 1949 after the battery was alloted to Keyser.

Class Gives For Kitchen Remodeling

BARTON — The Friendly Helpers Bible class held its monthly meeting at the Methodist Church Monday evening with Mrs. Clarence Suder, president, presiding. Twenty-one members were present.

Mrs. Elsie Mowbray led devotions and the patch work apron sent to each member for a donation for the class was opened. A total of $22 was derived from this project.

A soup and pie sale is planned for Wednesday in the church basement. The WSCS will also participate in this endeavor and money accumulated will go into the kitchen fund. Mrs. May advised the group that a total of $335 was made from the recent church supper. This amount will also go towards the renovation of the kitchen.

The annual dinner of the class will be held today in the church assembly room at 6 p. m. Rev. Ellwood Carey of the Presbyterian Church will speak.

Attending the meeting were Evelyn Suder, Mildred Porter, Leona Houdersheldt, Elsie Mowbray, Kathleen Loughlin, Alice Banard, May Smith, Norma Metz, Vera Metz, Nellie Dye, Mildred Martin, Evelyn Michael, Peggy Mowbray, Mary Denkier, Ella Lee Green, Annie Metz, Elizabeth Russell, Elizabeth Yates, Verda L. Andrews, Mary MacDonald and Ruby Gattens.

Next month's meeting and Christmas party will be held at the home of Ruth Shuhart with Mary Penman as co-sponsor. The date will be the regular meeting on the first Monday of the month. Each member will take a gift to exchange with another membe .

Frostburg Police Ordered To Enforce Parking Laws

FROSTBURG — Ordinance 473 of the City of Frostburg provides that no vehicles shall be parked between the hours of 2 and 6 a. m. on certain heavily travelled streets between November 1 and April 1. This ordinance was passed and became a law on December 15, 1952 by a former administration, and has not been energetically enforced.

The ordinance was discussed at a recent meeting of the Mayor and City Commissioners and according to Commissioner of Police Franklin Martens, it is apparent that a number of citizens are not aware of its existence.

The ordinance provides in part that between the first day of November and the first day of April each year, in order to facilitate the removal of snow on several heavily travelled streets, it shall be unlawful for any motor vehicle to park between the hours of 2 and 6 a. m. on Main Street between Grant Street and the westerly limits of the city and on Water Street between First Street and College Avenue or on Broadway between Main Street and College Avenue.

Persons guilty of violating this ordinance are liable for a fine of not less than $10 and not more than $50 for each offense. It also provides that such vehicle, illegally parked, will be removed by the department of streets, and the owner will be required to pay charges for the removal and storage in order to regain possession of the vehicle.

According to Commissioner Martens, the reason for this drastic action is to eliminate overnight parking of vehicles and the practice of using the streets for a garage during the winter months. This practice costs the Department of Streets a lot of money each winter, as it is often necessary to go over the same streets several times in order to completely remove the snow from around the parked vehicles.

Martens said the police force has been instructed to see that the ordinance is enforced in the coming weeks, and he asks the cooperation of the citizens in carrying out this project.

There are more than 20 times as many murders committed in the United States as in Great Britain.

4 US Airmen Being Tried For Rape Of Young German Girl

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 8 (AP)—Four American airmen went on trial before a 12th Air Force general court-martial at Neubiberg Airbase today on charges of raping a 14-year-old German girl.

The four white airmen, who pleaded innocent, are A.1.C. Richard W. Eastman, 22, of Binghamton, N.Y., A.2.C. Edward W. Nanin, 19, of Ellicott City, Md., A.2.C. Hughe D. Williams, 19, Chartage, Tex., and A.1.C. Dewey C. Reagan, 22, Lenox, Tenn.

The prosecution alleges the four conspired to rape a girl after they had been drinking beer at an inn near Waldperlach about 10 miles south of here. The prosecution contends that when 14-year-old Ingrid Waldbrunn passed them on a bicycle on her way back from baby sitting with an American family the four stopped her and forced her into the woods.

According to the charge, Miss Waldbrunn was beaten several times and then raped by Reagan while the three others held her.

Top-Ranking 4-H Boy, Girl Are Selected

Mineral County Lists Winners

KEYSER — Jane Bane of Burlington and Harold Wimer, Keyser, were identified as the outstanding 4-H girl and boy of 1956 in Mineral County at the recent annual Achievement Day program held in Fort Ashby High School.

A feature of the program was a talk on project achievement by Foster Mullenax, assistant editor of Agricultural Extension Service, Morgantown.

A skit depicting the past year's activities in Mineral County 4-H club work, written by Wayne Adams of the Gate 4-H Club, was presented by Carol Adams, Wayne Adams, Thomas Amtower, Ronald Staggs, Betty Sutton, Sharon Harman and William Harman. A musical program was offered by Priscilla Amtower of the Gate club.

The general theme for the program was "Batter Up" with J. W. Wimer, county farm agent, acting as toastmaster and the group singing led by Mrs. Edith Amtower, Keyser.

Foley awards were presented to Patricia Flint of New Creek and Rona Jean Hinkle, Wiley Ford, for achieving the highest scores in the county on a 4-H food project.

Ten-year leadership certificates were awarded to Mrs. John Bane, Klover Klub, Burlington; Mrs. E. G. Vandiver, Rise and Shine club, Burlington and Mrs. Maurice Amtower, Gate club, RD 2, Keyser.

Girls' projects completed numbered 117 while 118 boys' projects were completed in 1956. The total 4-H enrollment in Mineral County is 298 boys and girls.

A dinner was prepared and served by the Reese's Mill Farm Women's Club. The hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion by the Wise Owl's Club of Short Gap.

Cove FFA Rated Among Top 50 Chapters In United States

Garrett Unit Named Best In Maryland

ACCIDENT — The Cove FFA chapter was awarded a silver emblem plaque at the National FFA convention held at Kansas City last month.

The award was presented to Edward Rush, vice president, and Roy Rexrode, secretary, who represented the Cove chapter from Northern High School. The award is emblematic of work done in the FFA chapter and Agriculture Department for their efforts in the following:

Supervised farming or project program; cooperative activities; community service; leadership activities; earnings and savings; conduct of meetings; scholarship and recreation.

The general plan for awards by the national organization is: Standard chapter award, superior chapter award, national bronze emblem award, national silver emblem award and national gold emblem award.

This silver emblem rating places the Northern High Cove FFA chapter in the top 50 among the 8,498 chapters in the United States. The Cove rating was the highest in Maryland. North Harford, with a bronze rating, was the only other Maryland chapter honored.

The contest period covered was from July 1, 1955 to June 30, 1956. The chapter officers during this time were: Vice president—Forrest Jacobs; president—Max Bowser; secretary—Alva Rexrode; treasurer—Eugene Brenneman; reporters—Richard Lohr and Donald Glover; sentinels — Gary Frantz and James Bowman; advisors—Marvin Callis and Lawrence Faith.

Political Shakeup Expected In W.Va. Under Underwood

Democrats Will End 24 Years State Control In January

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 8 (AP)—How drastic will be the Statehouse personnel shakeup when Republican Cecil Underwood becomes governor? And how long will a changeover to new faces in many agencies require?

You could get numerous and varied opinions on those questions today. Underwood will shape the eventual answer, but he obviously hasn't worked out his future plans to that extent.

The GOP administration taking over in January will be the state's first in 24 years. Democrats, however, still will occupy five of the other six elective state offices, and will control the 1957 Legislature. Moreover, all five State Supreme Court judges are Democrats.

Veteran statehouse workers who came in with the Democrats in 1933 recalled today that in some instances personnel changes directly connected with the 1932 political upheaval continued for up to two years.

Particularly in instances of technical and engineering positions, Republicans were around still longer. There still is one Public Service Commission engineer who dates back to the last GOP administration.

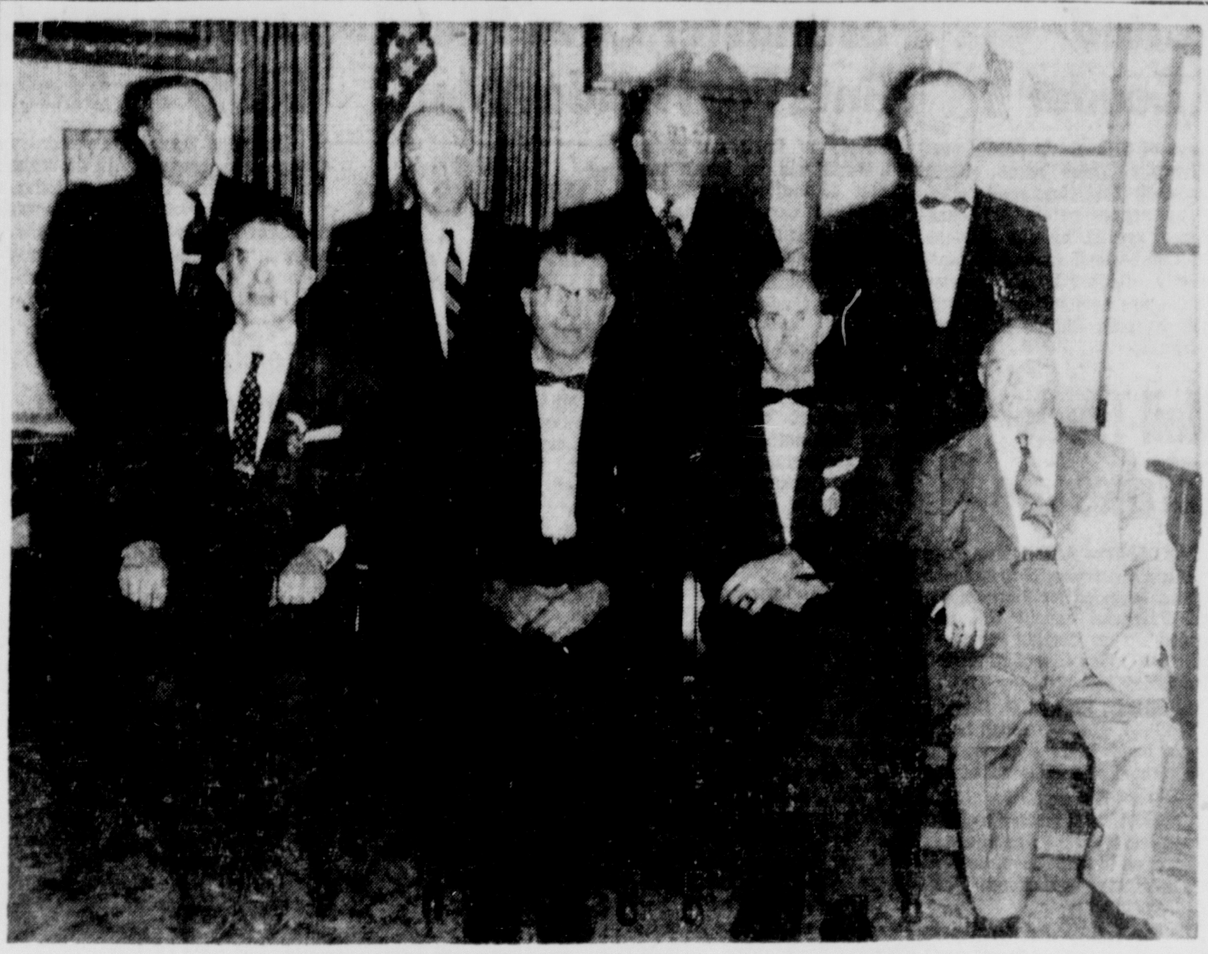

Capitol employes saw these angles, among others, in the current picture:

1. Numerous appointive department heads can expect to be replaced almost immediately, but new officials will have to rely heavily upon the experience and know-how of the rank-and-file employes for some time.

2. Outside of the general clerical and relatively minor jobs, the Republicans might have trouble finding replacements. State salaries are comparatively low in many instances, and tenure is, of course, is uncertain.

3. About 1,570 employes in five departments are covered by the State Merit System, and thus are not subject to political displacement.

Generally speaking, there are between 14,000 and 15,000 state government employes, including faculties and staffs at state colleges and West Virginia University, and employes at other institutions.

Pictured at the Grand Visitation of Knights of Pythia to a joint meeting of Anchor Lodge of Midland and Rising Sun Lodge No. 86, of Lonaconing, at Lonaconing Pythian building on Wednesday evening are, (left to right, seated) Julius Schindler, grand secretary, of Cumberland; Louis J. Barnes, grand chancellor, of Gaithersburg; Walter McKee, grand prelate, of Cumberland; Thomas Taylor, member of the board of directors, of Midland. Standing, are B. Z. Harding, past grand chancellor, of Gaithersburg; William Waters, grand master at arms, Rockville; John Schramm, district deputy grand chancellor of District No. 1, who is also chancellor commander of Rising Sun Lodge No. 86; and James W. Jackson, grand inner guard, of Annapolis. Members from both the Lonaconing and Midland lodges took part in the program. It was planned that the class initiation, named the Edward Ackers membership class, for the entire state will be held in Frederick on November 29. The Pythian Sisters will be holding an initiation class on November 29 also at Frederick. The meeting concluded with refreshments being served.

Westernport Council Airs Proposal For New Streets

Housing Project, Luke Expansion Studied

PIEDMONT — Dr. James H. Wolverton Jr., who is planning the building promotion of several houses on Erin Street, conferred with Mayor Rodney Baker and Council Monday evening.

With the coming expansion of the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, more houses will be needed to care for increased employment which has been estimated to be about 400 people when the program is completed, and about 1,000 persons while the expansion is in progress.

Dr. Wolverton proposed that the city open up a new street in the east end between East Hampshire Street and Erin, which would be known as Woodlawn Avenue. He would contribute a certain amount of ground and pay for bulldozing so a 20-foot street could be made. The cost of bulldozing would be $300.

By adding this street to the town, about six or seven homes could be constructed. Now, only about two could be built.

The Mayor and Council will meet with Dr. Wolverton Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at the proposed site to make a survey of the area before a decision will be made.

The Westernport and Luke Lions Club was granted permission to use the swimming pool grounds for the use of selling Christmas trees. This action followed a letter read from the club, thanking council for use of the swimming pool premises last year and asking permission for its use again this year. Money derived from the sale of the trees is used for eye glasses for needy children.

A letter from the Duncan Parking Meter Company of Chicago was read, advising that 22 meters purchased by the town were shipped November 1. When the meters arrive they will be placed in the municipal parking lot on Ashfield Street, and the present ones in the lot will be placed on Ashfield Street.

Willard Johnson asked permission to run a six-inch pipe over the curb to his garage on Erin Street. Town officials will inspect it and try to work out a satisfactory solution.

Mayor Baker stated that residents on Water Street, complained of the street being dark, especially the area near Waldon Methodist Church. A discussion followed about better street lighting and it was suggested that Wilbur Cathers, manager of the local office of the Potomac Edison Company, be consulted.

The mayor called attention to some cars speeding on East Hampshire Street. It was authorized that two shirts be purchased for each police officer.

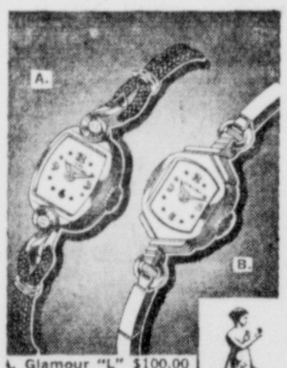

Council ordered that a letter be written to Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company officials relative to gates being down on Child's Avenue crossing longer than neecssary.

Area Postal Service Decline Cited By National Transportation Leader

"Postal service in the vicinity of Cumberland is being allowed to decline dangerously, Paul Nagle, president of the National Postal Transport Association, declared in Washington yesterday. Nagle said that to all intents and purposes the postal value of the new Baltimore and Ohio Railroad "Speedliners" is being lost completely.

When the "Speedliners" were substituted for the conventional railroad equipment formerly operated on the B & O between Washington and Pittsburgh in Trains 21 and 22, the Railway Post Office car formerly operating on that train was reassigned so as no longer to be of any use to postal patrons in this area, Nagle stated.

Nagle charged that the Post Office Department has thwarted any attempts to place Railway Post Office service on the new "Speedliner."

"Even worse," he said, "was the Post Office Department's failure to provide alternate service for that withdrawn."

The National Postal Transport Association represents the postal employees who distribute mail in the Railway Post Office cars on the nation's railroads. The association advocated that the car formerly operated on the train —replaced by the "Speedliners" should be placed in Trains 9 and 32.

"The failure of the Post Office Department to make the change has caused a 24-hour delay in the delivery of some mail to residents of this area," Nagle declared.

Nagle said that the failure of the Post Office Department to assign the Railway Post Office car to the afternoon train has resulted in the destruction of a sound postal connection from the north and south at Washington. It has also failed to use a connection over the Pennsylvania Railroad from central Pennsylvanian and the lake district of middle and western New York state, Nagle explained. Similar lack of use is charged on a connection at Washington for the afternoon train from Miami, Fla., and Atlanta, Ga. In the eastbound direction, failure of the Post Office Department to make use of available train service results in a situation where mail originating in the Cumberland area now reaches Washington at 6:30 a. m. Nagle said that had his suggestion been accepted, such mail would have been available for morning delivery in points as far away as New York City.

Nagle said present service is "both slow and erratic." He added that the citizens of this community "deserve better attention from their Post Office Department."

Nagle declared that patrons served by Star Routes between Cumberland and Altoona, suffer delays of 48 hours in parcel post delivery. These same offices have their first class mail delayed by approximately 18 hours. Offices served by the Altoona and Cumberland route and most directly affected by the service change are such places as Bedford, Everett, Buffalo Mills and Hyndman.

Ridgeley Residents Form Riding Academy

A new riding academy has been formed in the Ridgeley area for residents of this area who are interested.

The academy has been organized by E. P. Wilson, 114 Weber Street, and is located at the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club. There are eight stalls at the academy, and Wilson said he has five horses which may be hired for rides. Patrons can ride a trail from Woodland Inn, Frankfort Road, to the old Pattersons Creek Road, he explained.

Wilson will also give instructions to beginners, and reservations and added information can be obtained by contacting him at PA 2-0942 between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. daily.

The only other academy in this area is located in Bedford, Pa., Wilson pointed out, all others having been closed.

Car Accident Suit Is Docketed Here

Suit was docketed in Circuit Court yesterday by a Baltimore firm and the Travelers Insurance Company against Glenn Ellsworth Knight, RD 6, city, for $1,000 damages as the result of an auto accident.

The declaration, filed by Walter C. Capper and Thomas N. Berry, attorneys for the Joseph M. Zamoiski Company of Baltimore and the insurance company, stated that on April 17 a ranch wagon owned by the Zamoiski firm was struck by a car operated by Knight.

The accident occurred on Greene Street when the car driven by Knight allegedly crossed in front of the Zamoiski vehicle. Besides the actual damages to the ranch wagon, the firm is also asking for damages in the loss of the use of the vehicle.

Mail Truck Catches Fire

OAKLAND — A U. S. star route mail truck carrying 75 to 80 sacks of mail intended for Morgantown and Fairmont caught fire and burned up on Caddell mountain about two miles east of Kingwood Wednesday afternoon.

The driver, Rolland G. Schoch, of Oakland, Md., sustained badly burned hands in the accident, and was treated and released at the Oakland hospital.

A post office inspector took all scraps left from the fire and was working on identification, according to Harry C. Louden, Fairmont postmaster.

The mail consisted mostly of parcel post packages, newspapers and circulars, Louden said. There was very little first class mail, he added.

The fire was first noticed by the driver of a gasoline truck which was passing by. The mail truck driver stopped his vehicle and made an unsuccessful attempt to extinguish the blaze.

Wiley Ford Youth In College Play

BRIDGEWATER, Va. — Darl Hinkle, son of Mrs. Flossie Hinkle, Wiley Ford, W. Va., will play the role of Marvin Pritchard, a young stuffed shirt about 27 years old, in "Mr. Barry's Etchings," a comedy to be presented at Bridgewater College by the Drama Department.

Postmaster Cites Postal Hints For Holiday Mail

Delivery of Christmas parcels and cards will be made much quicker if individuals take advantage of various postal services, according to Thomas F. Conlon, postmaster.

These services mentioned by Postmaster Conlon include:

This year, for the first time, sealed parcels may be mailed at the third or fourth-class postage rates without labels, notations, endorsements, or hieroglyphics of any kind authorizing the opening of the parcels for postal inspection. Packages sealed with modern sealing materials or even with just plain Christmas seals should carry better in the mail than unsealed ones. Strong cord should also be used

Combination mail, which was used for the first time during last Christmas season, and which permits a mailer to enclose a letter or message inside a gift parcel and pay the appropriate postage on it plus the postage for the package itself

Certified mail, also used for the first time in the 1955 season, which permits mailers to have proof of delivery of Christmas letters, cards or parcels having no intrinsic value for a postal fee of 15 cents plus first-class postage.

Registered mail which provides greater security protection to letters and parcels carrying items of real financial value.

Special delivery mail which is given immediate delivery at the office of address during prescribed hours.

Airmail and air parcel post which provides quick delivery of cards and parcels to all sections of the country.

The free postal pamphlets—available at all post offices—are entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing" and "Domestic Postage Rates and Fees." Used together, these pamphlets should answer practically all questions any Christmas mailer may have on fees, rates, special services and protection of Christmas parcels in transit.

The postmaster emphasized the importance of separating local and out-of-town mail. Free labels for that purpose are available at the post office.

Two Girls Are Hurt In Crash Near Ellerslie

Two Cumberland girls were injured yesterday when their car careened from the highway, struck a telephone pole and overturned.

They are Sandra Sibley, 16, of RD 4, the driver of the machine, and Rosemary Green, 18, also of RD 4, Oldtown Road. Miss Sibley was reported as suffering from secondary shock, scalp lacerations and was complaining about pain in her back. Miss Green suffered abrasions and contusions of the body and ar ankle injury. She was treated and released.

Both girls were taken to Memorial Hospital in the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company ambulance. William Clauson and Harry Walters manned the ambulance. Miss Sibley was admitted to the hospital.

According to the firemen the girls were headed south on the highway between Ellerslie and Hyndman when the crash occurred, about a half mile inside the Pennsylvania state line.

It was reported the driver was attempting to pass a truck and struck a pole on the right side of the highway. The pole was snapped at the base and about halfway up. Wires were strewn across the roadway and police flagged down traffic until the lines could be removed.

The Sibley girl was thrown clear of the overturned car, according to reports while Miss Green was standing nearby shortly after the accident. The Corriganville firemen said the car in which the girls were riding was badly damaged in the crash.

Sandra Sibley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sibley, Oldtown Road, while Miss Green is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Green, Oldtown Road.

LaVale Methodist Plans Bazar

LaVale Methodist Church will hold its annual bazar Thursday, December 6, beginning at 10 a. m., according to Mrs. John W. Barmoy. Plans call for a team room where lunch, coffee, pie and cake will be served in the afternoon.

Booths, Mrs. Barmoy said, will feature novelties, aprons, toys, Christmas decorations, needlework, homemade candy and delicatessen items.

Democratic Leader Here Notes Party Unity In State In National Election

Among the varied reactions was that of Thomas B. Finan, this city, chairman of the Allegany County Democratic Central Committee.

Finan said: "The election showed every evidence of Democratic Party solidarity in Allegany County inasmuch as 73 per cent of the registered voters went to the polls.

Sees Solid Support

"As there are 17,600 Democratic voters in this county, the 12,000-plus who cast their ballots for George P. Mahoney and John R. Foley clearly indicates that both state candidates received the solid vote of the Democrats.

"Obviously, a number of Democrats did cross party lines in voting for Eisenhower."

"On a state candidate basis, there was no evidence of factionalism in the party locally, and if we can obtain the same unity throughout the state as there was in the county there should be a Democratic victory in 1958."

Here's how some other Maryland Democrats appraised the situation:

C. Ferdinand Sybert, attorney general—"It was not a Republican victory. It was another Eisenhower victory. The Democratic Party still remains the party of the average citizen. The party is going to have to be rehabilitated. Various segments of the party are going to have to forget personalities, as well as personal ambitions and make up their minds to unite behind the best candidates possible—and I mean candidates who have the good of the state and of the people as their first interests."

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Baltimore—"We lost to Eisenhower, not the Republicans, but I'm not ashamed of what happened in Baltimore. We re-elected our three congressmen and carried the city for George Mahoney. Also, the passage of all the city loan proposals demonstrated a vote of confidence in the Democratic administration, for which I am very thankful to the people of Baltimore."

House Speaker John C. Luber—"We ought to get together, and we ought to try to get more women and young people interested in the party. The Young Democrats have done a splendid job, but we should interest more of them."

Roads Commission Answers Complaint

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission, in answer to a complaint concerning the intersection Route 40 and Flintstone Creek Road, told the Allegany County Commissioners Wednesday the problem will get concerted attention from the maintenance crews this winter.

Chaires was referring to the step grade of Flintstone Creek Road as it enters the new highway that is being constructed there.

That is the eastern end of the Martin's Mountain project and when it is completed next spring o next summer, the temporary steep ascent will be eliminated.

During this winter, Chaires said, the SRC crews will give the grade prompt attention when there is snow or ice.

The complaint was made to the commissioners, Chaires and the State Police by Miss N. Ruth Perrin, of RD 2, Flintstone.

Undefeated high school teams occupy the spotlight today in games here and at Keyser as the 1956 football season in the tri-state area nears its conclusion.

Keyser High School, striving to complete an undefeated and untied campaign, and seeking its third straight Potomac Valley Conference crown, does battle with Wes Abrams' Romney Pioneers today at 1:30 o'clock in Keyser.

Coach Estel "Eck" Miers, a former Keyser High grid and basketball luminary, brings his Warren County High School Wildcats of Front Royal, Va., undefeated in eight outings, to the local stadium tonight to engage the Fort Hill High Sentinels at 8 o'clock.

Miers is serving as head football coach at Front Royal for the first year after being assistant coach for five years. He has been head basketball coach at the Virginia school for six years.

Never Beat Fort Hill

Fort Hill will be playing its final nocturnal tilt of the season and it also will be the Sentinels' last engagement before the annual battle with Allegany High on Thanksgiving Day. Fort Hill, winner of six out of seven games to date, will be facing the Virginians for the fourth time and will be seeking its fourth straight win over the Wildcats.

Front Royal made it eight in a row last week by trimming Martinsburg High's Bulldogs, 13-6, a team that Fort Hill whipped by the score of 9-0. The Wildcats knocked off Handley High of Winchester, 6-0, and the Sentinels also beat the Judges by the margin of one touchdown, 14-6. If comparative scores mean anything it would indicate that Fort Hill and Front Royal are pretty evenly matched and there is a possibility the score will be much closer than the 1955 and 1954 games which Front Royal lost by 26-7 and 41-6. Back in 1939 Coach Johnny Long's Sentinels won the series opener by the close score of 28-22.

Aim For 10-0 Record

Only one school in the immediate tri-state area ever completed a season with a 10-0 record and that was Bedford High's Bisons of 1945. "Tack" Clark's Keyser High eleven can tie that mark if it defeats Romney High today. Keyser will be out to extend two winning streaks to 15 games. The Mineral countians have bagged 14 in a row over three seasons in the P.V.C. and they've reeled off 14 consecutive wins since they dropped that only game in 10 starts last year to Allegany by the score of 18-14. The longest winning streak in the area is 19 games and was set by Allegany. Keyser, incidentally, cracked that string in the second game of the 1943 season, Clark's first at the Mineral school.

Romney has lost five of eight games and a Pioneer victory would indeed be a big upset and would give Moorefield High (6-1) the P.V.C. championship.

LaSalle, Allegany Away

LaSalle and Allegany play games away from home tonight. Coach Chester Payne's Campers invade Westminster, Md., to engage Herb Ruby's Westminster Owls while Coach Norm Geatz's Explorers visit Somerset county, Pa., to tangle with Oscar Ripple's Shade-Central city gridders in the first meeting of the schools since 1933 when the result was a scoreless tie.

Allegany (3-3-1) will be opposing Westminster for the first time on the gridiron. The Owls, who expect to compete in the Cumberland Valley Athletic League next season, dropped a 19-0 decision to Fort Hill here last week and are now 4-3-1 for the season. The Campers won at Frederick last week by the score of 12-0. AHS closes its season with Fort Hill on Turkey Day.

LaSalle could crash the .500 circle with a victory tonight. The Explorers have won three and lost four and have only two more games to play, including the Thanksgiving Day engagement with Beall High at Frostburg. Shade-Central City, formerly Shade Township High School, owns a record of three wins and six losses.

Vikings In Tough Finals

Petersburg's Vikings play host to a highly touted Green Bank High School eleven in their 1956 finale today. The Pocahontas countians battled Moorefield to a scoreless tie early in the campaign and defeated Franklin by the score of 27-0.

The Vikings had an 0-7-1 record last year and they'e done exceptionally well this season with a 6-2 mark to date. The six wins scored by Coach "Honey" Crites' eleven is the most credited to the Grant county school in more than ten years.

Hubs Host Southern

Other Friday games are Frederick at Martinsburg in a C.V.A.L. engagement, Parsons at Bridgeport, Baltimore Southern at Hagerstown and Claysburg at Bedford. Bedford and Parsons will be playing their final games of the season.

Bruce's 138 Safe

Bill Hahn Hopeful

The Story Of Kim About Officiating

By C. V. BURNS

WITH only five more games left on the schedules of city schools, the all-time record of 23 touchdowns and 138 points, established by Earl "Lefty" Bruce of Allegany High School in 1948 is safe for at least another year.

Dalton Hillegas, of Fort Hill, the current leader, has 42 points, 12 less than the previous low for a complete season—54 for Harold Hudson, of LaSalle, in 1953.

Hudson and Dickie Beard, of Fort Hill, are the only players to exceed 100 points since Bruce hit the packjot eight years ago. The former LaSalle player tallied 111 in 1954 and Beard scored 115 in 1950.

Other leaders in recent years were: 1949—Donnie Lease, Allegany, 88. 1951—Dickie Beard 60. 1952—Bobby Christ, LaSalle, 88. 1955—Bob Fletcher, Allegany, 67.

BILL HAHN believes that a long rest from coaching and officiating will enable him to return to his duties as grid mentor at Fort Hill next fall.

Hahn has been instructed to avoid excitement by staying away from his team's football games. That means he will miss the last two games of the season. He has cancelled all basketball officiating engagements for the 1956-57 season.

"I guess the fans and players sensed there was something wrong when I sat down on the bench during the game because I hardly ever sit when my team is playing," Bill said.

Hahn praised his team for the fine showing it has made this season and expressed confidence that it will win its remaining games.

THE GENERALS of Washington and Lee High School, Arlington, Va., one of the toughest teams on the Fort Hill High School schedule in reecnt years, has won eight consecutive games this season.

Washington & Lee, now coached by Bob Waldorf, played a series of four games with the Sentinels from 1947 through 1950 and the teams split even.

IF the West Virginia School for the Deaf can dispose of the Mt. Airy School for the Deaf at Philadelphia tomorrow the 1956 Romney team can boast of the school's best record for a schedule of eight games. The Lions thus far have reeled off six wins in a row and own a 6-1 record.

The Mt. Airy eleven owns a 1-4 record for the season.

In 1938 the West Virginia School was undefeated and played two tie games. That year Coach Kenneth Huff's eleven defeated Virginia School for the Deaf, Capon Bridge, LaSalle and Terra Alta and tied Ridgeley and Strasburg, Va.

CHIN UNG KIM, a 5-foot, 6-inch, 139 pound halfback who ran 82 yards for a touchdown the first time he carried the ball for the New Dorp (Staten Island, N. Y.) High School team, is the subject of the interesting article in The New York Times.

When the Korean War broke out in 1950, Kim was attending school in Pusan. He tried to get back to his parents at Ichun but was not allowed to leave the coastal city. For a year he supported himself by shining shoes and working as a part-time houseboy for an American Army officer.

When Matthew DePompo, a G. I., was about to return home to Staten Island he asked Kim if he would like to come along. Red tape was cut and Kim was granted a student visa. After DePompo got married, the Sommas provided a new home for the Korean lad.

Last May Kim's fellow students elected him president of the school's general organization. A few weeks later an exhibit on nuclear fission earned him a trip to a science fair in Oklahoma City. He was then elected leader of the school's honor society. Kim won the Lou Gehrig Award as the member of the football team who best exemplified the qualities that characterized the noted first baseman.

GENE ROSSIDES, former Columbia quarterback, now an official, says it's a shame that coaches and even players can't get some first-hand experience at officiating as part of their training.

"Until you've had to handle the situations that confront an official, you can't possibly appreciate how important an intimate knowledge of the rules is to good individual and team performances," Rossides says.

"From lack of certain knowledge of their rights and privileges under rules, many coaches squander timeouts needlessly and are guilty of other tactical errors.

"Players, too, make mistakes that could be avoided if they were more familiar with the rules. For instance, many a ball-carrier has lost a touchdown or first down he could have had by thrusting the ball forward as he was tackled, rather than keeping it tucked in his middle and losing the full benefit of his forward progress.

"Passers, too, should be aware that it is within the letter and spirit of the rules to call patterns on which the ball can be legally grounded, at the gain of another chance, where the prime receiver is so closely covered that to try to reach him would be dangerous.

"There's no end to the fine points that you learn as an official. It's a shame that so much useful knowledge has to come so late," Gene concluded.

Acetates Set Pace In Celanese League

The Acetates continued to set the pace in the Celanese Staff Bowling League by winning three games from the runner-up Arnels Wednesday night on the Club Recreation alleys.

In the other match the Celaperms won two out of three games from the Fortisans.

Iowa, Gophers Bashing Duel Is Highlight

TV Fans Will See Red Hot Rivalry

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—Minnesota's Murray Warmath and Iowa's Forest Evashevski can lay their psychology tricks aside in Saturday's nationally televised Rose Bowl showdown at Memorial Stadium.

Rose Bowl or title trimmings aside, Minnesota and Iowa football teams give it 60 minutes of unrefined bashing whenever they meet. The rivalry got so warm back in the 1940s there was talk in both states of calling it off for a while to get the thing back in perspective.

If it wins, Minnesota (3-0-1 in the Big Ten) will be a solid favorite to get the bowl bid. Iowa (3-1) must win to avert virtual elimination from the race.

Pitt Seeks First Win Over Irish At Home Since 1936

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8 (AP)—Pitt got good news today when it learned that halfback Dick Bowen would be available for action in the intersectional football clash with Notre Dame here Saturday.

The fleet halfback had missed Pitt's last three games due to a leg injury. Bowen's return brings the Panther squad to full strength for the first time in many weeks.

However, Coach John Michelosen is expected to start Jim Theodore and Corky Cost at halfbacks along with fullback Ralph Jelic and quarterback Corny Salvaterra.

Pitt, with a 4-2 season record, hasn't beaten the Irish in Pittsburgh since its 26-0 victory in 1936. Michelosen was quarterback for the Panthers that year.

Leneski Will Start In Final GWU Game

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Ted Leneski, a third-stringer last week, likely will start at tackle for George Washington when the Colonials play their final home game of the season against Richmond tomorrow night.

Coach Bo Sherman tabbed Leneski to replace Bob Jewett, whose jaw was fractured last Saturday as GW lost its first of the year, to West Virginia.

Bob Frulla will move into the guard spot opened by another injury, this to Marion Hoar. Leneski will operate with GW's "A" unit, while Frulla joins the "B" platoon. Sherman has alternated his units all season.

Georgia Tech Defense Best Among Majors

Vols Average 31.3 Points In 6 Games

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Tennessee which has averaged 31.3 points a game, goes up against Georgia Tech, the most consistently successful defensive team of the past 10 years, on Saturday at Atlanta.

Records of the NCAA Service Bureau showed today that Tennessee's scoring rate is exceeded only by Oklahoma and Arizona State, while Tech is the least scored on 1956 major college football team—as well as for the past decade.

For the third straight week, Mississippi leads in both total defense and pass defense, while Navy is tops in rushing defense and Colorado A. & M. is the punting leader.

Georgia Tech has allowed six opponents an aggregate of 27 points, or 4.5 a game. A year ago the Engineers had an average yield of only 4.6 points. In the last 10 years Georgia Tech has allowed 891 points in 104 regular season games, an average of 8.6. Next lowest is Maryland's 9.6.

Mississippi in seven games has yielded an average of 160.4 yards, with Texas A. & M. next at 194.1 for the same number of games.

In rushing defense, Navy in six contests has given up an average of 101.8, with Miami of Florida having allowed 110.2 in six games.

District Will Pay For Police Outside Griffith Stadium

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Washington Senators today received a sample of the local aid they were promised before deciding against a shift of their American League baseball franchise to the West Coast.

The District of Columbia Commissioners adopted a regulation which will relieve the club of paying for police protection outside Griffith Stadium. Senators' President Calvin Griffith had complained bitterly about the required payment.

Griffith estimated the saving to the club at about $10,000 a year and to the Washington Redskins, who play their National Football League games in the stadium, at about $1,440.

Sports Car Club To Meet Tonight

Movies of the LeMans races will be shown at the monthly meeting of the Western Maryland Sports Car Club tonight at 8 o'clock at the Sport Car Club Motor Sales, McMullen highway.

Switzerland Withdraws From Melbourne Olympic Games

Swiss Protest Soviet Attack On Hungary

Third Nation Quits In Two Days; Egypt's Demand Is Rejected

OLTEN, Switzerland, Nov. 8 (AP) —Switzerland withdrew from the Melbourne Olympics today, the third nation to step out of the games within the past two days because of Russian military action in Hungary.

Spain and The Netherlands withdrew earlier in the week, while three other nations also have pulled out of the war-troubled games scheduled to begin Nov. 22. Red China and Iran decided within the last week not to send teams, while Egypt withdrew in August.

Egypt acted long before the present Suez crisis reached the shooting stage, declaring it had no athletes of Olympic calibre.

The Swiss committee voted yesterday to compete at Melbourne only if none of the Swiss athletes withdrew. Several of the sports federations, which earlier had announced they would refuse to go to Australia as a protest against Russian repression of Hungary, changed their minds.

Opposed To Soviets

The gymnastic federation, however, refused to take part in any event in which the Soviets competed. It was in the face of an absolute refusal by the gymnasts that the entire Swiss participation in the Olympics was cancelled.

Switzerland was to have sent 61 athletes to Melbourne. However, none apparently was in the gold medal class. It was more of a blow to prestige than to the athletes, because the headquarters of the International Olympic Committee is at Lausanne.

Meanwhile, the international committee at Lausanne sharply rejected an Egyptian demand that the nations "guilty of cowardly aggression against Egypt" should be expelled from the games.

Reject Egypt Demand

The I.O.C. replied today that it was "astonished by the (Egyptian) intervention, which is based on purely political motives and is all the more regrettable in view of Egypt's own withdrawal from the Olympic games."

Otto Mayer, a Swiss himself and chancellor of the I.O.C., had this comment the Swiss withdrawal:

"It is a disgrace that Switzerland, a neutral nation and the very country where the International Olympic Committee has its headquarters, should set such a shameful example of political interference in the Olympic ideal."

Berrios, Elorde Fight At Garden

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Little Miguel Berrios, the busy Puerto Rican featherweight challenger, takes on Flash Elorde, a Philippine southpaw, in tomorrow night's 10-round match at Madison Square Garden.

The rematch of an Aug. 22 scrap at San Francisco in which Berrios won a split decision will be carried on network (NBC) radio and television, starting at 10 p.m. EST.

Although Sandy Saddler, the feather champ, still is sitting on the sidelines recovering from injuries received in an auto accident, the Berrios - Elorde winner belongs in a title tournament, if and when.

Berrios, the 8 to 5 favorite, has won seven of eight starts this year.

Miss Cagers Powerful

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi expects to improve on last season's record of 11 wins in 24 games because Ole Miss has seven basketball lettermen back.

The are Joe Gibbon, 6-foot-4 captain who average 22.2 points last season; Bobby Robinson, Bobby Williams, Carlton Garner, Wade Lindsey, Wayland Inman and James Miller.

The Rebels have 23 games listed, including 12 against Southeastern Conference rivals. The team will compete in the All-American City tournament at Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 28-Jan. 1.

Cage Festival Set

NEW YORK (AP)—The fifth annual Eastern College Athletic Conference basketball festival is listed for Dec. 25, 26, 28 and 29 in Madison Square Garden. The 10 teams in the tournament are Notre Dame, Ohio State, Brigham Young, Niagara, Temple, Villanova, Fordham, NYU, St. John's and Manhattan.

The Pimlico Special has been won by such turf champions as Seabiscuit, War Admiral, Citation, Whirlaway, Tom Fool, Market Wise, Armed Assault and Sailor. The race dates back to 1937.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (INS) — If Knute Rockne can look down from Valhalla and see what is going on in football today, we wonder what he must think of Pitt being a 13½ point favorite over his beloved Irish.

Even as late as a year ago such odds would have been considered ridiculous but now after the Irish have absorbed beatings from SMU, Purdue, Michigan State, Oklahoma and Navy, the odds seem reasonable.

Unless the Irish can stage a surprising upset, they figure to lost Saturday, may beat North Carolina a week hence, but surely figure to get licked by Iowa and Southern California.

Looking back over many years it always has seemed strange to us to discover how accurately the professional bookies have tabbed the teams throughout the country.

The bookies' information at times has been uncanny and one of them said today that he would not be surprised if this week finds more upsets than we saw a week ago.

One of these days we intend to do a little piece, showing just where, how, why and when these bookies get their very often uncanny advance information. Mind you, these are the same bookies who told us a week ago that Eisenhower was 6 to 1 over Stevenson and one—an old friend of ours—offered to let us write our own ticket if we liked Stevenson up to 100 to 1.

The bookie in question was our old friend Fat Max, the sage of Broadway. It was Max who offered up 6 to 1 on Eisenhower to beat Stevenson 10 days ago.

"I told you the president was a shoo-in," said Max. "And now I'm advising you should pick one of the short-enders this week because you're going to see more so-called upsets than a week ago."

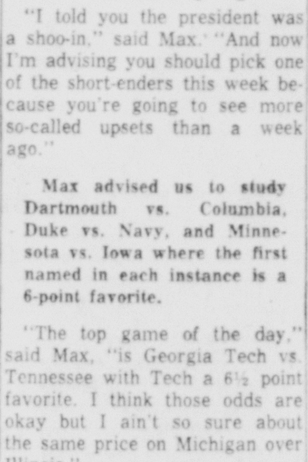

Max advised us to study Dartmouth vs. Columbia, Duke vs. Navy, and Minnesota vs. Iowa where the first named in each instance is a 6-point favorite.

"The top game of the day," said Max, "is Georgia Tech vs. Tennessee with Tech a 6½ point favorite. I think those odds are okay but I ain't so sure about the same price on Michigan over Illinois."

Musing over his own slate, he said: "Off their records I guess Pitt figures 13½ over Notre Dame but if I was you I'd take a little flyer on the Irish. They figure to come to life one of these days.

"And you got to say Yale rates the same price over Penn, Syracuse over Holy Cross and Princeton over Harvard. Could be all those prices are kosher but if I'm booking against my own slate I have to take the short enders in each case."

5 World Marks

AUSTRALIA'S sensational swimming queen, Lorraine Crapp, broke five world records and shared in a relay mark at an Olympic squad swim carnival at Sydney recently. Miss Crapp, 18, set four of the marks in a 440-yard race and later cracked the existing 100-meter free style standard. (International)

Potomac State Lists 15 Games In Conference

Plays Westinghouse In Opener, Dec. 1

Potomac State College's basketball team will open its 20-game schedule on December 1, playing Westinghouse of East Pittsburgh in Keyser on that date.

The Catamounts will play 15 games with nine teams in the West Virginia Conference, meeting D.&E., West Virginia Tech, Fairmont State, Salem, West Liberty and Shepherd twice each and Morris Harvey, Alderson-Broaddus and Beckle, once.

Altoona and Frostburg State Teachers will be met in non-conference home-and-home contests.

Potomac also will compete in the state conference tourney at Buckhannon, February 19-23.

Last season Potomac State won seven games and lost 16. The 1956-57 schedule:

Dec. 1 — Westinghouse, home. 4 — Davis-Elkins, away. 7 — West Virginia Tech, home. 11—Fairmont, away. 12 — Salem, away. 15 — West Liberty, away. 17 — Frostburg, away. 19 — Altoona, home.

January 8—Altoona, away. 15—Fairmont, home. 19 — Shepherd, home. 21—Salem, home. 25—West Virginia Tech, away. 26—Morris Harvey, away.

Brooks To Play Five More Games In Japan

TOKYO, Nov. 8 (AP)—The weary Brooklyn Dodgers returned to Tokyo tonight after a 20-day road trip that ended in Shizuoka with another 3-2 defeat at the hands of the Japan All-Stars. Nearly 450,000 fans saw the Dodgers who returned from the tour loaded with souvenirs and overwhelmed by the friendly receptions.

With 5 games to go in Japan, the Dodgers have won 10, lost 4 and played 1 tie.

Likes Top Foes

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Kucks, the Yankee's top right-handed pitcher at 23, says he prefers to face the stronger teams in the American League. "It's a challenge that keeps you on your toes," says Kucks. "You learn faster that way, and in baseball there's much to learn."

Scars Could Show

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP) — "Will Milwaukee's failure to win the National League pennant show any scars?" Tom Siler of Knoxville asked Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

"If it does they may not show up until next September," said Tebbets, whose third place Redlegs finished two lengths behind Brooklyn and one game behind second-place Milwaukee.

"I know one thing," added Tebbetts. "Our boys played better ball than the other two teams the last few weeks and we're going to have something to say about the 1957 pennant race."

They'll Take Vanilla

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—The William and Mary football team will take vanilla ice cream, thank you. A poll of the 38 squad members revealed the Indian footballers prefer vanilla first, with chocolate running second.

Enters Two Events

MELBOURNE, (Friday) Nov. 9 (AP)—World mile record holder John Landy of Australia said today he would run in both the 1,500 and the 5,000 meter events at the Olympic games.

Few Europe-Bound

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — The liner Queen Elizabeth sailed for Europe today with only 574 passengers—the smallest number carried by the world's largest liner since World War II. Capacity is about 2,100.

Mickey Mantle led the New York Yankees in nine departments during 1956—batting average, home runs, runs batted in, runs scored, total bases, hits, bases on balls, strikeouts and stolen bases.

Secret Let Out:

Nashua Would Not Run When Dirt Was Kicked In Face, Arcaro Says

Citation Best Horse Eddie Ever Has Seen

Eddie Arcaro

Neither was the champ of all thoroughbred money winners happy when another horse was running on his outside.

Arcaro told on his old chum at a National Press Club luncheon in advance of the Washington International on the turf at Laurel next Monday.

Racing's little moneybags delighted an audience which isn't recognized for skill at the mutuel windows. He said he hadn't hit on "the system" himself.

Arcaro said he didn't mind talking about Nashua now that Mr. Millions has retired and the information can't be used against him. Nashua, with Arcaro aboard on all but four occasions, amassed a record $1,288,565 over three seasons.

Arcaro said the best horse he's ever seen was Citation, who "ran like a souped-up Cadillac and had more sense than most of the jockeys who rode him." Citation also possessed a great fighting spirit, added the veteran of 26 years in stirrups.

Scores On 100-Yd. Run

NEW YORK (AP)—The first Saturday of action in the Eastern College Athletic Conference brought five touchdown runs of more than 50 yards. However, the top dash was the 100-yard scoring run made by Cornell's Irvin Roberson against Colgate. The tally came on a kickoff return after Colgate scored its first touchdown. Roberson is a junior halfback from Philadelphia.

Herb Score Is Named Outstanding Sophomore In A. L.

Portside Ace Won Twenty For Cleveland

Posted 2.57 ERA And Fanned 263, Frank Lary 2nd

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — The so-called second-year jinx didn't faze Cleveland's Herb Score. The sensational southpaw surpassed his brilliant rookie performance of last year by being named today the American League's Outstanding Sophomore for 1956.

Score received 103 of 207 votes by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Detroit hurler Frank Lary ranked second in the balloting with 63 votes, followed by pitcher Johnny Kucks of the New York Yankees with 32.

In 1955 Score won 16 games and set an American League record for rookies by striking out 245 batters. This past season he improved on both marks by registering 20 victories against 9 losses, while compiling 263 strikeouts.

The 23-year-old lefty was runner-up to the Yanks' Whitey Ford in the earned run listings with a 2.57 average. He finished the season in a blaze of glory, winning and completing his last five starts. Of his 16 complete games, five were shutouts.

Signed to a bonus contract for reportedly $60,000, the stylish fireballer was first assigned to Indianapolis of the American Assn., where he posted a 2-5 record in 1952.

Baseball Is Breeze For This Guy—Indians' Herb Score

THAT STRIKEOUT WHIZ of the American League, Herb Score, the Cleveland Indians' stellar lefty, shows you the form which enabled him to whiff 263 batters, win 20 games and turn in an earned run average of 2.57 during the 1956 season. Score has been voted the outstanding sophomore player in the American League this year. In 1955, Score posted 16 wins and set a league strikeout mark for rookies by whiffing 245. Herb is 23 as is heralded as one of the future greats of baseball. (Photos by Chet Wozney of Central Press).

Mantle Feels He's Entitled To More Money

Doubts If Ruth's Record Will Fall

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 8 (AP) — Mickey Mantle feels his 1956 achievements entitle him to more money from the New York Yankees for his baseball feats next summer.

"I may be a little tough to sign this year," he told an interviewer during a brief visit last night to appear on a local bandleader's television show.

Mantle, who was the American League's top hitter last season with 52 home runs, a .350 batting average and 130 runs batted in, is believed to have received around $30,000.

"I guess winning the triple crown was the biggest thrill I've ever had," the switch-hitting slugger said.

Regarded as the biggest threat to Babe Ruth's home run record of 60, Mickey said all the talk in the last season over the prospect he might exceed the mark was no handicap.

"It didn't bother me a bit," he said, "because I never thought I would break the record. I doubt if it's ever broken."

Mantle, who had 52 homers, was a bit dissatisfied with his batting average and strikeout record. He thought he should have hit .380.

"I tried to hit too many home runs late in the season and went after a lot of bad pitches," he explained.

Cohen Will Manage Indianapolis Club

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—Andy Cohen of Elmira, N.Y., manager of the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Assn. the last two years, today was appointed manager of the Indianapolis Indians of the American Assn.

Kerby Farrell, who won pennants at Indianapolis two of the last three years and added the Little World Series championship this fall, was left unemployed—at least temporarily. He has been mentioned as a possible manager of the Cleveland Indians.

President Ownie Bush of the Indianapolis club said:

"We went along as far as we could with Kerby and we just couldn't wait any longer. We had to have a manager."

Georgia Tech, Tennessee To Risk Lofty Rankings

Minnesota-Iowa Winner May Play In Rose Bowl Tilt

By JACK HAND
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Georgia Tech and Tennessee risk their lofty rankings in the South's top college football game Saturday as the schedule turns into the home stretch with conference titles and bowl bids at stake.

In the Midwest, the vital game involves Minnesota and Iowa at Minneapolis and could produce the visiting team in the Rose Bowl, with both Ohio State and Michigan State ineligible.

The Western half of the Rose Bowl probably will be filled by the winner of the Stanford - Oregon State contest. The Southwest Conference title is the likely prize for the winner of the struggle between Texas A&M and Southern Methodist.

All four of the top games involve teams among the higher ranks in the latest Associated Press poll. Georgia Tech (2)—Tennessee (3) could turn into a battle for the lead if Oklahoma (1) stumbles before the end of the season. The Sooners, with 36 straight, are expected to run over Iowa State.

Game Will Be Televised

Minnesota (6) and Iowa (15) will be the nationally televised game.

Although Stanford (20) was handed its first Pacific Conference defeat by UCLA last week, the battle with Oregon State (14) has a likely Rose Bowl prize.

Among the other major unbeaten-untied teams, Princeton is favored over Harvard and Wyoming is expected to manhandle Montana.

Ohio State is a heavy favorite to romp over Indiana and Michigan State over Purdue in two Western Conference pairings. Michigan, fresh from its victory over Iowa, plays a dangerous Illinois team that was strong enough to beat Michigan State two weeks ago. In the other conference pairing, Northwestern is at Wisconsin.

Syracuse (9), ranked highest in the East, plays Holy Cross at Syracuse and Pittsburgh, an early season winner over Syracuse, faces subpar Notre Dame.

Duke Is Favored

Navy's fast-improving team visits Duke for an important game with Duke a slight favorite on its home grounds after losing only 7-0 to Georgia Tech. Army's last home game, at West Point, N.Y., is against William and Mary.

In the Ivy set, there is a full schedule. In addition to Harvard at Princeton, Pennsylvania plays at Yale, Cornell at Brown and Columbia at Dartmouth. In other eastern games, Boston University is at Penn State and Bucknell at Colgate.

With Oklahoma out of the Orange Bowl because it can't go back two years in a row, Colorado can just about nail down the bid by beating Missouri in the Big Seven. Nebraska is at Kansas and Kansas State goes outside its league to visit Marquette.

Terps Battle Clemson

Clemson, unbeaten but once tied, defends its Atlantic Coast Conference lead and likely Orange Bowl chances against oft-beaten Maryland. North Carolina is at Virginia, South Carolina at North Carolina State and Wake Forest plays an outside game with Virginia Tech.

In the Southern Conference, the best are Virginia Military at West Virginia and Richmond at George Washington (Friday night). Outside the league, Furman is at Florida State, The Citadel at Villanova, Sewanee at Washington and Lee and Davidson at Wofford.

To Fight On Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8 (AP) — Middleweight Joey Giambra of Buffalo, N.Y., and Rocky Castellani of Cleveland signed today for a 10-round bout in the Civic Auditorium here Dec. 10.

Promoter Bennie Ford said the Monday night match would not be broadcast or televised.

Dedicate Made 5-2 Choice In International

Mister Gus Is 4-1 For Monday Race

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 8 (AP)—The soft turf of the Laurel Race Course engrossed handlers of horses for the $100,000-added International race on Monday more than anything else today.

Carey Foster, in charge of Sir Winston Churchill's Le Pretendant, was more worried than anybody. The English 3-year-old has shown a distinct disliking for anything except a firm footing.

Course Is Soaked

Regardless of the weather between now and Monday, the Laurel grass course is not going to be firm. It was soaked by nearly two weeks of rain and isn't going to dry out completely.

Foster told the Baltimore Sports Reporters Assn. that "Le Pretendant will do his best just as his governor has always done" regardless of the track condition.

Godolphin Darley, Paris turf writer, advised that France's Master Boing "is suited for any kind of going."

Jim Shannon, writer for the Melbourne Argus, was enthusiastic over the appearance of Prince Cortauld. "He is far better in appearance than he ever was in Australia," Shannon said.

In addition to Master Boing, Prince Cortauld and Le Pretendant, seven other horses from the United States, England, Ireland and Canada are scheduled to start in the mile and half race.

Although the United States has won only once in the four Internationals, the unofficial odds maker today still made the home horses the favorite.

Mrs. Jan Burke's Dedicate was listed at 5-2 and Llangollen Farm's Mister Gus at 4-1. C. V. Whitney's Fisherman, the 1954 winner for the U.S., was rated 5-1 along with Master Boing.

Coach's Contract Extended To 1961

OTTAWA, Nov. 8 (AP)—Ottawa extended Coach Frank Clair's contract to the end of 1961 today.

President Sam Berger of the Big Four football club said Clair was signed "at a reasonable increase in salary satisfactory to both himself and the club."

Clair came here last January from an assistant coach's position at the University of Cincinnati and guided the Rough Riders into their first playoff position in five years.

A blue-colored rain fell at Yardea in Australia, some 300 miles from an atomic testing range. Oddest part of the story it that it happened on Sunday and not Monday.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

JVK QKKJWBX PE JVKOK LVUQ-
NWPBO NYPGC OKKQKC AWRK JVK
TGYOJWBX JVGBCKY-LAPGC—OLPJJ.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: BE TO HER VIRTUES VERY KIND; BE TO HER FAULTS A LITTLE BLIND — PRIOR.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

The head of a Dondon firm once thought he'd keep his employes entertained by furnishing bagpipe music. Wonder how long the strike lasted!

Red China will observe Sun Yat-sen's birthday on Nov. 11 and 12. Over there, apparently, anniversaries are staged as double-headers.

Cards of Thanks

We take this means to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our relatives and friends for their sympathy during the illness and following the death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Rebecca M. Nicholas Crosten. We especially wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral.

Lions Mark UN Week, Ladies Night

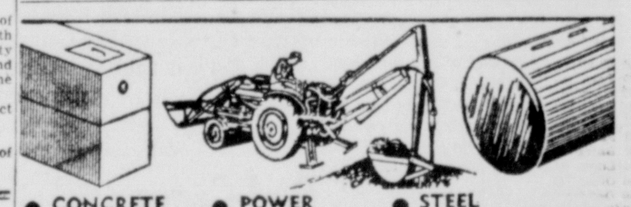

MOOREFIELD — The annual "Ladies Night" program of the Petersburg Lions Club was held Monday evening at the Petersburg High School cafeteria with 40 present. The North Fork Farm Women's Club served the meal and decorations were in keeping with the fall harvest and observance of the United Nations Week with a display of flags.

President Loy Judy called the meeting to order and the group then joined in singing "America," after which Rev. R. A. Yoeman gave the invocation. Stephen Stickler, music director of Petersburg High School, introduced the following students of the school who rendered numbers of music: Miss Caroline Collins, Robert Harman and Harry Allen Nelson. The president then introduced various members and guests and Dr. Hugh Allen spoke briefly on the platform of the local club.

Kemley Johnson then spoke on "How You Get Into Radio and Get On the Air." He said that the first commercial broadcast was in 1921 and was a prize fight. He stressed how much value a radio station can be in a community, especially in time of a flood or any other serious disaster.

Frostburg Man Dies In Crash On Route 40

W. J. LaManna, 35, Hits Truck Headon

A 35-year-old Frostburg salesman for the National Brewing Company was killed yesterday evening when his car smashed headon into a truck on U.S. Route 40, about 5½ miles est of Frostburg. Two occupants of the truck were injured in the smashup.

Dead is William Joseph LaManna of 135 East Main Street in Frostburg.

Injured were Norvel Lee McKenzie, 38, driver of the truck, and Charles S. Garlitz, 42, both of near Frostburg.

McKenzie was admitted to Miners Hospital with a compound fracture of the right leg and a fractured left hand. He also had lacerations of the face and forehead.

Garlitz was treated at the hospital for abrasions and lacerations of the face. He was released following treatment.

Chest Is Crushed

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said LaManna, who apparently was driving east alone toward Frostburg, died from hemorrhage due to a crushed chest and puncture of the chest wall. Dr. Deming said the steering column of the car apparently was driven through the victim's body by the impact of the collision which occurred about 6:40 p.m.

State Police Trooper Blair Buckle investigated the mishap. He said the truck driven by McKenzie was headed west on Route 40 and attempted a left turn into Frog Hollow Road. Vision at this point was partially blocked by an embankment, the trooper stated.

LaManna, driving toward the truck from the opposite direction, apparently came over a small knoll in the roadway and smashed into the truck as it was turning. The trooper said the mishap appeared to be due to failure to give the right of way by the truck driver. However, no charges have been preferred pending further investigation of the accident.

Rescued From Fire

LaManna was a guest at the hotel and was trapped in his room. Overcome by smoke, he was rescued by firemen who found him unconscious at the door to his room, near suffocation.

A World War II veteran, LaManna had been employed by a Cumberland brewery prior to joining the sales staff of the Baltimore brewing company. He was a member of the Frostburg Knights of Columbus and of St. Michael's Catholic Church.

A son of Mrs. Emma Ruffo LaManna and the late Samuel LaManna, he was born March 15, 1921. His father was killed in a streetcar accident many years ago in New Jersey before the family moved to Allegany County.

Survivors include, besides his mother, his widow, the former Miss Claudine Ricker of LaVale, a son, Samuel LaManna, 2, at home, and two sisters, Mrs. Frances Watson, Mt. Empherm, N.J., and Mrs. Ellen Lenkley, also of New Jersey.

The body is at the Durst Funeral Home in Frostburg.

Crash Victim's Car

William Joseph LaManna, 35, of 135 East Main Street, Frostburg, was killed when his car (above) crashed headon into a truck about 5½ miles west of Frostburg on U. S. Route 40 last night. The impact drove the motor and steering wheel back and crushed LaManna's chest. He was dead on arrival at Miners Hospital in Frostburg. Two other men, occupants of the truck, were injured in the smashup.

362 Allegany Countians Cast Absentee Ballots

Some 362 Allegany County citizens cast absentee ballots in Tuesday's general election, and yesterday's official canvass by the County Board of Election Supervisors showed that two-thirds or more of them voted for all of the Republican candidates.

Of those casting absentee ballots 204 were service personnel and 158 civilians, who for the first time had the opportunity of absentee voting.

The absentees also favored all seven of the proposed amendments. The heaviest margin was 263 to 8 for the sixth amendment, which provides for greater absentee voting privileges for those who are ill or disabled.

Many of the absentee ballots came from long distances. Arthur A. Verner, export manager of the Kelly Springfield Tire Company, whose residence at 112 Washington Street is only a stone's throw from the Court House, mailed his absentee ballot from Johannesburg in South Africa, where business took him.

Three write-in votes were cast by civilian absentees. From District 4-4 on Johnson Heights one voter wrote in the name of T. Coleman Andrews for President. Two other men got a vote apiece for the U. S. Senate. Governor Theodore R. McKeldin received one from District 9 at Barton and former Senator Millard E. Tydings got one from a voter living in District 29 at LaVale.

Red Cross Organizes Gray Ladies

A unit of Gray Ladies, well known to veterans who were hospitalized during World War II and the Korean conflict, is being organized here by the Allegany County Chapter Red Cross, Mrs. George W. Legge said yesterday.

A group of 30 interested women, several of whom have previous experience as Red Cross Gray Ladies in other communities and now live here, met yesterday afternoon at the Red Cross office.

Representatives were present from Memorial Hospital and Sacred Heart Hospital, to hear about the program as it was outlined by Thomas Murphy of Frederick, regional field representative of the Red Cross with headquarters at Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. Legge said the group selected an executive committee which will meet Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Red Cross headquarters here. At that time they will elect a schedule and set up a schedule for the unit members.

Both local hospitals, Allegany County Infirmary and Allegany County Home, have all expressed an interest in the program and said they will welcome the services of the Gray Ladies in the local institutions.

Interest is also expressed at Miners Hospital in Frostburg, and the Red Cross Branch there will be authorized to proceed with the formation of their own unit.

The Gray Ladies, a name derived from the uniforms they wear, hardly symbolizes or does justice to the unit members. Their duties are to spread as much sunshine and cheer to the sick and injured as they can, to read, write letters, run errands, and do all sorts of chores which often mean much to the ill, injured and hospitalized handicapped.

Physicians, nurses and hospital authorities in military and civilian establishments everywhere have long been boosters of the program, and the Gray Ladies unit is considered one of the most worthwhile and useful of all Red Cross services.

Suit Concerns Land Dispute

An equity suit seeking a clear title to two acres of land in Election District 21 about one mile east of Hinkle Road and eight miles northeast of Cumberland was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Claude Deal, through Attorney Edward J. Ryan, filed the suit against Thomas W. Reckley and Charles Yergan, executor of the estate of Charles Davis.

The bill of complaint states that in June 1940 Lucy Hughes sold the two acres in question to Joseph M. Fradiska, Claude Deal and William Fletchinger. In February 1947 Mr. Deal bought out the interests of the two partners on the land which had been improved by a cabin.

In recent years a question has arisen concerning title to the land. It was claimed that the property actually belonged to Richard F. Hughes and his heirs. Mr. Reckley has barricaded the road.

The court was asked to declare Deal's title to the property good and to enjoin Reckley from barricading the only road to the property.

Concert Tickets Still Available At Stores Here

Reserved seat tickets for the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra concert to be presented Thursday at the Fort Hill High auditorium under auspices of the Cumberland Times-News papers for the benefit of Cumberland Free Public Library are readily available to residents of the tri-state area.

The tickets are on sale in Cumberland at Vandegrift's Music Shop, Baltimore Street, and Syckes Music Store, North Centre Street.

Rosenbaum's has made available the facilities of its area free "Enterprise" phone service for district customers who wish to secure reserved seats. Out-of-town customers may use their regular "Enterprise" exchange number.

Telephone orders for tickets are also being accepted by the Times-News bureau offices in Frostburg and Keyser.

Orchestra seats are $2.75 and $2.20 and balcony seats $2.75, $2.20 and $1.65. Special tickets are available for students at $1.10.

Education Week Observance Set In This County

Teachers Plan Full Program

The Allegany County Teachers Association is sponsoring the local observance of the 36th annual American Education Week starting Sunday.

Roy E. Pepper, a seventh grade teacher at Beall Elementary School in Frostburg, is chairman of the association's public relations committee which is directing the Education Week activities.

Purpose of this special week is to bring the needs and achievements of the schools before the public and to spotlight the important role education plays in a democracy.

"During American Education Week our county's schools extend a special invitation to the public to visit classrooms to see the schools in action," Pepper said. "Wishing for good schools is not enough. Communities have good schools when the people want them enough to take an interest in them, to work for them and to cooperate with them."

The general theme of this year's observance is "Schools for a Strong America." The local program is part of a nationwide observance which is expected to bring more than 20 million persons into the schools. Millions more will be made school-conscious through the newspapers, magazines, radio, television and numerous special events.

Each school in Allegany County will have its own program. There will be such activities as classroom visitations, student assemblies, PTA meetings and teas. One school—Gephart—is planning a Book Fair all week.

Friday, November 16, has been designated as National Teachers' Day. That evening (6:30 to 7:30 o'clock) a panel discussion will be broadcast over radio station WTBO. Members of the panel will include Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools; Wendell Allen, Jerome Frampton and William A. Gunter of this city, all members of the State Board of Education.

Special art exhibit emphasizing American Education Week are being prepared in all schools.

Study Rule Changes

Proposed rules for the city's Classified workers and the Police and Fire Departments were discussed at a meeting of the Civil Service Commission in City Hall Wednesday afternoon.

John Burns, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Burns, 210 Fulton Street, suffered injuries to his head and spine yesterday when he fell down a flight of stairs at Columbia Street School.

He was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital for x-rays and observation.

Survey Asked In Plan For Air Service

City Seeks Stop On Proposed Route

Allegheny Airlines has asked the City of Cumberland to prepare a survey designed to show a community of interest between this city and other poigts on proposed extensions of its routes.

David L. Miller, vice president of the airline, told Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, data from the survey will be needed to present an effective case for additional service to this area in the coming Great Lakes Area local service investigation of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Asks Hotel Count

He said the survey should show the hotel reservations made here from cities on the route, including Washington, Baltimore, Morgantown, Wheeling, Akron, Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, Clarksburg, Parkersburg-Marietta and Cincinnati.

In addition, he said, reservations from the state of Michigan should be counted separately from Detroit, to show the interest of Cumberland in Detroit as a connecting point to other cities of that state.

Miller said the hotel count should cover a 30-day period and suggested September as a good month for the hotel reservation count.

Also suggested for the survey was a count of long distance telephone calls and telegrams to the points, and a survey of industries to determine the economic interest of this city with cities on the route.

City Enters Case

Finan said the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will be asked to conduct the survey.

The City of Cumberland has intervened in cases before the CAB, asking that it be placed on the proposed Washington-Detroit route and retained on the present Washington-Pittsburgh run.

Civitan Clubs To Meet In Hagerstown

The local Civitans will join with others from Virginia, Pennsylvania, District of Columbia and Maryland, at what is expected to be the largest meeting in the district's history.

Among the schedule of events is a formal business meeting tomorrow morning, followed by a banquet in the evening. The ladies will be guests on a tour of the pioneer home of Jonathan Hager Saturday afternoon.

The district committee chairmen will meet Sunday to consider plans for the district's holding the Civitan International Convention in Baltimore.

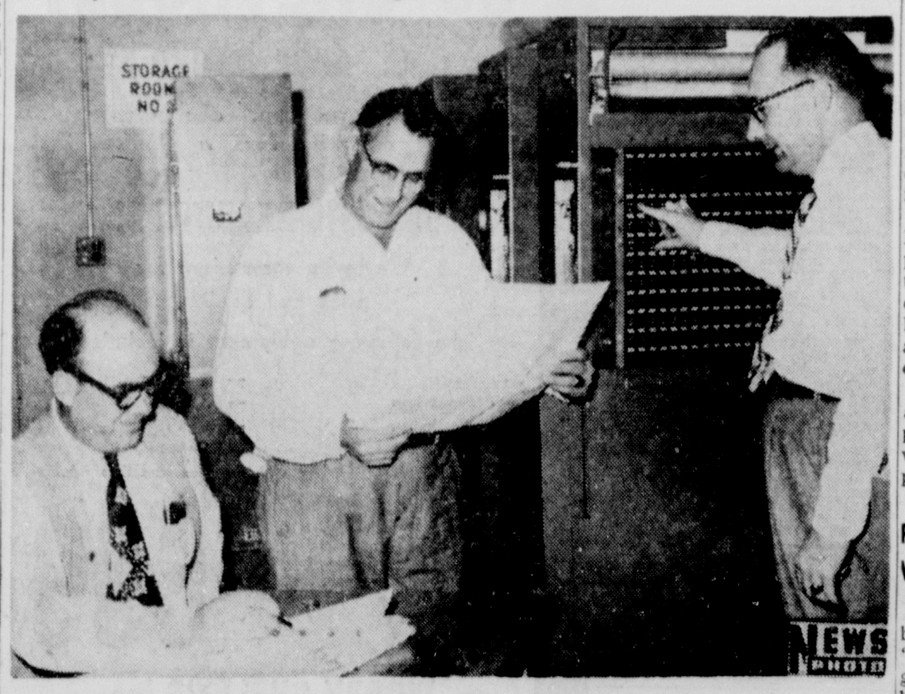

The local club will be a part of the entertainment program that will be featured at the banquet. The principal speaker for the evening will be D. Kenneth McLaughlin, judge of the Circuit Court.

Among the local group that plans to attend will be Mayor Roy W. Eves.

Man Being Held On Larceny Charge

James Cassell, 36, of 427 Virginia Avenue is being held in Allegany County Jail on a larceny charge. He was arrested Monday by Detectives Wilbur E. Shank and Joseph Stitcher.

Authorities said Cassell is accused of taking $110 from the cash register of a shoe repair shop on Greene Street where he was employed. He will be tried in Trial Magistrates Court.

Votes Are Canvassed

Members of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors record returns from one of the 103 voting machines used in Tuesday's general election, as the official canvass got under way yesterday. William A. Wilson (right), board president, reads off the results to Matthew J. Mullaney (seated), and Victor M. Hebb, board members, for recording.

Parents Urge Sweeping Changes At Rosewood

Accuse State Officials Of Ignoring Plea

By LOUIS PANOS

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP) — Parents of mentally handicapped children, charging other State officials had met their pleas with "a velvet curtain of silence," asked the Legislative Council today for sweeping changes at the Rosewood Training School.

They suggested legislation to strip the school's training program from the Department of Mental Hygiene and place it under the Department of Education.

This and other proposals, aimed chiefly at obtaining more funds for operation of the school, were presented at a council budget and finance committee hearing by Mrs. Rupert L. Dunn, president of the Rosewood Parents Assn. The Council is the between-sessions screening arm of the General Assembly.

Urges Conference

The committee took no immediate action on the suggestion to transfer the school's training program to the Department of Education.

Chairman A. Gordon Boone (D-Baltimore) and other committee members urged Mrs. Dunn to seek a conference with Hygiene department officials on their budget requests.

Sen. Phoebus (R-Somerset), expressing surprise at Mrs. Dunn's statement that she had received no replies to communications sent to Gov. McKeldin and Mental Hygiene Commissioner Clifton T. Perkins, arranged a meeting for her with Perkins for next Thursday.

"Wherever the fault may lie," Mrs. Dunn had read to the committee from a prepared state-

State Training Of Handicapped Tots Is Urged

The Legislative Council of the General Assembly will be asked by a special study group to take steps to initiate programs of special education for handicapped children under 6 years of age, according to State Senator Charles M. See.

The Allegany County legislator, who was a member of the committee named to study pre-school education of handicapped children, said the formal report listing the committee's recommendations will be turned over to the Legislative Council today.

The group will recommend that the State Board of Education be charged with the administration and supervision of a state-wide program for handicapped children under 6.

To open the program, the committee will ask that Gov. McKeldin place in the budget not less than $250,000 a year which would be spent by the Board of Education for the program.

The committee will also propose that a bill be passed to provide for a census of handicapped children of school and pre-school age by the Board of Education and a provision in the health law for receiving and classifying the information.

Two Allegany County organizations, the Allegany County League for Crippled Children and Friends Aware of Handicapped Children are among the dozens of groups in Maryland who have indicated strong support for the program.

City Weighs Proposals To End Parking Problem

Financing To Be Discussed Nov. 29

Study Of Possible Units Scheduled

The Mayor and Council and a Cumberland Chamber of Commerce committee continued work last night on a proposal to establish a Cumberland Parking Authority.

Plans were made at the end of the lengthy session to meet again on Thursday, November 29, at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall, when attempts will be made to make a decision on the principal problem—how to raise the revenues needed to establish adequate off-street parking facilities for the city.

Charles S. Catherman Jr., president of the Chamber, presided at the session attended by the city officials and the Off-Street Parking committee of the Chamber.

A comprehensive report on the legal aspects of the parking authority was presented by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, who also presented a rough draft of a proposal for a charter amendment to set up a parking authority.

General agreement was reached on most of the items which were included in the draft of the legislation.

There was agreement that the problem is acute and that action should be taken as soon as possible.

Representatives of an off-street parking plan yesterday afternoon told Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan they will prepare reports on two sites suggested for the facility.

And the officials told Commissioner Keegan that their firm, the Minute Parking Corporation, Pittsburgh, does build parking centers and lease them back from the owners under a plan which amortizes the cost of the facility.

Financing would have to be arranged for the facilities.

Two centers are being considered in Baltimore under that arrangement, they said.

Meeting with Commissioner Keegan were Basil H. Levin and Charles Chatkin, Pittsburgh, and D. E. McDowell, Waynesboro, Pa., on behalf of the Pittsburgh company.

Contemplated for the two sites which were mentioned were 10-level structures which would be erected of steel in about 150 days.

Cost varies between $1,650 and $1,800 for each parking space, the parking experts said.

Commissioner Keegan expressed pleasure with the possibility of the "build and lease back" plan, saying that was "getting somewhere" on the problem.

He said he is trying to find the plan which will prove to be the "best thing for the city."

The Minute Parking officials said they will study the situation from all angles and come up with reports.

One of the sites suggested was land on which Central Fire Company and the headquarters of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children now stands.

If the site were used, the present Red Men's Hall would have to be acquired and quarters found for the fire station and the League.

Local Sailor On USS Coral Sea

Gaither G. Martin, S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaither Martin, 950 Frederick Street, is stationed on the USS Coral Sea, aircraft carrier, 75 miles north of Port Said, Egypt.

According to word received by his parents, the carrier had been standing by all night for evacuees.

Martin went overseas in August. Prior to that he was stationed in Iceland for one year, aboard an oil tanker. He will have been in service four years in February, having enlisted and finished his high school work, receiving his diploma while in the Navy.

Condemnation Suits Scheduled For Today

Two condemnation suits brought by the State Roads Commission for land needed in road improvement projects are scheduled for jury trial this morning in Allegany County Circuit Court.

One was brought against Frank R. McFarland and his wife for property sought on Martin Mountain. The SRC has deposited a check for $130 with Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court, as a fair value placed on the property by the commission.

The second suit has been filed against Harry E. Welsh. His property is on McMullen Highway. A check for $150 was deposited in his case.

PPG Features Local Works In Magazine

The company magazine of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, "PPG People," featured a progress report on its new Works 7 here in this month's issue.

The article was concerned with the production of the first glass that was made at the works here. Several pictures of operation and production accompanied the report.

Vote Results Confirmed As Canvass Ends

Official Totals Are Recorded

The Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors last night completed its canvass of the vote in Tuesday's election and made it official that all of the Republican candidates were overwhelmingly successful and all seven of the proposed amendments to the State Constitution were endorsed.

The official totals, including the absentee votes:

For President

Dwight D. Eisenhower	20,239
Adlai E. Stevenson	10,775

For Senate

John M. Butler	17,435
George P. Mahoney	12,365

For Congress

DeWitt S. Hyde	17,418
John R. Foley	12,709

The canvass, which was started at noon yesterday and ended about 9 o'clock last night, showed comparatively few errors in the unofficial results reported for the county's 45 voting places Tuesday night.

President Eisenhower's vote, for instance, was changed in only one place, District 5-4, voting on Pulaski Street, where he received 553 instead of the 555 originally reported.

Two Unchanged

Totals for both Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Mahoney were not changed at all from the earlier Tuesday night report. Senator Butler's vote was altered in three precincts. The biggest number of changes was in the Congressional race, where in several cases the votes of the two candidates were switched in reporting first. Mr. Hyde's figures were changed in five polling places, as were Mr. Foley's.

William A. Wilson, president of the Board of Election Supervisors, and the other board members and assistants found that in a number of precincts the vote was incorrectly read off the machines in reporting on the referendums.

Tuesday night, officials in eight or nine polling places incorrectly reported not a single vote for or against three of the seven amendments. In checking the machines, board members discovered that the polling clerks had looked in the wrong columns at the backs of the machines.

One Shutout

Only one shutout was reported. That was on the fourth amendment in Election District 1 at Little Orleans, where the vote was 6-0 in favor.

Three men received write-in votes. T. Coleman Andrews received two votes for President. One was on an absentee ballot and the second in District 5-4 on Pulaski Street. Former Senator Millard E. Tydings got two votes for Senate, one on an absentee ballot and the second in District 28-1 and 2 in Frostburg. Governor Theodore R. McKeldin also got a write-in Senate vote from an absentee voter.
